King-Tusing Vows Heard October 20

The wedding of Betty Louise Tusing and George Michael King was solemnized in the Riley United Methodist Church at 7 p. m. October 20.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Mary E. Tusing and the late Charles E. Tusing, Sr., Oakland, and Mrs. Helen M. King, Riley, Kansas, formerly of Rutland, Ohio.

Rev. Paul Seyffer officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Marilyn Johnson, organist, played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by Frank Hamilton, wore a waltz length gown. The bride made her wedding dress of wedding satin, trimmed with a wide spiderweb lace strip of seed pearls around the hemline and sleeves. A bodice strip centered in the back with a small bow, accented the high waist line. The bride's veil was topped with a large satin bow, covered with lace and seed pearls matching her gown.

Her jewelry was a silver cross necklace. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations and red roses over a white Bible and small hand purse made of satin and lace.

Mrs. Joann Williams, friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Her royal blue dress was waltz length with short sleeves and a white lace trim panel down the front. She wore a corsage of white feathered carnations and a veil over a white satin crown and bow.

Lee Williams was best man. Mrs. Kathy Hamilton was in charge of wedding and reception pictures.

The reception was at the home of the groom. A three-tier cake, white with red roses, topped with a bride and groom, was centered on a canopy style table, covered with a white cloth with silver wedding bell edging and red rose buds attached around the top edge, was overhung with white and mint green streamers with red rose buds and a wedding bell. The bride's bouquet served as the centerpiece on the gift table.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. JoAnn Williams, Mrs. Virginia Crider, and Mrs. Kathy Hamilton, friends of the couple. Miss Karen Williams and Miss Paula King, sister of the groom, served the punch. Miss King assisted the couple with opening the gifts.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride wore her wedding dress with a corsage made from her bouquet, and black patent accessories. After a short honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. King returned to Riley, Kansas.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Fighting inflation

President Nixon's statement that he will persist in applying "bitter medicine" until inflation is brought under control was timely and necessary.

One reason inflation has continued is that there hasn't been widespread conviction that the federal government is determined to bring it under control.

for the past three years have helped to patrol the Wisp slopes.

On the week-end of January 17-18, Harold Ashby, ski patrol leader, said the area would have as guest instructors the heads of the Appalachian division of the National Ski patrol system.

A Smorgasbord was held in the Bavarian room at the Wisp on Saturday evening.

mined to maintain firm measures needed to halt runaway inflation. The President also decided to reject wage and price controls and the imposition of guidelines. Wage and price controls would create black markets, disrupt production, and apply a brake to investment in industry—the source of new jobs in the United States. As for guidelines, these were tried during the Johnson administration and proved to be a farce.

President Nixon's choice of White House economic counselor, Arthur H. Burns, as successor to William McCh. Martin, Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is another good sign. Mr. Burns believes that the government must have the will to resist inflation.

To be sure, Mr. Nixon can't singlehandedly turn back the tide of inflation. The Congress, as a coordinate branch of the federal government, bears a vital responsibility in the anti-inflation struggle. Money bills arise in the House of Representatives, and the flow of these bills must be curbed if inflation is to be curbed.

All too often members of Congress urge individuals and business to reduce unnecessary spending so as to slow down inflation. But Big Government is the biggest spender of all. Unfortunately, there are powerful liberal blocs in both houses of Congress who are wedded to the notion that the country can spend its way into prosperity. Members of these blocs are busy devising programs that would undermine President Nixon's anti-inflation program. For example, a huge expansion of the free food stamp plan was recently approved in the Senate.

The sponsors of this legislation do not doubt regard themselves as humanitarians. But it isn't humanitarian to add to the cost of government, to pour fuel on the fires of inflation and, thereby, to weaken the U. S. dollar.

When Americans consider the high cost of living, they should look at the most expensive item there is—the cost of government. People worry about the cost of food and complain about increases. But consumers now are spending less than 17 percent of disposable dollars—after taxes—for food items. Thirty years ago that food took 25 percent. Thirty years ago, however, federal taxes took only 9 percent of the national income. Today, 26 percent of this income goes for federal taxes.

Too much money is going into the operation of government at all levels. The proponents of big government spending first became entrenched in Washington. They are still there. But the big spenders also are to be found at the state, county and municipal level. Taxes in these areas are growing at an enormous rate, as taxpayers can readily testify. Every layer of bureaucracy in the United States now proclaims alleged "needs" of their government departments and agencies.

One frequently hears the statement from government officials, in and out of Washington, that the public "must" spend this or that amount on a particular program. The truth is that the end of the world won't come if government spending is curbed. On the contrary, the real danger of collapse comes from continuation of public spending at a high rate.

Inflation is but the first step towards devaluation of the dollar. Year by year, the dollar's purchasing power has declined because government is spending more money than it has. The liberals may fool many people at home into thinking inflation is compatible with a sound dollar, but the world at large won't be fooled. One day, Americans will wake up and find out that the world has stopped accepting the dollar at its present value, and insists on formal devaluation.

That's what has happened with the British pound on two occasions since the end of World War II. On each occasion, millions of Britons lost a percentage of their savings. Their pension and life insurance plans and hopes were cruelly altered by devaluation. Those who thought they had enough to get by learned that they didn't have enough income after devaluation.

Well, it could happen here. The devaluation of the dollar, as a result of inflation, would strike a massive blow at the American economic system. It could cause untold hardship for millions of people. This is why it is imperative that the Congress and the state legislatures and governors—and local governing bodies—support Mr. Nixon's anti-inflation measures.

Every layer of government must adopt a balanced budget.

Named Outstanding Vo-Ag Instructor

Melvin J. Jackson, 28, vocational agriculture instructor at Aurora High school, has been named the outstanding young teacher of agriculture in West Virginia, reported Carl S. Thomas, State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture. The award, made annually by the National Vo-Ag Teachers Association is limited to teachers who have a minimum of three years and no more than five years experience. Selection is based primarily on community cooperative activities conducted by the teacher and the success of his students in agriculture and the FFA.

Mr. Jackson was born near Bruneton Mills and was graduated from Kingwood High school. He received a degree in agricultural education from West Virginia University and joined the faculty of Aurora High school in 1966. He and his wife, Sharon, have one daughter, Lori Lynn.

Since starting work as a vo-ag teacher at Aurora, Mr. Jackson has had eight students receive the FFA State Farmer degree, two received the FFA American Farmer degree, one the State Star Livestock Farmer (who also won 13-State Regional North Atlantic Star Livestock Farmer award), one second place State Crop Farmer, two State FFA officers, and one college agricultural scholarship winner.

Judging teams from Aurora have consistently placed in the top 50 percent of contests entered. The poultry team of 1969 entered the NEPPCO contest at Atlantic City, New Jersey. In the State Vo-Ag Judging contest the team placed 8th of 45 in 1966 sweepstakes, with individual teams placing third in dairy judging and agriculture mechanics contests.

In 1969 the Aurora Chapter ranked in the top six FFA Chapters in West Virginia and received a bronze emblem in the State FFA Better Chapter contests. The Aurora Chapter has earned a "Superior" rating each year that Mr. Jackson has taught there.

Getty and Bertha (Cooper) Browning, of Raleigh, North Carolina. The elder Browning, formerly of Oakland, was for many years Chief Locating Engineer of the North Carolina State Roads Commission, and in this capacity and later as consultant to the Federal Parkway Department was credited with successfully carrying out the surveys which resulted in the building of the Blue Ridge Park-

Mr. Browning was a graduate of the engineering department of North Carolina State University at Raleigh. During World War II he served with the Navy Sea Bees, constructing advance bases in the Pacific. Discharged from the Navy with the rank of Lieutenant Commander after cessation of hostilities, he was employed by the United States Corps of Engineers in Washington, D. C. until his death.

Funeral services were conducted on October 20th at the Tyson-Wheeler Funeral Home, Rockville, with burial in Park Lawn Memorial Park, Silver Spring. Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Ray C.

Born January 24, 1880 in Preston County, W. Va., he was a son of the late William M. and Martha M. Kelley.

A graduate of Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., he had taught in West Virginia schools. Preceding Mr. Kelley in death was his first wife, Blanche Benson Kelley.

Surviving are his widow, Nettie Ridder Kelley, two sons, Allen Kelley, Cumberland, and Benson Kelley, Gorman, W. Va.; three daughters, Mrs. Virgil Regis Fowler, Paw Paw, W. Va.; Mrs. Bert (Iona) Moreland, Clarksburg; Mrs. Lula Glatfelter, at home; one brother, Edgar Kelley, Point Marion, Pa.; one sister, Mrs. Edith Schell, Deep Creek Lake; 16 grandchildren, 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. Kelley was a well-known truck farmer and the family requests contributions be made to the heart fund in lieu of flowers.

The body was taken to the John O. Durst Funeral home, where a service will be held Friday at 2 p. m. Rev. Vaughn Taylor, pastor, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Red House, will officiate, and interment will be in St. John's cemetery.

Patriotic Program Held

Due to inclement weather the planned YFC Walkathon to support President Nixon and loyalty for country was replaced with a patriotic program at the Deep Creek Baptist church last Saturday morning.

The program included patriotic songs and a prayer for the president, country and troops, and plans for a walkathon in the future. Over one hundred had indicated their interest in the planned walk from Deep Creek to Oakland along U. S. 219.

Six Accident Reports Filed

Six accident reports have been filed in the Oakland office of the Maryland State Police recently.

On November 17, a vehicle driven by Edith Mae Willis, of Elk Garden, was heading east on Route 135 near Altamont when it crossed the center line and struck a vehicle operated by John Joseph Donaghy, Beltsville. Mrs. Willis was cited by the investigating officer.

A vehicle operated by Bernard Lewis Sirbaugh, Oakland, was rounding a slight curve on Rt. 39 on November 8, when it skidded and struck the left front and side of a car driven by Larry W. Lewis, Sr., Sandusky, Ohio.

Vehicle Broken In Two
The Sirbaugh vehicle broke in two with the front half coming to rest approximately 88 feet from point of impact.

Marjorie Lewis, wife of Mr. Lewis, and Robert Crocco, passenger in the Sirbaugh car, were injured and taken by Minnich ambulance to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Both vehicles were demolished. Mr. Sir-baugh was charged with two violations.

On November 13, Martin Kolb, Flintstone, and Carol Ann Swauger, Grantsville, were traveling east on Route 40 when Miss Swauger attempted to make a left turn and was rammed by the Kolb vehicle. Mr. Kolb was held responsible for the mishap, according to the report. An estimated $1600 total damage was done to the two cars.

One accident occurred on November 14 and involved two vehicles traveling south on Rt. 219. Donald Beason Glatfelter, was following Cecil Leroy Tennant, Oakland, and apparently failed to stop when Mr. Tennant began a left turn into a private drive.

Charges were filed against both drivers in this mishap. Hospitalized as a result of the collision were Lorie Ann Damon and Betty E. Glatfelter, both passengers in the Glatfelter vehicle, and Mr. Tennant. Each vehicle had approximately $400 damage.

Two accidents occurred on the fifteenth, both involving two vehicles. Donna Jean McCrobie, Kitzmiller, was traveling west on the Swanton road when she slid off the right shoulder and struck the guardrails.

A vehicle operated by Calvin Franklin Mellinger, Mt. Lake Park, slid into the left rear of the McCrobie car. Due to the icy conditions of the roads, neither driver was cited. Damages totaled $350 in this mishap.

An accident on Youghiogheny

Drive occurred when a vehicle driven by Steven Randall Sweitzer, Swanton, crossed the center of the roadway and struck a car operated by Hubert M. Weeks, Mt. Lake Park, who was traveling east.

Sweitzer was charged by the investigating officer. No injuries were reported, while only a total of $255 in damage was done to the cars.

Lynda Bird Robb and Luc Johnson Nugent are each expecting their second child.

JOIN OUR HEALTH CLUB.

Year after year, most U.S. Government employees select Blue Cross and Blue Shield for their health care protection. Right now, in fact, some 70 per cent of all Federal employees in Maryland are protected by us. And across the nation, the Government-wide Blue Cross and Blue Shield Service Benefit Program covers more than 4 1/2 million people. Combined with the rest of our business, this makes Blue Cross and Blue Shield the, largest voluntary pre-payment organizations in the world, protecting over 68,000,000 people. That's about one out of every three Americans.

It's a big responsibility and we know it. That's why our programs are specially designed to keep pace with rising health care costs.

If you are a Federal employee, you'll have the chance from November 10th through 28th to choose from among several health care plans. Blue Cross and Blue Shield can help protect you better. We're doing it for 70 per cent of your Maryland co-workers. This open-season, join them as a member of our health club, the largest in the world.

WHY ABOLISH CAPITAL PUNISHMENT???

By Stacy Shockley

We are in a dark cell - a cell created and shaped by our own society - he has been condemned to die; he is going to the gas chamber today! . . .

I got up at five this morning; I don't know why!! I just woke up - all of a sudden! I'm trying to remember all the good things that have ever happened to me, and now, when I think about it, there were quite a few happy times I can recall: Messin around with the guys after work; going to church; or just sittin' around the T.V. set with Mary and the kids. Working... but no! I don't want to think about work now...but, but I have to!!

I can remember working late that night, I saw Joe go around to the main office with something in his hand. Why, it looked like a revolver. I knew Joe was mad at the boss because that day he'd been fired for loafing on the job. I knew what I had to do so I ran after Joe. I had about gotten up with him when I heard a shot and saw the boss fall in the parking lot. I was scared, so I ran. The guard caught me, though, and Joe said I did it. I just looked at him. What could I say???

"Come on Joe, time to go."

There's the guard but Joe's not my name. Let him call me anything but Joe. I didn't do it! I didn't do it!! How many other men that were innocent have walked down this lonely "last mile" to the gas chamber, or the electric chair. I didn't do it! I didn't!

"Bye pal."

"See ya!"

"Good luck."

"He don't deserve it, he's innocent."

They are saying good bye to me. I am going to die... "Step in here." "You may be pardoned!!" "No, we had better go on."

I am sitting down. I smell gas... Cough... Cough... I see... a... messenger;... I'm dying... I... didn't... do... it....

"Sir! Sir! Stop it! Here's a message from the governor. He didn't do it - a Joe Jones confessed!"

"Sorry son, it's too late - he's gone! Didn't say a word! That's real bravery."

"But he didn't do it."

"We know... so did he... I think that's all that matters... NOW!!"

We are in a dark cell - a cell created and shaped by our own society - yet listening to a man's thoughts... thoughts of a man who has been murdered by Capital Punishment.

Gen. Hershey Has Building Named In His Honor

General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, and an alumnus of Tri-State college, Angola, Indiana, will have a new physical education building, now rising on campus, named in his honor.

General Hershey will retire February 16, 1970, from the controversial post he has held under six presidents. He is giving the personal mementoes of his long career to the college, to be deposited in the General Lewis B. Hershey hall. The college is near his boyhood home.

General Hershey was the principal speaker at the American Legion annual pig roast in Oakland on November 7.

The building which will be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1970, will cost approximately $4 million.

General Hershey will bring to the hall the many awards he has received for his service to his country including both the Army and Navy Distinguished Service medals, honors from the American Legion, the National Guard association, the Reserve Officers' association and others. His collection includes flags presented to him by each of the 50 states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and Guam.

His awards include the Bernard Baruch award from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and every honor given by the Boy Scouts of America. His correspondence collection includes letters from six presidents of the United States, from rulers and head of state of many other countries and from thousands of high ranking officials throughout the world.

He was nominated for promotion to the rank of full general last month by President Nixon and confirmed by the Senate on November 3. He will leave his post February 16, 1970, and become advisor to the President on Manpower Mobilization. Born September 12, 1893, he is 76. He was named national director of the Selective Service system in 1941.

A 14-year-old boy who attempted to hijack a jetliner to Sweden while holding a dancer hostage is undergoing psychiatric testing.

Sales Documents Required For Wool

Wool producers were reminded this week they should bring sales documents for shorn wool and unshorn lambs to the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office to earn incentive payments for the 1969 marketing. Sales of both wool and unshorn lambs may be included in a single application for payment, according to I. William Umbel, Chairman of the County ASC Committee.

Producers also were reminded that purchases of all unshorn lambs, including the lambs in ewe-lamb pairs, must be reported when application is filed for wool incentive payment. Mr. Umbel said wool producers occasionally overlook reporting purchases of replacement stock, but the ASCS County Office must have an accurate record of purchases as well as sales of unshorn lambs.

The ASC Committee Chairman pointed out that under the National Wool Act all producers who market wool in 1969 are eligible for incentive payments. The final date for filing applications is January 31, 1970.

Shorn wool payments to a producer are equal to a percentage of his returns from sales. The percentage is that required to raise the national average price received for shorn wool by all producers up to 69 cents a pound.

Consumer sales tax collections lagged behind in West Virginia. President Nixon outlined a 13-point program to reform prisons.

who can drive a crooked nail?

No heartache surpasses that of earnest parents trying to mold the character of their child . . . and seeing daily the ominous signs of failure. But all the urging, pleading, coaxing and punishing we can muster is unlikely to change the course of a life that lacks spiritual backbone.

Who can drive a crooked nail?

The sooner religious training begins, the earlier its results become evident in a child's attitude and behavior. Your child's readiness to respond to parental encouragement and discipline is merely the reflection of those deeper qualities of personal integrity which spiritual growth will foster.

Let the Church help you raise your family. God never meant you to try it alone!

Lesson for November 23, 1969

Background Scriptures: Ezra 1:3, 6; Nehemiah 2:1-20; 4:1-15, 16.
Devotional Reading: Ezra 9:6-9.

How often do we at last reach the end of something, only to find it is just the beginning of something else?

The long-awaited graduation day arrives and we leave high school behind and find ourselves confronted with college, our first job, or the armed forces.

Finally, our wedding day comes and we put the single life behind us, only to find that the new life also has its problems, concerns, and obstacles.

The day of parenthood is experienced at last and a whole new life of responsibility enfolds before us.

Mingled with the joy

So it is with most of those eagerly-awaited events that seem to promise the end of something we are anxious to put behind us. It comes as a day of celebration, but with the joy there is mingled the challenge of some new course to run.

I remember so vividly the wild celebration of V-J Day, the day when Japan surrendered and ended World War Two. How we had longed for and looked forward to that day when the terrible conflict would be over. It would mean that war itself would be obsolete. (It did not!) It would mean that fathers, husbands, brothers, and friends would be coming home to stay. (They did not stay!) It would signal the reality of a one-world community. (It was not for long!) It would bring the end of rationing and shortages. We would once more enjoy the luxury of wasting things and be released from the obligation of bending every effort and resource to "the cause."

Time for fulfillment

So, Cyrus made his great proclamation and the Jews, the Babylonians and Assyrians, he sought to allow displaced peoples to return to their native lands, thus establishing outposts in his empire that would remain friendly to him. Furthermore, he encouraged most of these displaced persons to re-establish their former places of worship. In some cases, he even gave financial assistance to this end. He was a far more skillful ruler than his predecessors.

A new day

Yet, there was more to it than this, for Ezra says: "... the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus. Thus, the enlightened approach of Cyrus was due also to the purpose of God at work within him. God stirred his spirit and Cyrus responded with an approach that was to make a better world and give a special blessing to the Jews.

So, Cyrus made his great proclamation and the Jews, the Babylonians and Assyrians, he sought to allow displaced peoples to return to their native lands, thus establishing outposts in his empire that would remain friendly to him. So the day came and the world rejoiced . . . for at least a day and perhaps a week or two. Then they settled down once more to living in a still imperfect world and fastened our eyes on some new Utopia just over the ever-receding horizon.

It was like this with the exiled Jews. During the long captivity in Babylon, the people are kept going with prophetic promises of eventual liberation and return to their beloved homeland. Now at last, with the rise of Cyrus and the demise of the Babylonians, that day had come. The prophecies are about to be fulfilled!

The writer of Isaiah 45 had hailed the coming of Cyrus and called him "God's anointed." For Cyrus was quite different from other conquerors. Wherever he spread his empire, unlike the Babylonians and Assyrians, he sought to allow displaced peoples to return to their native lands, thus establishing outposts in his empire that would remain friendly to him. Furthermore, he encouraged most of these displaced persons to re-establish their former places of worship. In some cases, he even gave financial assistance to this end. RCA harnesses the speed and accuracy of the computer and produces an incredible breakthrough in Color TV advancements

er Bright Hi-Lite '70 Picture Tube

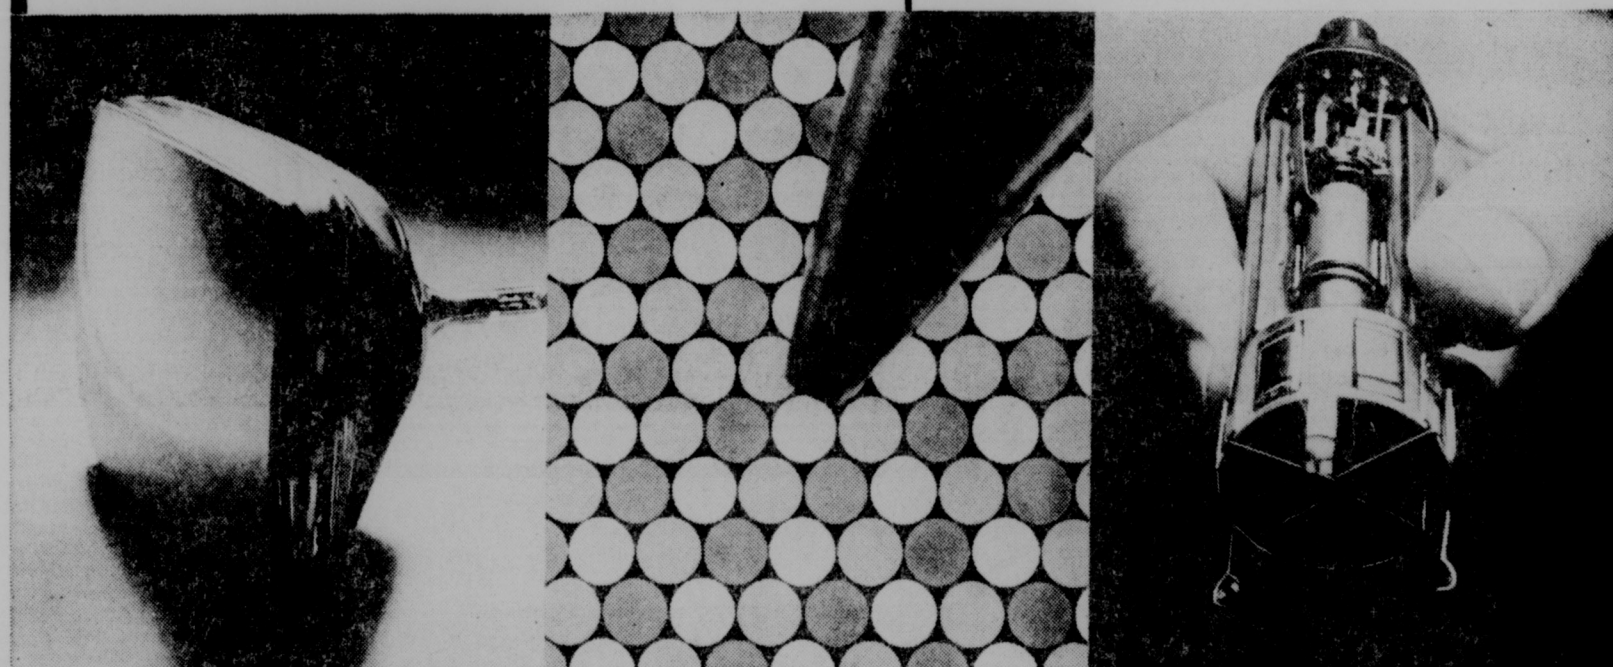

Computer designed and engineered, the new Hi-Lite '70 picture tube's color brightness and clarity is now advanced 100%! This means you get maximum color performance in any room lighting... even in direct sunlight! Hi-Lite '70's secret is the precise placement of color targets set in a black matrix, as specified by computers.

First in Color TV. RCA strides ahead.

RCA pioneered and perfected Color TV. More people own RCA COLOR

TV than any other kind. Now, RCA advances into the future by the use of computers—today! Computer advanced Automatic Fine Tuning (A.F.T.) makes tuning startlingly easy. It ends fiddling with dials. At the heart of this A.F.T. system, computer designed and tested solid state integrated circuit replaces 23 old-fashioned hand-wired parts... and operates with a minimum of heat, the main cause of TV component failure. The computer optimized the design of the new speakers. You now hear all the richness of the transmitted sound.

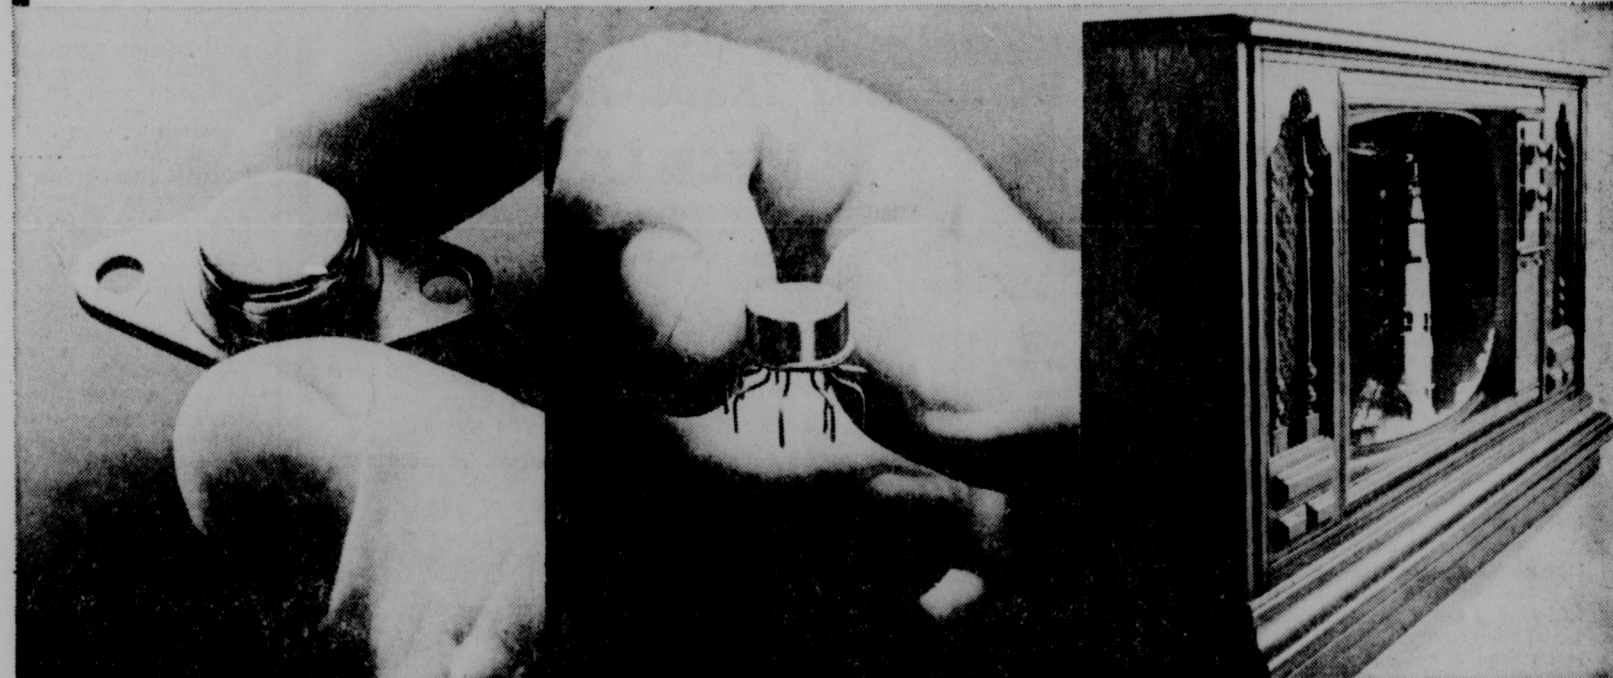

Take us up! Never before have you seen Color TV like this. Watch your RCA selection in your living room for seven days... you must be thrilled, or your money back!

The new HI-LITE '70 Picture Tube. Computer-designed and engineered for 100% more color brightness and clarity than any other ever from RCA.

HI-LITE '70's screen. Computers specify the position of its 1,200,000 color targets exactly. RCA's new black matrix surrounds each one, to keep color sharp.

HI-LITE '70's computer-designed electron gun system shoots 36,000,000 beams-per-second with unbelievable accuracy. This precision contributes to your viewing pleasure.

This "little monster", in Trans Vista models, boosts beam current to deliver a bonus of picture power. Another reason for RCA HI-LITE '70 100% more color brightness.

This tiny workhorse—a computer tested integrated circuit—replaces 24 other parts and provides the most dependable, accurate Automatic Fine Tuning system in RCA history.

Trans Vista Color TV. Mastercrafted cabinetry in the most popular stylings. Solid State dependability. Super Bright Hi-Lite Picture Tube. Computer Crafted advancements merit your preference. See and compare.

J. Glenn Beall, Jr. Reports from Washington

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

There has been much talk recently about the percentage of our Federal Budget that is dedicated to national defense. Approximately 40 per cent of our annual expenditures or about 75 billion dollars is spent by the Defense Department in maintaining the Armed Forces of the United States.

Since this is such a considerable amount of money it is only correct that attention be constantly focused on the efficiency of operations of the various departments making up the overall Department of Defense. Secretary Laird has recently announced substantial reductions in expenditures for fiscal year 1970. The Secretaries of the Army, Navy, and Air Force announced 280 specific actions to consolidate, reduce, realign or close military installations and activities in the United States and Puerto Rico. These actions together with 27 other actions overseas will reduce expenditures by 609 million dollars annually. About 37,800 military and 27,000 civilian positions will be eliminated. They are part of the total program announced by the Secretary of Defense to reduce defense expenditure reductions by at least 3 billion dollars this year.

It should be noted, however, that the biggest reductions will come not from reducing the amount of people involved, but the greatest proportion of the reductions is being taken in procurement accounts. In other words the government is making a better effort to buy in the most economical way possible. It should be pointed out also that President Nixon has directed a reduction not across the board, but has suggested this be done selectively so that damage to our defense capabilities rendered in some instances through wholesale reductions of expenditures will not occur.

While it is encouraging to note that substantial savings are being made in military expenditures it is my feeling that we should never lose sight of the fact that we do have a tremendous obligation to preserve a strong national defense. While we all hope that we do not get involved in wars, and that peace will prevail throughout the world, it is felt that the best way to preserve peace is through strength. For that reason, therefore, it is extremely important that the United States of America remain strong militarily because this is our best diplomatic weapon. If we ever give the Communist world the idea that we are weak militarily we open up a tremendous opportunity for them to out maneuver us diplomatically.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Republican
Dear Mr. Hanst:

"Three score and ten cheers" to The Republican for publishing Mr. Ridder's letter in this week's issue of The Republican.

Apparently, without premeditation, this letter was timely published so as to coincide with Vice President Agnew's adamant speech from Des Moines, Iowa, earlier this week regarding proper and fair dissemination of the news in this country.

Much to my dismay, along with that of millions of other Americans, this city had just witnessed the largest "gathering" in American History with the anti-Vietnam war demonstration. This demonstration has been claimed by all avenues of new news media, nationwide, since its inception.

It is high time for the "great silent majority" to speak up. This I believe has commenced and it is gratifying to know Mr. and Mrs. America have responded 4 to 1 in favor of Vice President Agnew's convictions.

We abhor this social unrest so prevalent in our nation, created by these dissenters, militants, etc., so let us support the democracy of this country as never before.

The United States indeed needs more Mr. Ridder's and more politicians like Vice President Agnew to stand up, be counted for, and let the chips fall where they may, I for one tax paying American, with devout love and pride of my country, will not be content to see this great country drifting along in chaos and turmoil.

Come on Americans, let us register our patriotism and not let these minority groups destroy all the principles that this Great Country was founded on!

Sincerely yours,
Thomas R. Lewis

Thirty Are Killed On State Highways

Thirty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey of the State Police. Ten of those killed were drivers, seven were pedestrians and thirteen were passengers. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths, speed in fourteen, and driver error was a factor in twenty-two.

"We set a weekly fatality record this past week of which we certainly cannot be proud," commented Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the Maryland State Police. "Contributing factors in the tragic loss of thirty lives this past week are the same ones we see every other week, only this time they caused death for a far greater number of persons."

"The slaughter on our highways will not cease until every motorist and every pedestrian realizes that he cannot take chances, and must not rely on reactions and abilities of the other motorist. It is the responsibility of every person to give complete attention to the task at hand when walking or driving along today's streets and highways."

23,000 TB Seals Mailed Last Week

Some 23,000 envelopes containing Christmas Seals were delivered to the post office in Cumberland for residents in Allegany and Garrett counties. The mailing was from the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis association, Inc.

The association hopes to attain the goal of $20,000 which will be used to combat tuberculosis, emphysema and other respiratory diseases. The slogan this year is "Use Christmas Seals. It's a Matter of Life and Breath."

James F. Scarpelli, Cumberland, is this year's seal campaign chairman. He is asking persons to mail in their contributions as soon as possible.

Old Clothes

One of our country neighbors is a metals company executive, but he never appears with splendor in his area of residence. Instead, you are likely to find him coming down the lane in a jeep, wearing an old blue sweater with the seam pulled partly away and a pair of poplin greens resembling surplus store merchandise. There he seems his happiest, rolling along, sniffing the air, and forgetting all pretentiousness, for as Shakespeare says in Hamlet, "the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Perhaps in a time when each city street features a total lack of concern for appearance, as evidenced by long hair, flabby shirts, and unsewn, cut-off trousers, it is unwise to speak of the joy of wearing old clothes. But country readers understand that some of our best moments come and pass fleetingly when we are dressed for work or relaxation and forget to think of how we really look.

Walking across the fields or streams and among the trees does not call for satins and frills, but stick on that shirt with frays and the trousers with a long-forgotten crease and off you go, in the polka-dotted shoes you used last summer for painting, and at last you can be free. Who cares if you bend under the wire fence (or even roll under and get snagged, or if some berry juice stains that old gray turtleneck that Aunt Millie gave you three Christmases ago? And never, never wear good boots — the holy variety are infinitely more fun and interesting, as a swollen Garrett County stream fills in the hole in the bottom to bathe an ankle in a cold, unforgettable swirl.

Any garment should befit the wearer, and none does it better than the red and black shirt of a hunter. If you truly look at the sweater and Mrs. Ollie Frazee were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rodeheaver, Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCrobie and Carl were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kitzmiller.

Murder Charge Against Hoss Must Be Re-submitted

The murder charge against Stanley B. Hoss, Jr., will be re-submitted to the December term of the Allegheny County, Pa., grand jury, as authorities believe the indictment may contain legal flaws.

Coroner Ralph J. Statler, of Allegheny County, had ordered Hoss held for grand jury action last week in Pittsburgh in connection with the death of Patrolman Joseph P. Zanella on September 19.

At a coroner's hearing last Thursday, a 22-year-old New Kensington, Pa. girl identified Hoss as the man who told her he killed a suburban Pittsburgh policeman.

"He said he was the man who killed the Verona patrolman and he wouldn't hesitate to kill again," Karen Maltgott said.

Authorities say if Hoss is re-indicted by the December grand jury the earliest trial would be in January. The trial previously was scheduled for December 8.

The accused also has been indicted by an Allegheny County grand jury on charges of kidnapping Mrs. Linda Peugeot, of near Cumberland, and her two-year-old daughter Lori.

Hoss has admitted killing Mrs. Peugeot and her daughter but their bodies have never been recovered. They were kidnapped from a LaVale department store two days after Patrolman Zanella was killed.

The 26-year-old defendant, who is currently serving a 10-to-20 year sentence for the rape of a 17-year-old girl, escaped from the Allegheny County workhouse on September 11 while awaiting sentencing on the rape charge.

He eluded police after Zanella's murder until October 4 when he was arrested in Waterloo, Iowa, after an extensive manhunt through several Midwestern states. He was arrested next to a car belonging to Mrs.

J. CLAY BROADWATER
J. Clay Broadwater, 61, of Barton, died last Thursday, November 13, at his home. He had been in ill health the past year.

A native of this county he was the son of the late Joseph and Elizabeth Miller Broadwater. Mr. Broadwater was a farmer. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Reuben Broadwater, Westernport; and a number of nieces and nephews.

The body was taken to the Boal Funeral home in Westernport, where services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock by Rev. Sumner Savers. Burial was in Laurel Hill cemetery.

MARGARET LEE BERGHAUS
Mrs. Margaret Lee Berghaus, 80, of G street, Mt. Lake Park, died Monday night, November 17, in Garrett County Memorial hospital, Oakland. She had been in ill health several years.

Deceased was born in Kingwood, W. Va., April 26, 1889, a daughter of the late Charles Y. and Cora Commerford Bishop. She had resided in Fairmont, W. Va., for a number of years.

Peugeot, but so far has maintained a stubborn silence on the whereabouts of the mother and daughter. An intensive search for the bodies was made around Deep Creek Lake but to no avail.

Witnesses at the coroner's hearing traced Hoss's steps the day of Zanella's murder. An employee of a drive-in restaurant in suburban Oakmont said Hoss drove into the parking lot, where a patron identified him as an escapee from the workhouse.

The man said he alerted police, who broadcast a bulletin describing Hoss and a stolen car he was reported to be driving.

Other witnesses testified they saw Zanella pull over to a car and walk toward it with his revolver drawn. They said they saw the driver shoot the patrolman.

Hoss then supposedly kidnapped Miss Maltgott and forced her to drive him to Wheeling, W. Va. where she was freed, before he retraced his way to Cumberland and abducted the Peugeots.

Hoss has been lodged in a maximum security cell in Western State Penitentiary since October 9, when he was sentenced on the rape charge.

and was a retired retail sales clerk. She was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church. For a number of years she was a correspondent for The Republican. Cousins are the only survivors.

The body was taken to the John O. Durst Funeral home where the Rosary was recited Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted this morning at 9:30 from St. Peter's Catholic church with St. Fr. Regis Larkin, officiating. Interment was in the Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

ELLA HELBIG RITES
A requiem mass was celebrated Saturday morning at 9:30, November 15, in St. Peter's Catholic church, Oakland, for Miss Ella Helbig, native of Oakland, who died Wednesday, November 12, at Garrett County Memorial hospital where she had been a patient since July.

Miss Helbig retired last year after about 20 years as private secretary to the chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America.

Miss Helbig, 66, left Oakland when she was 23 to work in Washington. During the depression she became secretary to Edward F. McGrady, who was then an assistant Secretary of State.

When Mr. McGrady resigned to become vice president for labor relations at RCA, Miss Helbig went with him and worked first in Washington, then in New York. In the late 1940s, she became private secretary to David Sarnoff, then president of RCA, in New York. Mr. Sarnoff, whom his secretary always referred to as "the general," later also became chairman of the board.

MRS. JOHN MURPHY
Mrs. Estella Marie Murphy, 83, widow of John Murphy, of North Second street, Oakland, died Monday morning, November 17, at Garrett County Memorial hospital, after a brief illness. She was admitted to the hospital on November 14.

Deceased was born September 12, 1886, in Pittsburgh, Pa., a daughter of the late Thomas and Katherine Conley Rowan. Her husband died in 1955.

She was a member of Saint Peter's Catholic Church and the Sodality.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Genevieve Henderson, Oakland; three sons, John Murphy, at home; Raphael Murphy, Washington, D. C.; and Leonard Murphy, Cumberland; 3 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland where the Rosary was recited on Tuesday evening at 7:30. Funeral services were conducted from St. Peter's Catholic church in Oakland on Wednesday morning at 9:30 with Rev. Fr. Regis Larkin, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Events Above The Mountain Top

by Paul S. Frank, Jr.

Nov. 20-26
On Sunday at 6:54 p.m. the moon will pass through its full phase. During the week moonrise is between 2:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Four planets are visible during the week. At sunset Mars is visible in the South in the constellation of Capricorn. Saturn is well up in the Eastern sky at sunset in the constellation of Aries. About three hours before sunrise Jupiter is visible in the constellation of Virgo, while Venus rises about an hour before the Sun.

Sunset is at 4:41 p.m. today; it rose nine hours and fifty-one minutes earlier at 6:50 a.m. Next Wednesday the sun will rise at 6:56 a.m. and set at 4:38 p.m. During this week the daylight has decreased nine minutes.

Very low in the Southern sky can be found the eighteenth brightest star in the sky. Its name is Fomalhaut which means mouth of the fish. This is the mouth of the Southern Fish, Pisces Austrinus. The stream of water represented by a winding line of stars from the jar of Aquarius ends at Fomalhaut.

Fomalhaut is fourteen times brighter than our Sun. It is twenty-two light years away from us. This star is about twice as hot as the sun and somewhat larger, although it is basically the same type of star. Its name is pronounced Fo'mal'ot.

Today the tenth grade World History classes from Southern will visit the planetarium to study Greek and Roman mythology. Miss LaRue's sixth grade class from Dennett Road will study the North Circumpolar Constellations, while Mrs. Kolb's fifth grade from Grantsville will come to study the planets. On Monday, Mrs. Minick's and Miss Hughes' kindergarten and first grade classes from Route 40 study day and night. Wednesday, Mrs. Mulvey's sixth grade class from Red House will study about time.

C., it was announced.

Hardesty and another English teacher, Captain Spencer, who are friends of Mrs. Dixon, have agreed to assist her with her hospital. The two plan to attend an English conference in Washington on Thanksgiving weekend.

ating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

U. S. Downfall Plotted Fifty Years Ago...

A comic book, distributed by an Oakland business concern, had one item that wasn't so comical. It was brought to this office by Donald Dever. Here is what it said:

In May of 1919 at Dusseldorf, Germany, the Allied Forces obtained a copy of some of the 'Communist Rules for Revolution' Now, fifty years later, the Reds are still 'following the rule.' We quote from them:

A. Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness.

B. Get control of all means of publicity thereby getting people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books, plays and other trivialities; divide the people into hostile groups by of Honor Wednesday evening, November 19th at 7:45 in the Accident firehall.

harping on controversial matters of no importance; destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt and ridicule; always preach true democracy but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible; by encouraging government extravagance, destroy credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent; foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster lenient and soft attitude on the part of government toward such disorders; by specious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.

C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with a view to confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

The article suggests that people take time to think seriously of the above and draw their own conclusions.

Thanksgiving, 1969 . . .

The historical background of Thanksgiving Day reminds us that initiative is one of the vital keys to success.

The first presidential proclamation of a day of Thanksgiving in the United States was made by George Washington in 1789. The day was set aside for prayers and thanks for the new Constitution. Several states continued the practice, each designating its own day.

Abraham Lincoln was the first President to appoint an official Thanksgiving Day, to be celebrated each year on the last Thursday in November. Lincoln issued the Proclamation on October 3, 1863. Since that time the Nation has joined, on one day, in saying its prayers of Thanksgiving and in remembrance of the small band of religious fugitives who landed, accidentally, at Plymouth Rock.

The hardy Pilgrims of Plymouth Bay colony demonstrated that opportunity was there for those willing to work for it. The colonists withstood the privations

Five Families Homeless After Apartment Fire

Blaze Guts Old McCullough Store Bldg. In Friendsville

A two-story frame apartment building at Friendsville, which originally housed the old McCullough store, was gutted by fire last Friday afternoon, leaving eleven persons, including three small children, homeless.

Four volunteer fire companies fought the blaze more than four hours. The building was owned by Ralph F. Frazee, Friendsville.

Cause of the fire was not determined definitely but it was believed to have been from a defective flue. Two floors of the building were gutted and the remainder extensively damaged by water and smoke. No loss estimate was available, but apartment dwellers were able to get out some clothing and a small amount of furniture.

The tenants were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett and 2-year old daughter; Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, a son 2, and a daughter 4; Mrs. Horace Hane, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Schroyer; and Eddie Sliker.

The building was located on Walnut street adjacent to the Friendsville Volunteer fire company. The fire broke out about 1 o'clock and the alarm was turned in by Ward K. Livengood, postmaster, at 1:15 as he

Will Try To Get Stricken Voters Back on Books

An effort is to be made by the political groups of Garrett County to get back on the voting registers the names of 828 citizens that were removed for not voting for the five year period 1964-1969.

A list of 383 names of Republican voters was sent to J. Edward Tasker, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and to Mrs. Clea Baker, president of the National Federation of Republican Women.

A list of 442 names of Democrat voters was sent to Karol O. Rush, chairman of the Democrat State Central Committee, and to Mrs. Maryann Penman, president of the National Federation of Democrat Women.

A voter whose registration has been cancelled is not eligible to vote except by registering again, according to the Annotated Code of Maryland, Registration and Election Laws, Article 33, Section 3-20. Selected for qualities of leadership and enthusiasm for home economics, Miss Williams will serve as junior adviser to CO-ED editors.

National Freeway Work Moving To Vale Summit

Work on the next section of the National Freeway, between Vocke Road and Vale Summit Road, near Cumberland, is expected to begin about the middle of December, according to the District State Roads Commission engineer.

The next section of the Freeway to be completed after the present contract, will be from Vale Summit to Frostburg, after which work will start on the Garrett County section along route 40.

Procedural work is underway to get papers and other necessary forms completed prior to awarding the contract. Central Pennsylvania Quarry, Stripping and Construction Co., of Hazleton, Pa., with $6,249,804 was the low bidder when bids were opened Nov. 13 in Baltimore.

The freeway, which will follow Route 40, slightly south, to Keyser Ridge, then bear south to Friendsville and Blooming Rose, and thence to Bruceton Mills, W. Va., and eventually to Morgantown.

Mr. Swauger and Francis Harris, principal, explained building projects. The next meeting will be held next April with the topic being "sex education."

Hunter Influx Due Saturday In County

Woodland areas are expected to resound with the blast of rifle fire starting Saturday morning, November 29, and continuing through Saturday, December 6, with a pause during Sunday, November 30.

Hundreds of hunters from the metropolitan areas will join local sportsmen in stalking the white-tails. The number of hunters in this county continues to decrease, however, since deer are more widespread throughout the state. Game officials are expecting a higher kill than last year.

It was erroneously reported last week that the small game season would be suspended during the buck season. This was not correct. The small game season will continue as usual during the buck season, which is different than formerly. This will be the second year for the continuation of small game season during buck season.

The limit is one buck per hunter, and those being successful must report the kill within twenty-four hours. The checking stations include Edwards garage, Grantsville; Matt Storey's, Deep Creek Lake, near McHenry; Savage River Inn, Bloomington; and Bob's Mt. Top Tire and Sport Shop in Oakland. Deer killed in Garrett county must be checked in this county, it was pointed out.

Dress Code, Behavior Are P.T.A. Topics

The dress code and behavior of students were topics at the last meeting of the Northern High School Parent-Teacher association meeting at the school.

Donald Swauger, president, said that after much discussion it was concluded that there was no great problem at Northern on the subject and that for the present the code would remain as it was.

Mr. Swauger and Francis Harris, principal, explained building projects. The next meeting will be held next April with the topic being "sex education."

5 Are Killed In Three-Way Crash In Texas

Mother And Four Daughters Are Victims Of Triple Collision

An Oakland area mother and four of her daughters were killed early Sunday in a three-car collision at Naples, Texas.

Her husband and another daughter were injured in the accident which occurred shortly after midnight on U. S. route 67, in the northeast Texas town.

Killed were Mrs. Irene Marie Triplett Kope, 43, of route 2, Oakland; Iretta Elaine Kope, 13; Kathleen Marie Kope, 17; Iris Virginia Kope, 15; and Sharon Sue Kope, 8, her daughters.

Her husband, Victor Homer Kope, 44, and another daughter, Delora Jean, 10, were admitted to Granberry Memorial hospital in Naples. Mr. Kope was reported in serious condition with facial and internal injuries, and his daughter was in fair condition with a fractured leg and facial injuries.

The family was enroute to Fort Worth, Texas, to visit their son, Glenn Kope, for the Thanksgiving holidays when the accident occurred. All of the children attended school at Aurora, W. Va., where Kathleen was a senior.

According to The Associated Press, officers of the Texas Department of Public Safety said the car was being driven by Mr. Kope at the time of the accident, but the son, Glenn Kope, reported that his mother was driving the car and that his father and surviving sister both were asleep when the accident happened.

Texas authorities said that the Kope car was in a rear-end collision with a car driven by Robert Wayne Cason, of Omaha, Texas. As the Kope vehicle spun out of control and overturned it was in collision with a third car operated by Otis

Garrett National Declares 1 for 2 Stock Dividend

The Board of Directors of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland has declared a one for two stock dividend to all shareholders on record as of November 15, it was announced this week by Wesley Schaible, bank president.

At present there are 35,000 shares of stock outstanding and the declaration means that 17,500 additional shares will be added, which will increase the capital stock from $350,000 to $525,000. Shares of stock have a par value of $10 per share.

Mr. Schaible said the certificates for the additional shares of stock would be mailed to all shareholders at the time checks would be sent for the regular dividend.

The last time a similar stock dividend was declared was June 30, 1967.

Mr. Schaible said that the board also declared a one dollar regular dividend on outstanding shares and a special dividend of 50 cents per share.

Christmas Mail Schedule Listed

A mailing schedule for those mailing Christmas packages to distant places, was released this week by Guy William Hinebaugh, Oakland postmaster.

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by December 1 with parcels going to local and nearby areas to be mailed not later than Dec. 13.

He cautioned that the name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed only on one side of each parcel, he advised.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than December 10, and cards going to local and nearby areas to be in the mail by December 15.

Postmaster Hinebaugh also emphasized the importance of using zip codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail.

Thief In Hen House . . .

Everybody kicks about taxes. Yet strangely, even while evidencing explosive resentment toward any taxpayer who allegedly escapes his share of taxes, we remain indifferent to the tax avoidance of commercial government enterprises built with taxpayers' money as substitutes for taxpaying private enterprise. This indifference is most notable in the electric industry where states, municipalities and the federal government go into business in the guise of providing "cheap power"—power that is cheap solely because somebody else makes up the taxes escaped by the government business ventures.

What it means to a community when a taxpaying power company invests its own funds in expansion is well illustrated in the remarks of an official of a typical power company on the occasion of the announcement of a $48 million expansion program by his company. After pointing out that the company was asking nothing from any government agency, he said that by the expansion the company would put into the county tax collector's hands nearly $400,000 when the new plant is complete. Even now, his company pays county taxes annually of approximately $350,000. In commenting on the growth of this investor-owned company, the local newspaper reminds its readers that investor-owned power companies". . . do these epic feats by their own initiative and funding—not by government grants, supports, subsidies, and other insidiously attractive shibboleths of unnecessary statist intervention in the economy, which ultimately become obstacles in the way of the spirit of free enterprise and private initiative."

Thanksgiving

... to give with gratitude

Thanksgiving — in the word lives the essence of the day. We give thanks . . . for blessings large and small, bestowed on one and all. And because we are thankful, we gladly give of our energy and our efforts, our aims and ambitions, on behalf of all, that everyone may be blessed, and be thankful.

On this Thanksgiving Day, we look back across the years and forward to the future, with thanks for the plentitude we have had and with the steadfast resolve that in the years ahead we will do our part to bring forth more achievements, more good things for all. To our many friends, best wishes for a Happy Thanksgiving.

December 1 Is Opening Date For Deer Park Firm

By Carol Canan

Garrett Manufacturing Company, the area's newest business, plans to begin production of women's sport blouses on December 1.

For the past several months, extensive renovations have been taking place in the former Fitzwater furniture store in Deer Park, which is where the factory will locate. The building now houses brand new machinery whose simple names belie their complicated appearance. The machinery goes by the names of button machine, buttonholer, trimming machine, and, of course, sewing machines.

All the machinery is in place and the first crew of ten women experienced in factory sewing are ready to begin. The only anticipated holdup concerns the sewerage system, which is not quite complete as yet.

The small core of helpers will form the nucleus of trained workers, who will each week help train those chosen from applicants who have filed through the Maryland Department of Employment Security. The plant hopes to soon build up to 70 employees, then to 200, with 300 as perhaps the top employment goal.

Already a shipping girl, two repairmen and an office worker are hired in addition to the ten seamstresses. All will be working under direction of Mrs. John Everly, currently of Morgantown, who is the company manager.

All material to be used in the blouse making will be trucked from Pennsylvania, already cut. The machine operators, for the entire operation is to be machine performed, will assemble the garments, which will then be shipped to the company outlets. After the workers become proficient in making these sports blouses, more complicated sportswear will go into production.

It is up to the people here to make Garrett Manufacturing Co. welcome, and prove to them that Garrett countians know the meaning and value of the word "work."

Thirteen Killed On State Highways

Last week thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways, according to the weekly survey of the State Police. Six of those killed were drivers, four were passengers, and three pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in eight, and "driver error" in nine.

"Although pedestrian fatalities are considerably outnumbered by other types of motor vehicle fatalities, the problem of pedestrian accidents is certainly a very serious one," commented Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "Just last week three persons were killed as they crossed the highway when it was unsafe to do so."

"Pedestrians, as well as operators, have a responsibility to exercise proper caution and judgment when using the highway. It's the only way they can expect to stay alive."

ADMINISTRATORS aren't the only decision-makers at the University of Maryland, at College Park. Co-eds are faced with the option to go maxi or stay mini. So far the legs have it. Maxi coats haven't swept the campus fashion world yet. Apparently these co-eds are not from Garrett county as they weren't identified.

The Volkswagen Sedan-and-a-Half.

If you need a sedan and a half to carry all your luggage, you need our Square-back Sedan-and-a-Half.

It has 50% more luggage space than any other sedan.

Including the biggest Cadillac.

That's because where other sedans waste space, ours makes space.

In back, instead of a tapered deck, our Squareback has a square back.

And in front, instead of an engine, it has an extra trunk.

Best of all, while our Sedan-and-a-Half holds 50% more luggage than the biggest sedan, it uses about 50% less gas.

So either way, it doesn't leave you holding the bag.

was enroute to his home for lunch.

The Friendsville fire company quickly notified Accident, Deep Creek Fire company and the Oakland volunteer fire department and all responded with the Accident firemen arriving about 1:30 with 15 men and one truck. Deep Creek responded at 2:20 p. m., with some 12 to 14 men and one truck, and Oakland was called at 2:30 p. m., which responded with one vehicle and ten men. In all approximately 63 men and five trucks were used to bring the fire under control, all remaining at the structure until after 5:30.

Emerson Frazee, proprietor of Frazee's Restaurant and Grocery, provided coffee, doughnuts and food for sandwiches for the firemen. The food was served by women of the Friendsville area.

Accident fire chief Orlando Hetrick, said a tarpaper roof and false ceiling made fighting the fire difficult. There was also an attic apartment in the building.

A plea for clothing and furniture was issued Saturday for the families routed from their homes. They are staying with relatives and friends at present. Mrs. Henry went to a daughter's home in Uniontown, Pa. It was said that Mrs. James Bennett was expecting another child.

Clothing was the immediate need, according to the plea. In addition to the children's clothing, infant, size three and girls' shoes sizes 5½, 11½ or 12; boys' clothing size 3 and shoes size 9 are needed; women's dresses size 16 and 18; women's shoes size 5½, 7 and hose 9½; women's coat size 16, slacks size 18 and blouse size 36; also were listed. Men's clothing included trousers sizes 31-30 and 34-32; 15 and 16½ shirts; and shoes 8½ and 9. Mrs. Frazee said the James Bennett family probably was the hardest hit of all those made homeless.

Northern Seniors Arrange Party

Food, dancing, and games were the major attractions of the annual Northern High School Senior Party held last Friday, November 21. One hundred and ten members of the senior class attended the event which was held in the high school cafeteria.

Colored lights played on the theme, "A Time for Us" which was lettered across the stage curtains. Crepe paper streamers in the class colors of aquamarine and white separated the two parts of the cafeteria. Large letters stating "120 Days Left" and "Class of '70" adorned one wall, while blue daisies with "70" printed in the yellow centers completed the decorations.

The home economics department, under supervision of Mrs. Polly Hanst, instructor, prepared the food.

Nine seniors under direction of Albert Dively, organized the party. Nancy Beachy served as chairman with Barb Friend, Ross Glatfely, Denny Buckel, Ross Savage, Edith Rae Jenkins, Tom Yutzy, Ramona Bender, and Becky Schlosnagle assisting.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dively and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Keplinger, William Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. John Hubickak also attended as guests.

Joseph P. Kennedy, 81, who amassed one of America's biggest fortunes and was the father of a president and two senators, died of heart failure.

5 Are Killed

Mixon, of Dallas.

Also injured but not believed in serious condition were Mr. Cason and his passenger, Tommy Barron. Mr. Nixon and his passengers, Hazel Jean Smith and Charles Beasley, were not seriously injured, apparently.

Mrs. Kope was the daughter of the late Ralph and Marie Paugh Triplett.

The Kope family resided on a farm in the Underwood section near Brookside and also near Oakland. In addition to the father, sister and brother Glenn, another son, Frank Kope, of Egdon, W. Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Wilda Williams, Uniontown, Pa.; and Mrs. Mabel Batty, Mystic, Conn., and the paternal grandfather, Glenn Kope, who resides with the family on the farm, survive.

Mr. Kope is employed as a surveyor for the State of Maryland and is a farmer.

The bodies were to be flown from Texas to either the Garrett County or Cumberland Municipal airport Monday and were to be taken to the Minnich Funeral Home in Oakland.

Funeral services for all five victims will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday from the Deep Creek Baptist Church. Rev. Donald D. Matthews will officiate, with Rev. Benjamin Lebo assisting. The bodies will be taken to the church at 12:30. Interment will follow in Paradise cemetery.

The five were members of the Pine Grove Church of the Brethren. Pallbearers for the girls will be students from Aurora High school. For Mrs. Kope the pallbearers will be Paul DeWitt, Arthur Reams, Leo Friend, Irvin Shreve, Robert Shreve, and Stanley Friend.

Any contributions may be sent to the family in care of the Minnich Funeral home.

Radio Club Meets

The Vacationland C.B. Radio club met at the residence of Kenneth Biser last Thursday, November 20.

Among the items of business were final plans for the Christmas dinner and party to be held on Saturday evening, December 13 at the Oakland fire hall.

Additional information is available from Mr. Biser or Hazel Teagarden.

Plug For Boy Scouts

Warren Puckett, a young man from Camden, Tennessee, asked the Camden Chronicle if they would reprint an editorial taken from the pages of Communist Russia's official newspaper, Pravda, which means "truth" in definition only. The lad read the editorial in his copy of Boy Scouts of America.

Here is the official word from the Communist mouthpiece: "A Pravda survey reveals that an organization called the Boy Scouts is turning American youngsters into hostile, war-mongering imperialists. Every boy who is forced to join the Boy Scouts is trained to be a master of all forms of espionage, violence and germ warfare. He quickly becomes the tool of the ruthless United States Government."

of an untamed wilderness. They used muscle and perseverance to work out their destiny. They did not push a panic button for the "old country" to bail them out.

Just as incentive was the motivating force of our forefathers and freedom their goal, so should these be uppermost in our minds today.

Yes, we do have a different world. We have come a long way in social, educational, technical and scientific progress. But we must have a profound dedication to freedom to spark our initiative to work and prosper. Let us have more incentive to perpetuate this freedom, so we can continue to prosper—under Divine guidance—profiting by the colonists' example.

"At the age of eight or nine, innocent American boys are forcibly herded into an organization called the Cub Scouts, which prepares them for the future foul deeds.

"The Cub Scout dictators force the youth to worship the wolf, one of the most vicious and uncivilized of predatory animals. "After three years of servitude in the Cub Scouts, the boys, now howling adolescents, are forced to join the older, more corrupt Boy Scouts. The most deceitful ritual is the shameful 'Court of Honor', where the young warmongers are decorated with so-called 'merit badges'. It is here that they receive awards in such insidious fields as 'swimming' (underwater demolition and sabotage); 'pathfinding' (counterespionage); 'pioneering' (exploitation of underdeveloped nations).

"In their efforts to completely control American youth the Scout czars have also set up a sister organization called the 'Girl Scouts of America'. This ill-conceived group turns girls into unpaid door-to-door cookie vendors. The proceeds of these sales, of course, go to the Wall Street masterminds of the entire plot. . . ."

Little wonder that some foreign spectators who take "Pravda" literally have a low opinion of America. On the other hand, sophisticated readers know that if "Pravda" attacks something, it must be good. So, thanks for the plug, Ivan. We think the Boy Scouts are great.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Glory Of Work . . .

Bandleader Lawrence Welk, well known for his "champagne" music, believes "... A human being grows and prospers through the dignity of work. Rather than give a man money simply because he exists, let us educate him to the glory that can be found in work. . . and then bend every effort toward helping him find and hold a job."

Mr. Welk also has a word to say on the effect of a guaranteed annual income on our children. He believes: "... A child raised in an atmosphere of defeat and apathy, and taught to expect that his every need will be taken care of whether he works or not, stands little chance of developing a strong character. His own natural eagerness to learn and to grow and to excel is cut off at the very beginning of his life, and he may never know the thrill of achievement on his own. A child who is encouraged early to earn extra pennies by shining shoes or selling newspapers or doing household tasks, stands a much better chance of achieving his goals than a child who is taught to do nothing."

These words of wisdom from a man of music and entertainment come as a refreshing break in the daily litany of se-

Cold Trend Has Control During Most of Week

Cold temperatures prevailed during most of the week, although the arctic-type air did give way to a warming trend on Saturday.

Thursday and Friday were both quite chilly in the morning, although the temperature did climb several degrees during the day. Friday had a 15 degree reading early in the morning, with cloudy skies clearing later in the day.

Saturday brought strong winds and sunny skies and a low temperature recording of 8 degrees. The sun must have had some effect, as the mercury climbed to the low fifties before sunset. The sun had only a few minutes to itself Sunday morning before rain clouds moved in. Rain fell throughout the afternoon and evening, while the mercury was in the low 30's.

It was 32 degrees at 8 a. m. Monday, with sunny skies. Tuesday was also clear, although colder—the temperature stood at 17 in the early morning. Heavy cloud cover could be seen Wednesday morning, with fog in the low-lying areas. The morning temperature was 34, dropping to 31 by 8:30, with a chilly wind making it seem at least several degrees colder.

Governor Plans Special Session

Maryland's $40 million bond offering attracted no bidders Tuesday, leaving Gov. Marvin Mandel no choice but to call the legislature into special session to keep the state's construction fund from going bankrupt.

Mandel said a special session is inevitable but he refused to name a date. But he had asked earlier that the legislators keep December 16 free in case he had to summon them to Annapolis.

Major purpose of a special session, the governor said, will be to get legislative authority to spend surplus monies in the general fund on capital improvements projects.

Latest estimates are that there will be a surplus of about $79 million in the general fund by next June 30.

The General Assembly also will be asked to remove the 5 percent interest ceiling on state bonds which was responsible for the fact that there were no bidders on the bonds offered for sale Tuesday. This would allow the board, if necessary, to sell bonds even if there is no drop in current high interest rates.

Homemaker Clubs Arranging Parties

Most of the Homemaker clubs of the county are planning Christmas luncheons, dinners or informal parties for the month of December.

Mrs. Freda S. Denison, extension agent, listed the club meetings for the ensuing week:

December 2, 6:30 p. m., Casselman Valley, covered dish supper.

December 3, 1:30 p. m., Grantsville club at the home of Mrs. Raymond Rosenberger with Mrs. Emmons Warnick as co-hostess.

Mrs. Denison gave some advice on preparing turkeys. The Health Department recommends that the home prepared turkey should not be stuffed but that the dressing should be cooked in separate shallow pans. Cook turkey thoroughly with the end of the cooking thermometer inserted in the thickest part of the breast. Up to 18 pounds roast until temperature reads 165 degrees.

grees. Allow turkey to sit for 20 minutes, permitting temperature on inside to rise 19 to 15 degrees to destroy any harmful bacteria. Keep turkey and dressing very hot until ready to eat and refrigerate both immediately after the meal.

Education Endangered

Refusal of the U. S. Supreme Court to grant the Nixon administration's request for reasonable delay in implementing full integration in 30 Mississippi school districts raises grave questions for people in all parts of the country.

First of all, the decision by the Supreme Court poses the question of what is constitutional. The Supreme Court's rulings have no permanency. For 14 years, the court held that it was constitutional for school districts to proceed with integration with "all deliberate speed." In other words, gradualism was deemed constitutional. All of a sudden, gradualism is out. The Supreme Court says that integration must be accomplished "at once." This raises the question: If gradualism was constitutional last year or last month, why isn't it constitutional this month or in the future?

The court's latest ruling confirms the suspicion of many citizens that it doesn't really have a constitutional standard, but simply adopts this or that sociological standard, depending on the whim of the justices and the temper of the times.

Moreover, even the limits of this sociological standard are unclear. Does the latest Supreme Court ruling apply only to the 30 Mississippi districts? To all the Southern states that formerly had legally segregated school systems? Or does it also apply to Northern school districts where de facto segregation prevails?

If past experience is any indicator, the court will zero in on the Southern states, treating them as targets for a judicial crackdown. The other states, which maintain de facto segregated school systems, may escape censure and regulation.

Understandably, Southerners are very sensitive in this matter. They feel, with justice, that there are two classes of law in the United States—one for the Southern states and one for the states outside the South. They can point to the unequal application of the law insofar as voter rights legislation is concerned. The voter rights law was framed to apply to the South and the South only. The law is unconcerned with violation of voter rights elsewhere. It is intolerable and outrageous, of course, to have a double standard of law in a federal republic.

Then there is the practical question of how Mississippi and other similar situation states and school districts will adjust to the "at once" requirement of the Supreme Court.

No matter what the high court rules, there are limits on what local school officials can do to alter schooling arrangements—and still operate an efficient, acceptable school system. In some districts, immediate, forced change of schooling arrangements acceptable to both races may simply result in the end of public schooling. Parents with sufficient means will send their children to private schools. Those without means may decide to relocate, to move elsewhere.

No court can abolish a parent's concern for his children and his determination to give them good schooling and a decent educational environment. If the schools in a community are virtually shattered by arbitrary court action, parents will withdraw their children from the schools and look for other communities in which to earn their living and continue their careers. It is too much to expect responsible parents to accept the notion that their children must be guinea pigs in a sociological experiment—an experiment, moreover, that is not desired by the majority of either racial group.

One way or another, responsible parents will get acceptable schooling for their children, even if they have to "bootleg" it. In the Northern states, the flight to the suburbs is an attempt to do just that.

The courts have lost sight of the fact that education is an intimate matter, touching on family values. No court in the land can decree a single educational experience for all American children, for the reason that Americans are different. They are not a monolithic group, but have a variety of social, religious, sectional and cultural values. In the past, the courts honored and respected these differences, and saw in them the source of a vital differentiating liberty in the United States.

Now, unfortunately, activist judges and liberal politicians demand a totalitarian uniformity—a rigid democracy that isn't at all what the Founding Fathers intended or that the majority of the American people want today. In other words, the courts are ruling in ways alien to the desires and best interests of the American people. They are ruling against the spirit of the U. S. Constitution. It is time that the federal judiciary reappraise its thinking about public education in the United States. If a sound and thoughtful reappraisal is made, there won't be any more "at once" declarations by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

The Shoe Pinches

It is interesting that George Meany, head of AFL-CIO in a recent interview took the position the only way out of the inflation mess is government price and wage controls.

Perhaps it is not beyond the realm of possibility that union leaders have been receiving many complaints from their members on the high cost of living, and mounting taxes.

But Meany got himself rather boxed in. Unlike some, he could not lay the blame off to Vietnam, as to secure the support of a previous administration he took a strong stand supporting the war. And obviously, he could not blame escalating wages as the cause. So he claimed inflation is due to excessive profit taking.

This argument does not hold up logically, economically, or mathematically.

The present slough of inflation is due almost entirely to excessive government spending. Big bureaucracy and big budgets go together.

Organized labor has fought for the National Labor Relations Board, a bigger Social Security System, a Fair Employment Practices Commission and a host of other items considered progressive. Yet the leaders fail to realize that every bureau set up takes a bite out of the economy.

For government expenditures exert a two way force for inflation. The classic one is that when government competes for loans on the money market, money becomes expensive.

But when government lays down rules requiring a lot of time taken away from productive activity, prices are bound to rise. Union regulations have also increased costs of production substantially, in a manner no way connected with wages paid. Restrictions on amount of work to be performed, "feather bedding" and other factors have pushed the cost of production up sky high.

It is significant that only a few years ago the auto workers won from Detroit contracts that increased pay scales not on the basis of increased productivity, but on the increases in the cost of living. The more expensive an auto becomes, as the auto figures prominently in the cost of living index, the more the auto worker gets.

In a special survey, the National Federation of Independent Business found that paper work, filling out the endless forms demanded by government bureaus at all levels, was costing small business alone one and three quarter billions of dollars per year.

The cost of all this activity, plus that demanded by the labor leaders, become a major part of the costs of producing goods and services which are passed on to the consumer.

Bureaucracy, either government or labor, kills the goose that lays the golden eggs as neatly as the chopping block hatchet.

BRAVING SUNDAY'S DRIZZLE to inspect the site of the Broadford dam are the directors of Mt. Top Civic Center, Inc., who were there to choose the best site for the proposed center. The group picked out a tract consisting of five acres, which they are asking the town of Oakland to lease to them for the center. As soon as enough funds are available, work will begin on the civic building which will house various community activities. Included above are, left to right, Bill Nace, Maryann Penman, Hugh Denison, Patricia White, Bill Sharps, Phyllis Trickett, Dale Fike, Lucile Grant, Richard Davis, and Lorraine Gnegy.

40-Cent Boost In Phone Rates Has Been Granted

Maryland subscribers will pay an average of 46 cents more a month to produce added income approved last week for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company. The company filed the new rate schedule on Nov. 21, according to G. C. Crabtree, C and P manager here.

The Public Service commission authorized the telephone company to collect $22.7 million more a year which represents the largest percentage increase ever authorized a Maryland utility.

The C and P's allowable rate of return on its investment will be raised from 6.35 to 7.65 percent, a hike of 1.3 percent. The tariff proposals now before the Commission provide for spreading the various changes in rates around the state with across the board increases on most Maryland customers' telephone bills, Mr. Crabtree said. He added that this was the first real restructuring of telephone rates in more than ten years.

Mr. Crabtree listed the principal items in the proposal that would affect customers in the Oakland exchange: Adjustments in rates for residence and business service, to include an increase of 40 cents per month in the basic rate for residence customers with local private line service; an increase of $1.70 per month for each main line for business customers; a handling charge on certain long distance calls placed through the operator, where the customer has the ability to dial the call directly; restructuring of rates for many items of equipment and service offered to business customers.

Mr. Crabtree noted that the tariff has been filed to be effective within 30 days. All customers will be notified, he stated, about specific rate and service changes as soon as possible. The proposed tariff changes are available at the company's public business offices and at the Public Service commission.

The commission will start hearings Dec. 1 on how the C and P proposed to change its monthly charges in order to collect the revenue, according to William A. Doub, chairman.

Doub said the C and P has been asked to include a new economy service providing a limited number of outgoing monthly calls for about $4 a month. Purpose of this rate would be to meet the needs of people who have low or fixed incomes, such as widows, retired people, the unemployed and welfare recipients, Doub stated.

He said this was in line with the PSC feeling that a telephone is not a luxury.

Give Thanksgiving Program

A Thanksgiving program was presented to the whole school, Tuesday, November 25, in the gymnasium. The program, featuring the first feast, was given by the Speech Club, the senior and junior choruses, and the senior band. The teachers directing the program were Mrs. Nancy Turney, Richard Clever and Michael Posey.

During the procession into the gymnasium, the senior chorus sang "Come Ye Thankful People Come." This was preceded by a trumpet solo by Joe Ashby. The senior chorus then sang "Now Thank We All Our God" and "Let Us Break Bread Together." Dwight Harvey narrated the "Meaning of Thanksgiving." Stacey Shockley of the Speech Club gave the "Thanksgiving Prayer," written by Mala Wilkins. This was followed by the junior chorus singing "Abide With Me."

Teresa Naylor, Speech Club member, gave an original speech "Thanksgiving Today." The senior high band placed George M. Cohan's "Patriotic Fantasy." This was followed by the senior chorus singing "Bless This House."

The program was concluded by the junior chorus singing "Now The Day Is Over."

Junior Class Sells Wreaths
The Junior Class is selling peanut brittle, bamboo jewelry and Christmas wreaths to raise money for the prom. The wreaths sell from $2.25 to $4.00, 15 in. to 20 in., with or without pine cones. They can be ordered in white or Scotch pine.

Last week the class gave a play, "Stranger In The Night," which was also for the benefit of the Juniors' treasury.

Winter Sports Begin Practice
Basketball practice is now in its second official week for the three teams at Southern. Varsity Coach Tom Kuhn has completed the cuts, and the team now has 12 boys. There are five seniors, seven juniors. The first game is to be played at Union High School near Bayard on December 6. The three cheerleading squads are also practicing for the basketball season. Each of the squads will sport new uniforms.

Quite a few boys came out for the first wrestling practice on November 17. Coach McCain is preparing the boys for their first match to be held at Romney on December 5.

Representative Council Plans Change

In an effort to give more students a voice in the school this year, Homeroom Representatives Council has been organized, made up of one representative from each homeroom in the school. It is headed by Principal Robert Rodeheaver.

The Representative Council is presently engaged in a number of activities. Their main goal is to develop trust between students and faculty. The Council has initiated the opening of most homeroom doors by 8:15 in the morning. Some are not opened because of the value of the equipment stored there. A subcommittee is working on revising the dress code, and the Council is making plans for a Student Lounge.

Senior Chorus Sponsors Social Break

The Senior Chorus is sponsoring a social break in the cafeteria each morning from 8:15 until 8:45. This activity began two weeks ago. Each morning two of the three senior high classes are invited.

Each student must show his admittance card at the door. The admittance card costs ten

According to Mrs. Frazee, food is the most pressing need, and canned goods would be especially welcome. Furniture also is needed. Thanks to the overwhelming reaction of the area, nearly all clothing needs have been met, with the exception of underclothing and socks.

The United Methodist Church in Friendsville assisted in aiding the families, and Elder Hill United Methodist Church has undertaken to provide food baskets for Thanksgiving.

Commissioners Ask Jailbreak Details

At the November 17 meeting of the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners, member John Ross Sines asked for a statement of circumstances concerning the escape of prisoners from the county jail.

Sheriff James Frantz informed the Board what was known about the escape. To help prevent escapes in the future, it was recommended that the exhaust line from the stand-by power unit located in the jail basement be completed and a steel guard or screen be replaced.

Commissioner president Herbert A. Friend made a motion that the bid received from the Phoenix Construction Corporation for work at the county airport be rejected because of insufficient funds for construction. The motion, which recommended locating the hangars where the cost of excavation would be lower, was seconded by Mr. Sines.

Member Allen S. Paugh made a motion that representatives of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce be asked to attend a meeting of the Board with representative of Rummell, Klepper and Kahl, consulting engineers, concerning the Master Plan for water and sewerage for the county. The meeting will also include mayors of county towns. The meeting is scheduled for December 22, at 1:30 p. m., in the court room. The motion passed unanimously.

An amended contract for the Wilson Run project was presented by William Nace. The amendment, which consisted of a change in dates, was signed by President Friend.

James F. Batka, representing Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, discussed experience rating of the hospitalization plan for County Roads employees. A report was presented showing that rating for the year ending June 12, 1969, was approximately the same as for the year ending June 12, of 1968.

The Board agreed to assume fifty percent of the cost of a planned banquet for foster parents if the entire cost did not exceed $150.00.

Hike Is completed

Members of Oakland troop 82, Accident Boy Scouts, for the third time in four weeks hiked over the Chesapeake and Ohio canal towpath on Saturday, Nov. 22. Five members of the troop hiked from Paw Paw to Little Orleans, some 15½ miles.

Melvin Schwing provided round trip transportation and Edgar Harman, assistant scoutmaster, accompanied the scouts.

Participating were Franklin Schwing, Allen Glatfelter, Steve Leonard, Bill Leonard and Leonard Walker. They earned the Shenandoah Area council segment of the C. and O. canal historical trail patch, the second segment to be earned this fall.

Another trip is planned for December 13, to begin at Little Orleans and ending at Hancock, a distance of 16.8 miles.

Steeple Is Placed On Church

The recent placing of the steeple on the new St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Salisbury, Pa., marks a significant step toward completion of the structure.

According to Robert C. Balling, architect, and Olen Rembold, general contractor, the new church will be ready for dedication on Sunday, Dec. 21, at 2:30 P. M.

Many members and friends who were present for the groundbreaking and cornerstone laying services on July 27 and August 17 respectively, have been anticipating the dedication services with eagerness.

St. John's council and building committee announced that in addition to the dedication of the church on December 21, services will also be held at 7:30 P. M. on December 22 and 23 culminating with celebration of Holy Eucharist on Christmas Eve, December 24, at 11:00 P. M. Full details concerning the schedule will be published in the near future.

Everyone is invited to attend all of the services in connection with completion of the church. Rev. David E. Fetter is the pastor. The church is a part of the Grantsville Lutheran charge.

Church Women Meet

Mrs. Stewart Stahl led discussion of the topic, "Make The Day Bright", when the LCW of Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, met on November 9. The meeting was attended by five members and one visitor, Miss Sherry Bender.

Through discussion of life situations from Old Testament times to the present, they learned to accept loneliness as a condition of life; discovered ways of working through loneliness to a creative solution. Leota Baker presided. A letter of thanks was read from the

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

One of the most controversial subjects considered in the Congress is Foreign Aid. The House of Representatives this past week has been considering the Foreign Assistance Act of 1969 which changes the old act written in 1961 and hopefully makes the program more effective.

The Act considered by the House of Representatives reflects new priorities and new directions, the emphasis now being on the increased use of private enterprise and technical assistance for the development of friendly nations. The bill provides that our assistance not only improve human and material resources but also, perhaps more importantly, build economic and social institutions so that a proper foundation is provided to allow all people to acquire a decent standard of living. The principal instrument for providing economic assistance to other countries is the Agency for International Development, or AID. Today's AID program does not send money abroad, it sends U. S. goods and services. We have learned from bitter experience that we cannot buy friendship throughout the world, although we also realize that we have an obligation to help others obtain a better standard of living. The fact that we no longer send money has a direct impact on the U.S. balance of payments problem, because all of the goods and services sent abroad are bought here in the United States. Thus the money used is kept in circulation in this country.

It is interesting to note that in 1949, during the Marshall Plan, the economic aid that we gave to other countries was close to 3 percent of our gross national product. Today, it is less than one-half of 1 percent of our gross national product. We hope that although the total dollar amount in foreign aid is less, the beneficial effect is improved, because no longer are we just funneling cash through a country, but are actually providing the goods and services that promote stronger economies throughout the world. It is also interesting to note that although the United States now provides about half of the free world development assistance, the share of other free world countries is growing rapidly. As a matter of fact many other countries devote a larger share of their gross national product to foreign aid than the United States and much of this assistance is provided on easier terms than ours. The maintenance of the free world economy and the improvement of the economies of less fortunate countries is the job not just for the United

A special offering was received and sent to the Bethesda Home for Children, Meadville, Pa.

The next meeting will be held on December 14, in the home of Mrs. Susie Yommer. Mrs. Joseph Resh will present the program, "Signs of the Christ".

Background Scripture: Nehemiah 8 through 9.

Devotional Reading: Psalms 137:1-5.

Many a man has dreamed of rebuilding a city, only to find that because he did not realize that cities require more than brick and mortar and ambitious plans. To build houses, stores, factories, to pave streets and plan for parks, these activities alone cannot make a city beautiful or comfortable. All the building is in vain unless there is also moral and spiritual building.

When the exiles returned to Jerusalem they found it in ruins. Thus Nehemiah, a close associate of the Persian king, had left his good position to go to Jerusalem and lead the people in a program of reconstruction. Despite great obstacles and many detractors, they began to restore the great city and its temple.

A man named Ezra

It became apparent, however, that something else was needed in Jerusalem. Thus, several decades later, another man, a priest and scribe named Ezra, came to Jerusalem to meet that need. As he saw the situation, the people were greatly lacking in their knowledge of God's law. Thus, on the Jewish New Year's Day, he called the people to assemble in the square at Jerusalem so that he might acquaint them with the ancient laws of Israel. Unless they made this law the foundation of their lives he said, their rebuilding of Jerusalem would be in vain. If they lived by this law, however, they would live happy and prosperous lives.

The better way

There are many passages in the scriptures which promise us a richer and fuller life if we will live according to God's law. What is the basis of that promise?

Student Voices

Abusers of Liberty — Get Out!

By Bob Paugh

A recent Supreme Court ruling declares that a student in a public school (if he so desires) does not have to salute the flag of our country. To me, this seems rather appalling. When one considers that the education of that person, the building in which he is standing, and, in most cases, his transportation to the school and home again, are all paid for in part by the same government that established the Supreme Court. And do not forget that while this is going on, thousands of Americans are overseas, fighting to keep him safe so that he has the right to do this!

Today's militant youth are not afraid to speak out and call our leaders "commies," but at the same time they refuse to fight to keep out Communist aggressions. My policy toward these students is as follows: if anyone enrolled in a public school will not salute the flag of a country which is striving for world peace as hard as America is, then that student has no right whatsoever to enjoy the privileges of Americans; and he should be denied his right to these advantages. As far as I am concerned, if the radicals and militants who participate in such things as the Moralismers are that dissatisfied with the American policy, why don't they just shut-up and get out! I'm sure the world would be a lot better off.

Does Student Teaching

Miss Dorca Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. Miller of Grantsville, is currently a student teacher of Biology at Walkersville High School in Walkersville.

She is one of 58 Hood College seniors who will be student teaching for an eight-week period in the college's two programs of teacher education.

CARD OF THANKS

Ralph and Norma Frazee, of Friendsville, wish to express their sincere thanks to everyone who helped at the fire on November 21. Everybody did a fine job. We are very, very grateful to all.

We want to express high praise to the men involved in the four volunteer fire companies: Accident, Deep Creek, Oakland and Friendsville. Our personal thanks go out to the Potomac Edison Electric company for its quick response and concern to Emerson Frazee for donating coffee, donuts, and food for sandwiches. To the women who did the serving, and to all the bystanders who did such a dandy job trying to salvage the personal belongings of the five families.

We want to also express our deepest sympathy to the tenants burned out and are willing to help them every way possible to make a new start. The Cumberland Times was an eager and helpful aid to us with their printed articles informing the people what these family needs were. The people in many areas, willingly responded and donated clothing, bedding, furniture and food in order that these families could get that start.

Thank you everyone.

Events Above The Mountain Top

November 27 - December 3
Tomorrow at 8:00 p.m. the Moon will be at its apogee of 251,800 miles from Earth. This is the farthest that the Moon moved from Earth this month.

On Monday at 10:51 p.m. the moon passes through its last quarter phase. During the week the Moon is waning. It rises between 7:30 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. this week.

Four planets can be found in the night sky this week. Before midnight Saturn and Mars are visible. Saturn, in Aries, is well up in the east. Mars is in the southern sky before the stars of Capricornus. Just before sunrise Venus is visible, brilliant above the eastern horizon. Jupiter rises three hours before sunrise. Jack Weber Carries Rice To Refugees In Southeast Asia

A story of cargo planes of World War II vintage which fly rice to many villagers in Laos, appeared in the New York Times last month, and the story included Jack Weber, of Oakland, as one of the fliers.

Jack flies the route regularly and on this particular occasion he flew 10,560 pounds of rice into site 266 and dropped his load in the drop zone by pressing a buzzer.

The rice is eventually distributed by the village elders at the rate of 1.1 pounds a day for each person.

The planes are chartered by the United States Agency for International Development as part of a program of sustaining the refugees of the war between the Pathet Lao and the North Vietnamese army against Government troops and the U. S. air force.

The American aid agency is now delivering some 50 to 100 tons of rice, cornmeal and salt each day. Officials hope that within 60 days the first rice crop will mark the beginning of self-sufficiency.

When not carrying relief to the refugees planes of Continental Air and Air America are presumed to be ferrying government troops into action. This part of the airlines' operations is believed to be under the orders of the United States Central Intelligence agency, an assumption American officials neither confirm nor deny.

Weber is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Weber, and a brother of Logan Weber, Cara and Mrs. Betsy Sukow, who reside south of town. The Webbers have been in Laos for several months. Their eldest son, Edward, will graduate from Duke University law school next June 1 and Mr. and Mrs. Weber expect to return to the States to attend the ceremonies and then pay a visit to the mountain top.

Americans used to be responsible for their own living, and saving for their own future. But since about the Second World War too many have taken the too easy path—live it up; somebody else will take care of tomorrow. That is the way Warner and Swasey, machine tool manufacturers, class the trend.

They further explain—"So millions go on relief rather than take the jobs they could get; workers demand higher wages but produce no more to earn them; careless governments are wasteful spenders; families mortgage their futures to live beyond their means today. "And all of a sudden we find we're in trouble—our country, cities, ourselves. Debts and taxes shrinking our opportunities, inflation racing toward the runaway ruin stage, and as it always does, the fear and uncertainty about our country and our future unsettling many of the young whose outlet is demonstrations they don't understand, demand for something they won't work for.

"Hopeless? We don't believe it. There is still a magnificent reservoir of able honest workmen, earnest parents, dedicated patriots and hard-working young students. If they will work and speak as they so well can, they'll drown out the lazy and greedy, and get this great nation back on the track of honest hard work again."

Col. James L. Hayes, state director of selective service, said it is still too soon to tell how far into the birthday list the state will have to go before reaching its quota.

Firemen Receive Call To Search For Deer Hunter

The firewhistle sounded last Monday evening to summon help—not to fight a fire—but to search for a deer hunter who had not shown up on time at a rendezvous.

George Welling, hunting with a group in the Kempton area, failed to turn up at the appointed time, so the group called the Oakland Fire Department about 6:15 to aid in a search. The fire department turned the call over to the National Guard unit at Oakland.

Fifteen men were assembled and ready to go when they were notified that Mr. Welling had not been lost, only late.

Teachers To Begin Contract Talks

Negotiators for the Garrett County Teacher association are set to begin 1970-71 contract discussions with the Board of Education soon.

Wayne Johnson, association president and teacher at Southern, said the proposed contract would do much to improve the educational program, reflecting concern for the children taught which he termed "reasonable and fair."

The proposed contract is the result of discussion with teachers and numerous conferences. Johnson said he hoped the school board negotiators would bargain in "good faith."

Under a Maryland law passed in 1968 the school board must negotiate with the association on all matters related to "salaries, wages, hours and other working conditions."

Negotiators for the association include Ernest C. Spoerlein, chairman, Wayne Johnson, William Crone, Martha DeBerry, Esther Opel and Foster Riggs. Negotiators for the Board of Education, named a few weeks ago include Col. Haig Jackson, Gorman Getty, Robert Sincell and Lela Paugh.

National Freeway Schedule Revealed

The latest schedule of National Freeway progress and construction has been announced by John Bushby, District 6 State Roads Commission engineer, who says it will be spring before bids are sought on the Garrett County section.

According to Mr. Bushby, the contract for the section from near the district SRC office on Braddock Road in LaVale west to State Route 55 at Clarysville will be awarded sometime within the next three weeks.

The notice to proceed will then be given and the company, the Central Pennsylvania Quarry, Stripping and Construction Company of Hazleton, Pa., can begin the survey work on the new location of National Freeway. This will generally follow the old C and P Railroad right-of-way to Clarysville and will be on the hillside above and parallel to U.S. Route 40.

After the surveying is completed, the right-of-way will be cleared during the winter months so that earth moving can be started when the weather breaks in the spring.

In January, Mr. Bushby said, the SRC plans to advertise for bids for the next section of the National Freeway, Route 48, in Allegany County. This will take it from the Vale Summit Road to Maryland Route 36 just east of Frostburg city limits. This section will include a high bridge at Clarysville over Route 55 and the Hoffman Interchange.

In February, according to Mr. Bushby, advertising of bids is scheduled for the next section of the Freeway, from Route 36 around Frostburg and to the Garrett County line on Big Savage mountain.

In the spring, he continued, the commission plans to advertise for Freeway construction projects in Garrett County between the Allegany-Garrett county line west to New Germany Road.

Mr. Bushby observed that after the contracts get as far as New Germany Road it may be necessary for work to start from the West Virginia line and move eastward.

Mild Thanksgiving Weather Allowed Before 7-in. Snow

Thanksgiving managed to slip a touch of mild weather by Old Man Winter this year, but worsening weather brought several inches of snow before the week was over. Last Thursday was partly cloudy with a temperature in the mid-30's. Friday, too, was warm with a temperature of 44 as the high, and some sunshine.

Saturday was cold and cloudy, with a temperature climb reaching only to the upper 20's. The snowfall which began late Saturday continued intermittently until Sunday afternoon when the snow began falling in earnest. Sunday a high mercury reading was 28.

The snow emergency plan went into effect at 3:30 p. m. (Continued on Page Four)

Large Group Sees Christmas Parade

Some four thousand persons lined the streets of Oakland last Friday evening for the annual pre-Christmas parade which officially opened the Christmas season.

Included in the procession were the Aurora high school band, Terra Alta high school band and the junior and senior bands of Southern high school, Hiram Clowns of the Ali Ghan Shrine, other groups with Santa Claus riding in the fire truck.

The Christmas lighting decorations were erected a few days before the event. Some 1,400 popcorn balls were distributed to youngsters with many of them carrying a sticker designating prize winners. The prizes were offered by some 40 participating business places in cooperation with the Merchants' committee of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

Several thousand special Christmas advertising editions of The Republican were mailed to subscribers in the county and are being placed on the newsstands today. Sixteen pages of special bargains offered at the participating stores are included.

The Republican's Christmas issue will be published on Tuesday, December 23, and the annual New Year's edition will be published on Wednesday, December 31.

373 Deer Slain First Four Days Of Buck Season

Season Started Fairly Live—ly Saturday, Tapered Off Sharply

Three hundred seventy-three bucks were slain during the first four days of the 7-day season, it was learned this morning from Harold Harmon, from the Mt. Nebo reserve. The number was stated from the four deer checking stations in the county and the LaVale police barracks in Allegany county, showed the kill for the first four days already was above the total of 366 for the entire season last year.

The season began very well with 234 the first day but tapered off sharply for the succeeding days, partly on account of the rather heavy snowfall of the past two days.

The number of deer hunters is still less than it was several years ago because of the quantity of bucks throughout the state. The hunting pressure has been off for the past three years.

Hunters had been advised to report their kills in the county where the kill was made, but six of them made their report to the LaVale police barracks. There were just four checking stations in the county, at Bob's Mt. Top Tire in Oakland, Storey's on Deep Creek Lake, McHenry's Grantsville garage, and the Savage Restaurant, in Bloomington.

For the first four days the following were reported: Oakland, 64, 27, 14 and 11, for a total of 116; Storey's, 56, 11, 14 and 5 for a total of 86; Grantsville, 100, 21, 8, 13, for a total of 142; Bloomington, 10, 7, 5, 1 for a total of 23; LaVale, 4, 0, 2, 0 for a total of 6; grand total 373.

Mr. Harmon said the bucks generally seemed to be heavier than last year. The largest bucks for each day were reported to him as follows: Saturday, 8-pt. 164 lbs., killed by Robert DiGirola, Luke, on Meadow Mt.; 14-pt. 155 lbs. by Bruce Swift, Wheaton, Potomac State forest; Monday, 8-pt. 162, by Paul O. Froze, on Frazee Ridge; 14-pt. 152 by Gerald Bolt, of Montgomery county, on Savage State forest; Tuesday, 7-pt. 160, Carl Knox, Accident, killed on his own property; 12-pt. 138 by David Rodeheaver, Deer Park, in White Church area.

Wednesday, 8-pt., 164, by Joseph McRobie, Friendsville, killed on Elder Hill; 10-pt. 133, killed by Cear Ledward, of eastern Maryland, killed on Negro Mountain.

The season will continue through today, Friday and Saturday. The list of deer kills for the first few days at Oakland and Storey's includes the following:

A partial list of the deer kills including name, points and (Continued On Page Four)

Jailbreaker Begins Four-Year Term

William Chittum, 38, of South Charleston, W. Va., has been sent to the Maryland Commissioner of Correction to begin serving a four-year term for attempted escape from the Garrett County jail a month ago.

Chittum was sentenced November 13 in Garrett County Circuit Court by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill and was to be taken to the Commissioner of Correction the following morning. But Chittum, along with two other men, escaped from the jail and eluded police for six hours before being apprehended in a garage about six miles north of Oakland.

His companions, James Lilly, 27, Beckley and Thaddeus Brown, 23, Gallagher, were scheduled for trial last Wednesday but the hearing was postponed and no new date has been set.

Chittum, Lilly, Brown and William Walters, 28, Mt. Hope, W. Va., who is currently serving four years in the Maryland Prison on the same charge, escaped custody while being driven from Huttonsville Medium Security Prison to a gospel sing and have been held in the jail at Oakland since August 31.

The four were captured by county Sheriff James Frantz and Deputy Delbert Swartzentruber but a fifth man, Carl Dearth, 29, Cabell County, is still at large.

Deer Population Is 500 Less After First Day of Season

The deer population in Garrett and Allegany counties decreased by almost 500 on the first day of the week-long hunting season, which at least equals the first-day kill of last year.

The other top deer for the county also weighed 164 pounds and had an eight-point rack. He was the prize of Robert DiGioia, Westernport.

Garrett Stations Report 205 Deer
Storey's checked in 43 deer, and the Savage River Inn at Bloomington, tallied ten. Edward's Garage, Grantsville, checked in 90 deer and Bob's Sport Shop, Oakland, had 60 head, for a total of 205.

Rhodes, Mt. Lake Park, visited Mr. and Mrs. William White, Saturday.

State's Share of Defense Contracts Increased in '69

Maryland firms received more than $731 million in Department of Defense military procurement prime contract awards during Fiscal year 1969, the Maryland Department of Economic Development reported.

The State's total of $731,282,000

Top deer at Grantsville was a 158-pounder shot by Irvin Platter, Grantsville. The largest deer seen at Oakland was one weighing 157 pounds, shot by William Janoske.

The heaviest deer killed in either county weighed 165 pounds, and was killed in Allegany county. A 12-point, 126-pounder had the largest rack of horns, and it also was checked in Allegany county.

in work orders was made up of $151,087,000, Army; $330,422,000, Navy; $214,106,000, Air Force; and $35,667,000 from the Defense Supply Agency. This represented 2.1 percent of the total contracts let which was an increase over the 1.9 percent Maryland received in the previous fiscal year. Maryland's total in Fiscal Year 1968 was $703,514,000.

Although the awards were made to Maryland firms they do not in any way reflect the distribution of the amount of material and component fabrication and other subcontract work that may be done outside the State in connection with the contracts.

The information concerning the Maryland firms was listed in the Defense Industry Bulletin, November, 1969.

Twenty young persons were convicted of kidnapping members of a state college faculty and holding them at knifepoint.

Schools To Open Big Season

Robert Foley.

The Huskies have five seniors on the starting lineup, George Seggie, Gregg Hinebaugh, Larry Bender, Larry Brenneman and Eddie Bach. All were regulars last year with the exception of Seggie, who moved to the community during the summer. They had an 18-0 record in county play last year and reached the district finals by trouncing Middletown 66 to 62, only to lose out to Valley High 56 to 41 in the district finals at Cumberland. They had won the "B" title over Southern previously by a score of 77 to 58. The Huskies lost Gary Reichenbecher, district high scorer, by graduation.

An unusual situation exists in the county in that brothers are coaching the two teams. Tom Kuhn is coach of the Southern Rams while Ronnie Kuhn is coach of the Northern Huskies. This should cause added interest for the Northern-Southern home and home series, if that is possible.

This year Southern will be in class "B" for district championships, while Northern will be playing this year in class "C"; according to recent rules changes.

St. Nicholas: Religion Vs. Business
By Bob Paugh

At this time of year one can walk into any department store and see children flocking to sit on the knee of jolly St. Nicholas. This is a bunch of rubbish! According to the World Book Encyclopedia, St. Nicholas was a generous bishop of the fourth century A.D. He is observed in Holland as the patron saint of the country, not an "anxious" businessman hounding "money" up and down on his knee.

And going still further into the legend of St. Nicholas, December 25, holds no truly valid meaning in this life. It is December 6, that people hold as the time for feasting in his honor. In any case, no matter what the date, somehow business has used a purely religious figure to boost sales during the Christmas season.

It is also obvious that business has taken the true meaning of the giving of gifts and turned it into a huge money-making gimmick. By staging huge pre-Christmas sales, the stores make larger profits and at the same time, the average person buys because of the bargain, and not for the actual gift-giving reason. This year, Christmas will be yet another battle between religion and business.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor Hanst,

We wish to thank the people who personally and through many organizations are putting their money on the line to support Scouting in Deep Creek District. Our Potomac Council Finance Commissioner, Maurice Brookhart, has told the District Committee that our goal for its share in the Council budget is not going to be easily reached. It is, as you know, more than $2,000 for 1969.

We want the parents of boys to know that the Council is giving professional help to our District Scout leaders to develop a good program in Scouting for Cub Scouts and Explorers. Plans are already made to begin leader training in Cubbing early in January. Training plans for leaders in Scout troops will be pushed also and an active explorer program is anticipated.

The Scout finance canvass in the District is not yet completed, but we are fortunate in the men working at this job and believe Deep Creek District Scouters will come very close to the goal. And the results of the people's giving are going to be good in our community.

Walter W. Price, Chairman

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

Agnew Is The One . . .

For years, millions of Americans have been hoping that someone near the top of the government would speak out against the appalling misuse of broadcasting freedom and cite the censorship and thought-control attempted by the liberal commentators who dominate the "news" programs of the networks. At last, the people have found a spokesman in Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

In one of the clearest, most accurate and well-documented speeches by any national leader in years, Mr. Agnew described the way in which a handful of arrogant commentators exercise unconscionable power over opinion-making in the United States and how they have become a force with which to reckon.

The networks have replied to the Vice President by charging him with asking for censorship. He did no such thing, of course. On the contrary, he demonstrated that there is today a very real censorship in effect on television and radio—a censorship exercised by the newscasters who are liberals almost to a man.

The arrogance of the liberal commentators long has troubled thoughtful Americans. Year by year, this arrogance has increased to the point where a President of the United States cannot communicate with the American people without an anvil chorus of liberal critics immediately chopping up his talk with instant criticism.

Mr. Agnew didn't ask that the networks abandon criticism. He simply stated that it is proper for the networks to do as the newspapers do—separate fact and editorial opinion, that is. The networks, however, invariably mix opinion with the news. They have the capacity to discredit a proposal by a lifted eyebrow or a half-smile on the commentator's face. They also have the power to take a nonentity such as Stokely Carmichael and make him into a major public figure.

Southerners have not forgotten how the television newscasters have abused and distorted their region over the last 15 years, presenting the South as a backward region of heartless people. Today, on television, only the Southerner is presented in terms of a vicious stereotype, as a drawing illiterate. The news directors' use of isolated, sleepy hamlets to portray the towns of a modern, hard-working region of the nation—this is part of the shameful story of television.

No one expects newscasters to be men without personal conviction. They have a right to their views, as do reporters on newspapers. But a newspaper reporter strives to keep his personal views out of accounts of actual happenings. The rules of printed journalism stress the importance of objectivity, but

Cycle of the Coal Hod

You may call it a hod or a scuttle, but in Finzel it was always termed a coal bucket. As the Finzels themselves and many of their neighbors were German, this seems unusual, for the real word hod derives from an old Dutch word hoddle, or basket, and its combination with the High German hottle. Whatever its name, it was a sturdy tool, most often ridged, in galvanized aluminum, but with a black ancestor of heavy iron, which is so widely copied for the crowd's imitation of an antique. With winter's arrival it swung from your arm as a daily task was the newscasters apparently don't believe that objectivity is an important journalistic virtue.

The networks have an obligation to the public, an obligation they have not met. The reference here is to the duty to tell things as they happen without running the facts through a filter of prejudice. In the case of the speeches of the President of the United States, no matter who may occupy the office, decency and respect for the elected leader of the American people requires that he be allowed to speak to the nation without being followed up immediately by an assembled band of critics who are primed to go to work on the Chief Executive's address.

Beyond this, the networks must police themselves so that there won't be any more of the type of thought-control they have engaged in for years. Examples of this are the coverage of the war in Vietnam and the handling of the Chicago riots in 1968.

Insofar as the Vietnam War is concerned, the newscasters played a major role in causing many people to believe the U.S. couldn't win. Innumerable telecasts stressed what the newscasters regarded as the hopelessness of the conflict. These reports engendered defeatism and encouraged the New Left at home.

With regard to the Chicago riots, the police were virtually on trial on the networks. So-called "news" reports on TV became occasions for downgrading law enforcement agencies and for presenting street revolutionaries as idealists.

That sort of thing has got to stop. In his criticism Vice President Agnew was articulating the deeply held beliefs of millions of viewers.

being done. Only with all of the coal buckets full could a country youngster cast off his outdoor wraps and call it a day, this being before the modern idea of dumping the coal supply into a cellar bin.

Now my coal hod (really a bucket to me), rescued from the ignominious fate of the scrap iron heap, stands by the new hearth, where its usefulness continues as a bearer of chips or small kindling and the holder of waste ashes to carry and dump outside. We thus have the distinct advantage of a full bucket of ashes when some unlucky traveler gets stuck in the snow and needs their traction.

When spring means all efforts to outside labor, the coal bucket quickly loses glamor to become the very best container for small amounts of earth to pack beside a struggling bush or into new flower roots. You can shovel in an abundant amount; be it even hard to carry, it slips out in one short dump, and this to a do-it-yourself digger is a mighty saver. Six pieces of substantial sod can be lifted in and carried to a poor part of the lawn, with no loss of earth through holes. And the handle—well, only a city gardener wants a plastic bucket which balks, bulges, and may easily tear its handle. Coal buckets seem to have enduring handles; you may damage the bucket, but its handle doesn't pull out.

It is possible to pick rocks or rake gravel on a lazy man's schedule, as one bucketful accumulates in a very short time, so the carrier may take a breather after he has filled once and dumped. I know that many broken bits of glass have traveled to the junk pile in a coal hod, as you merely lift, dump, and take home a clean holder.

Now comes autumn, when a few dahlia bulbs or chrysanthemum roots will quickly find themselves conveyed away in the coal hod. After such heavy chores, it is then ready for honor. Out comes the scouring powder and blackening spray, and a new-looking coal bucket again resumes its sentry duty by the fireplace.

The greatest thing about it is the idea it generates in any onlooker who has ever sat by a nickel-plated, lacy black iron Columbian Star or Columbian Choice in some toasting kitchen, letting the warm waves preserved for millions of years exude through every inner part of his being. And if you were ever really cold and allowed the

Select Enterprising 4-H'ers To Attend National Meet

Horses and tractors carried two enterprising Cecil County 4-H youths to state honors, and two Baltimore County 4-H'ers found their way to state fame with photographic and electric skills. They will attend the National 4-H Congress at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago Nov. 30-Dec. 4.

Kalli Pappas, Robert Durgin, Debbie Kenney, and David N. Sellers, are among 1,650 youths from all over the United States and Puerto Rico to be so honored.

Miss Pappas, 17, is the daughter of Mrs. Carol Diehl of Elkton. In the 4-H Horse project, she has owned, raised, and trained for hunting and showing a total of six horses.

Miss Pappas raised one foal from infancy, and trained it to be a hunter. She has received county championship awards for eight years, and a reserve grand championship medal at the state fair for horsemanship.

Last summer, along with a friend, she set up a riding school for younger children. Her Chicago trip is provided by Merck & Co., Inc., sponsor of the national 4-H Horse program.

Durgin, 19, a freshman at the University of Maryland, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durgin of Rising Sun. He claimed the 4-H Petroleum Power award.

He won county medals for the past five years for his tractor work. He has competed in numerous tractor driving contests. Durgin said

He found that the parts called for were custom-made and he had to buy substitute parts. "The hardest task was locating some of the substitutes," he says.

Sellers' trip to Chicago will be funded by Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Debbie Kenney, 17, winner of the photography award, showed a display of color photographs so professional in quality that they have already won her several honors.

Miss Kenney, a high school senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Kenney of White Marsh.

She says she undertook the photography project "because I have always had a special interest in the field."

Miss Kenney's photographs won a series of first prizes at the state fair. One of the winning displays was a series of four pictures of the same tree in typical seasonal weather.

"To finish my project," she says, "I needed a photo during a snow storm. It came one morning, but to my disappointment, when I arrived to take the picture, it quit snowing. I just had to keep on waiting." The series took a year to photograph.

Her trip is sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company.

These four state award winners are eligible to compete for $800 scholarships offered to national winners by their program sponsors.

Judges of the Cooperative Extension Service selected Maryland's project winners.

Additional Adult Education Courses

More adult education classes are to be offered in the county, it was announced this week by A. B. Dean, supervisor of pupil personnel.

He said the Board of Education now had a person well qualified to teach sewing and that a course would be offered at Southern High school. A course in Equivalence Review will be offered at the Jennings center. This is a course, he explained, which is designed to help those persons who are preparing to take the Maryland High School Equivalence test.

A crafts course in woodcarving will be offered at the Crafts Center in Penn Alps, just east of Grantsville.

An adult speech education class will be offered at Southern. The title is Forms of Public Speaking, and deals with principles of effective speaking and how to prepare and deliver effective speeches.

Mr. Dean said the class was intended primarily to meet the needs of mature business and professional men and women who are interested in improving their abilities to meet various speaking occasions.

Persons interested should contact Mr. Dean at the Board of Education office or secure an enrollment form from any school. Enrollment should be in by December 12. Since the courses aren't listed on the enrollment form those applying would write in the name of the desired course at the bottom of the form.

Classes are scheduled to begin during the week of January 5.

Q. You sent my son a letter about his failure to file a 1968 tax return. Can he wait until he gets back from his military duty in Vietnam before filing it?

A. Yes, if he was on active duty when the return was due, he may postpone filing his income tax return until 180 days after leaving Vietnam. Notify the IRS office which sent the letter to your son about his combat duty.

Q. Our local fire department had a raffle on a new car recently. Can I deduct the tickets I bought on the car as a charitable contribution? I didn't win.

A. No, the cost of the raffle tickets you bought are not deductible as contributions. The cost of such tickets is only deductible to the extent of your winnings. If you had won the car, you could deduct the cost of your tickets, but the fair market value of the car would have to be included in income.

Q. Since my divorce, I've continued to support my children even though my ex-wife has custody. Can I continue my withholding exemptions for them?

A. If you are entitled to claim the children as dependents, you may take their exemptions for withholding purposes. For more details, ask for Publication 501, Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents, free at your local IRS office.

Q. Do you have to withhold Social Security tax on money given a maid for carfare?

A. Yes, the Social Security tax applies to the total cash paid a household employee, even though some is paid for the transportation.

Tax payments for the July, August and September quarter are due October 31. Any person who has paid $50 or more cash wages in a quarter to an employee for household services (cleaning, gardening, etc.) must Details on this provision of the tax law are contained in Publication 547, Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses and Thefts. A copy may be obtained at your local IRS office.

Tax payments for the July, August and September quarter are due October 31. Any person who has paid $50 or more cash wages in a quarter to an employee for household services (cleaning, gardening, etc.) must file a return using Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.

Q. I've got an opportunity to get a better job, but it will mean moving to another city. If my moving expenses aren't paid by my company, can I deduct them?

A. If you move to take a job with a new employer or are transferred by your present employer, moving expenses are deductible when certain conditions are met. These conditions are the 20-mile distance and the 39-week employment requirements.

The first requires that your new place of employment be at least twenty miles further away from your old home than your previous job was.

If your old job was eight miles from your old home, your new job would have to be at least 28 miles from that residence to qualify.

The second requires that you work full time in the new area at least 39 weeks during the 12-month period following your move.

Q. If I itemize, can I deduct the cost of hunting and fishing licenses?

A. No, these are not deductible for Federal income tax purposes.

Q. What's the deadline for paying my maid's Social Security tax?

A. Taxes for the third quarter covering July, August, and September are due October 31 and should be paid by filing a Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.

Q. I've been taking a tax deduction for the cost of clearing out the drainage ditches on my farm while my neighbor has been capitalizing his costs for doing the same thing. Who is right?

A. Soil and water conservation costs such as these may either be deducted within limits or capitalized depending on how you decide to handle them the first year. Once this decision is made, continue to handle these expenses that way or obtain the written permission of IRS to change.

Q. When a person dies, what happens if there had been income tax withheld on his salary during the year?

A. An income tax return must be filed for the deceased taxpayer if his gross income for the year was $600 or more (and $1,200 if the taxpayer was 65 or over.)

The withheld taxes you asked about will be applied against whatever tax liability may exist for the decedent. Any excess will be refunded. For more information, a copy of Publication 559, Federal Tax Guide for Survivors, Executors and Administrators, may be obtained at your local IRS office.

The Wreckers

A nation lives and dies by the values to which it subscribes. Material things count, of course, but without the values of loyalty, faith, and dedication to national goals even the wealthiest state cannot long endure.

The truth of this was much on the minds of the American people this past summer as they think of crime and disorder in the land and of the twisting and debasement of values at some of the most famous educational institutions in the country. The values by which the American Republic has lived are under attack as never before in our country's history.

This is the time of the outrageous statement. Whitney Young, head of the Urban League, says that America has lived a lie. The valedictorian at Princeton University called his country sick. Harvard University permitted an SDS fanatic to talk at its commencement. The chaplain of Yale University gives favorable mention to the idea of insurrection.

Truly, America is being undermined from within—undermined by people who enjoy all the benefits of American freedom and prosperity and who expect to continue to be subsidized by the people.

A band of politicians who question America's role and values seek every opportunity to downgrade their fellow citizens in uniform. Loud complaints are made when there is an "over-run"—a higher cost—in a defense program. But they don't say a word in criticism of the endless "overruns" in welfare spending.

Liberals angrily complain about discrimination, and then do their utmost to perpetuate the 1965 Voter Act which was conceived in prejudice against seven Southern states. The liberals argue for equal protection of the law in civil rights cases, but desire unequal application of the law against one region of the United States—the South.

Values are twisted on every front. While American servicemen are exposed to communist bullets in Vietnam, Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.) holds a secret meeting with North Vietnamese representatives and then emerges to blast American military resistance to the V. C. and the North Vietnamese regulars.

Parents try to teach their children moral values. Then the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington decides that a federal Civil Service employee may not be fired on the grounds that he is a sexual pervert.

Millions of Americans work hard and practice self-reliance. But in Richmond, Va., members of a so-called welfare rights organization demand $7,000 free each year from their fellow citizens.

Responsible Americans know that the safety of the American people in an age of aggression requires that the nation's brainpower be fully utilized for defense purposes. But at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology faculty members in large numbers protest against university-based defense research. They apparently are unconcerned about the research progress of the Soviet Union—research oriented towards destruction of free nations.

Religious faith is the foundation of the moral order. But politically-minded churchmen undermine faith by urging civil disobedience and by using church funds to sponsor groups that create strife. Witness many actions taken by the National Council of Churches, for instance.

Developments of this sort have profoundly shocked and justifiably angered many good Americans. Adults see young people being exposed to hurtful and destructive influences, their taxes and their private contributions used to promote causes and fund programs that weaken the nation and confuse its people.

What kind of nation would we have if the Harvard-Yale-MIT-Berkeley liberal-left mentality took root in this country, if apologists for marijuana influenced the writing of laws, if military service were scorned and rejected, if defense research were stopped, if sit-ins were tolerated in every local government office, if marches filled all our streets, and if every person disinclined to work were given a guaranteed annual income?

The answer is that we wouldn't have a country. The American Republic would collapse. It would fall apart in an orgy of anarchy. Perhaps that's what is secretly desired by those who twist established moral values and the decent

The Ubiquitous SBA

Under new management the Small Business Administration expands in many directions.

In fact, it might now be called the ubiquitous SBA. Anyone wanting to try out their Funk & Wagnalls on this one, will note that one definition of the word is being "everywhere at the same time."

And in fact, SBA does now seem to be everywhere at the same time, with the exception of aiding small business during a time of one of its greatest crises brought about by tight money and high interest rates.

Apparently unable to accomplish anything in the area for which it was set up, in the time honored strategy of all bureaucracy, SBA now seeks to justify its salary roll with delving into other areas.

In a report following detailed study, the SBA finds that crime costs business three billion dollars per year. This is from robbery, looting, arson, vandalism and other practices.

The report does state that 68 per cent of this total loss is borne by small business. After all, it is perhaps the thought that anything the SBA goes into should have a small business look.

The SBA report does say that the biggest loss is from burglary totaling $805 million. Robbery losses are fairly low, according to this report totaling only $77 million.

© National Federation of Independent Business

But losses from what is termed vandalism are up to a staggering $813 million. This includes destruction of premises, looting, other depredations that largely occur during rioting.

Now it is not being inferred that at any point does SBA uphold crime.

But SBA does not hesitate to jump into the controversy of soft versus hard law enforcement. The report says "a number of riots in which small business has been heavily damaged have resulted from shooting by police of looters or other persons engaged in criminal acts."

This, the SBA seems to deplore, saying "Actually there are many occasions when the use of a lethal bullet to stop a person in flight is not necessary." Thus, SBA now joins the ranks of those who safely covering behind locked doors do not hesitate to loudly state how police should act in a crisis.

But SBA does have a different angle, and at the same time injects itself into weaponry development. It is recommending the development of a "non-lethal" bullet. Apparently SBA envisions some sort of a bullet that when fired by an officer at someone poised to throw a fire bomb will not injure the criminal, but will merely sharply injure him so as to prevent him to drop the bomb. Where, oh where, was such SBA ingenuity when the ABM debate was raging?

A Chicago mother and her four children died in an apartment fire. Some 219 West Virginia coal mines were closed following surprise inspection visits. Sirhan B. Sirhan has completed six months on San Quentin's death row.

Plan Ahead When Calling Vietnam

Western Marylanders were advised today by the Telephone Company to plan ahead if they wish to talk during the coming holiday season to relatives or friends stationed in Vietnam.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said E. R. Bare, Division Manager for the C. and P. Telephone Company here. "And to avoid disappointments, servicemen are encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays."

Mr. Bare said that more than 42,000 calls were completed between the United States and Vietnam last year. Most of the calls, he added, were made from Vietnam rather than the U. S.

"The heavy concentration of so many troops in a small country at war creates some real communications problems," Mr. Bare said.

"Travel restrictions and curfews in Saigon complicate the task of locating servicemen to take telephone calls. When a call is made to Saigon it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he can be reached.

Until 1967, Mr. Bare said, servicemen could call home only from Saigon. Calls now can be placed from hospitals and bases in Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Rahn Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon, and Da Nang.

U. S. callers, however, can reach only telephones in Saigon and the immediate vicinity.

He pointed out that Saigon time is 13 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time.

There are now 10 circuits available for Vietnam service, and they generally are open 12 to 15 hours a day. The circuits go by ocean cable or satellite to Hong Kong and the rest of the way by high frequency radio. The calling hours are not continuous, because radio circuits between Saigon and Hong Kong are subject to interference several hours a day.

The first three minutes of a station-to-station call between the U. S. and Vietnam is $9. A person-to-person call costs $12 for the first three minutes. The additional minute rate for both station and person calls is $3.

Conflict Of Interest?

What sordid and sanctimonious arguments, for the most part reeking of political expediency, some Senators used in trying to justify opposition to Judge Clement Haynsworth's nomination as an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

Remember such charges as, "conflict of interest," "questionable ethics," or, "anti-labor"? There were other trumped up excuses that a few of the worthy solons handled about. Now, thanks to an action promised by Senator Paul J. Fannin (R-Ariz.), the entire nation may have the opportunity to look at some genuine "conflicts of interest" and "questionable ethics" among the very Senators who so ruthlessly pilloried a distinguished jurist. Their reasons, we suspect, were other than the ones they cited.

What is the more heinous conduct, a learned judge ruling in accordance with the precepts of law and the Constitution, or a Senator who votes in accordance with the arrogant dictates of organized labor leaders?

The power to buy is the power to control. How many union dollars wrung from members, often against their will, have been poured into Senate races? Or, to delve more deeply into this morass of special privilege, how many millions of untaxed dollars will organized labor spend to insure victory for all of the candidates it favors, from aldermen to President?

We have heard much regarding a tax reform bill. Closing loopholes, so we've been assured, is high on the list of priorities. Already the Washington boys have set their sights on tax exempt state and municipal bonds, on exemptions enjoyed by certain foundations, and on mineral depletion allowances. Well, how about the strange silence about the tax exemption conferred upon labor unions who can—and do—win elections with their limitless and unlevied wealth?

Why, when the Senate Finance Committee met recently did it kill an amendment that sought to knock the unions off their free ride? Actually, it isn't a free ride. It is probably the most expensive one ever taken, if the loss of good government is a cost item. It is Senator Fannin who proposed this amendment to his fellow committee members. When it was rejected by a tie vote, Senator Fannin said he would offer his amendment from the Senate floor. This will give the full Senate an opportunity to vote on whether or not the powerful unions should be blessed with tax exemptions while they traffic in politics and politicians.

Corporations can't spend money for political purposes.

That is proper. It is not proper when unions, with their tax-free dollars, can not only make or break a public office seeker or office-holder, but can dictate the fate of legislation. Not being privy to the deliberations of the Senate Finance Committee, we don't know what motivated a negative vote on Senator Fannin's amendment. It would be interesting to hear an explanation.

How can any man in the Senate accept the financial and political support of labor bosses, how supinely to their whimpering, then question the ethics of Judge Haynsworth?

Elizabeth Taylor plans a television debut with a one-hour dramatic special to be broadcast during 1970 or 1971.

Nor can one assume that the influence of labor dollars is evident only in the great industrial states or in those with teeming urban centers. Ah, no. A bought and paid-for legislator from a rural state can be a useful tool in the Congress, and the labor boys who help put him there drive a hard bargain.

The unions are even now hard at work in their campaigns to gain greater domination of Congress in 1970. When Senators vote on the Fannin amendment, we'll wager the "ayes" and "nays" won't be too unlike the alignment in the Haynsworth matter. Integrity? Conflict of interest? Come now, gentlemen.—W. L. Thornton, President, Southern States Industrial Council.

The Maryland Constitution specifies legislators cannot conduct any business until they have disposed of the vetoes. No action is tantamount to approval of the vetoes.

Of the 31 bills vetoed by Mandel at least two are likely to be subject to prolonged debate. One prohibits any store using game or contest for the purpose of promotion. The other would permit revocation of senatorial scholarships of any persons who participated in a campus protest or disorder.

Mandel vetoed the bill that would have permitted revocation of senatorial scholarships to students taking part in campus disorders because he said it was too vague.

Legislature Called In Special Session

Legislature Called

Governor Marvin Mandel will convene a special session of the general assembly on Tuesday, December 16, it was announced. He hopes the legislators can complete their work in no more than two days.

The purpose is to authorize the use of surplus state funds for capital improvement projects and also to lift that 5 percent interest rate ceiling on state bonds.

Maryland failed to sell construction bonds within the 5 percent framework and some projects are threatened with shutdown unless more money can be found.

Before a special session can deal with the crisis it was summoned to ease, it first must decide what it plans to do with the bills vetoed by Mandel following the 1969 session.

ROTC Scholarships Still Available

It's not too late to apply for an Army ROTC four-year college scholarship. Deadline for sending in an application is January 15. Winners will be announced in the Spring.

Young men who are high school seniors and motivated toward an Army career are eligible to apply for one of the 1200 scholarships. The scholarship may be used at any of the 277 colleges and universities in the United States offering the four-year Army ROTC program.

Scholarship winners receive their full tuition, textbook costs and laboratory fees, plus a $50 per month allowance for the full four years. Winners may select academic courses in the field of their choice—the only additional requirement being the completion of officer training subjects. Upon graduation, they are commissioned second lieutenants in the Army and fulfill their military obligation by serving four years on active duty.

High school seniors, their parents or teachers may obtain more information by writing: ROTC Scholarships, Fort Meade, Md. 20755.

Sixteen Are Killed On State Highways

Sixteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly review published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers, five were passengers, and three were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in five, and "driver error" in all but two.

"Over the past week-end an accident on the Kennedy Highway claimed six lives," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police, "and the spectacular circumstances surrounding this accident certainly made most motorists take a second look, at least momentarily, at our highway safety situation."

"The great majority of fatal accidents do not, of course, have the same dramatic impact and we tend to become too complacent about those accidents which take just one or two lives. This is a very unrealistic attitude. The overall seriousness of motor vehicle use, which takes so many lives every day of the year, cannot be measured in this way."

Bob Hope received the VFW gold medal for "dedication to service to veterans and servicemen."

Lt. Governor Bill Okayed by Council

The Legislative Council held its final session prior to the meeting of the General Assembly on January 21, at Annapolis during the past week. The Legislative Council approved a bill that will be presented to the legislature calling for the selection of a lieutenant governor in the November, 1970 election.

The 1969 General Assembly among others, approved a constitutional amendment calling for the election of a lieutenant governor. That particular bill, if approved, would not have become effective until 1974, but the council's approval last Wednesday would hasten by four years the creation of this position, if passed.

The council also approved revisions of a proposed constitutional amendment which the voters will act upon next Nov., that would create a district court system.

The major change in the district court system proposed was to replace the appointive system of judges with the present one requiring their election at ten and 15-year intervals.

The amendment proposed by the 1969 General Assembly would have had the governor initially appointing all sitting judges every ten or fifteen years, depending on whether they were in the district court or one of the upper levels of the judiciary.

The council also approved a committee report calling for legislation that would increase the "take" at race tracks from the present 13 percent to 14 percent with the additional money going to purses and as an incentive to breeders.

The council tossed out a measure that would hold out on incentive for the three mile tracks in Maryland to consolidate to one or two locations.

A tentative code of ethics approved by the council would create a committee on ethics of both houses of the legislature and establish firm guidelines for what constitutes conflict of interest on the part of a legislator. The council rejected a measure that would have established a similar code for school teachers.

When Should We Decide About Religion?

Some things are absolutely essential to manhood. One of them is knowing how to tie a necktie.

Obviously any ability must be acquired before there are regular demands for its use. That's why someone else decided that we must learn to tie our own tie.

All religious education is built on the same principle. Faith and moral understanding must be gained before doubt and temptation are encountered. Our parents, our Church train us for constructive living.

Of course, there is nothing illogical in the oft-heard contention that, when a person is old enough, he can make up his own mind about religion.

That's exactly what millions of us have done!

But in almost every case our parents gave us adequate and continuing preparation for that decision. With the guidance of the Church we learned the value of faith and spiritual perception. Then we were able to make our vital decision from knowledge and experience!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE STRANGE WAY

Lesson for December 7, 1969

Background Scripture: Isaiah 9:2-7, 11:1-10, 52:13 through 53:12, 61:1-3, Isaiah 52-4.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:1-3.

Recently a little boy caused a furor in the toy department of a large department store when he walked up to the Santa Claus there and punched him in the nose. "I told you I wanted a bicycle," he shouted, "not a scooter, you idiot!"

That little boy is like many of us: we do not like to be disappointed when we have set our hearts upon something. We know what we want and close our eyes to anything else that might be offered in its place. We reject any substitutes.

The rejected Messiah

This is what happened when Jesus came into the world. He was God's most wonderful gift to men, yet many rejected him because he did not fit the description of the messenger from God whom they were looking for. What they were expecting was someone who would bring back their freedom and sovereignty. The man to bring this about, they reasoned, would have to be a man of power, one who could force the nations to respect them. Jesus did not fit that description.

The prophet Isaiah had foreseen the need for the kind of ministry which Jesus performed. His fifty-third chapter is a description of just such a suffering servant. Instead of being a handsome leader, the servant of God would be a man without beauty. Instead of one who would be admired and accepted, he would be "despised and rejected." Not a man of obvious personal success, he would be "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." Not a conqueror who subjects his foes, God's servant would be one who "was oppressed." Strangest of all, instead of punishing others for their sins, he himself would be punished for the sins of others.

The servant Messiah

We can understand why the "suffering servant" of Isaiah 53 was hardly a popular concept with the Jews. How could they ever win back their self-respect with that kind of image? How could they prevail over their enemies with such a cowardly approach? What would this ever bring them but more suffering and humiliation?

Yet, in Isaiah's prophecy there are two new and startling ideas that actually provide the answers to all these questions.

Sovereignty through servanthood!

Victory through defeat! Although the prophet wrote of the "suffering servant" more than twenty-seven hundred years ago, these two concepts still strike men as "new and startling ideas." Like the people of Judah, most of us look to physical force as the only means of establishing authority and order. The image of the "suffering servant" is no more popular with us than it was when these words were first written.

Nevertheless, Isaiah knew the fullness of force. He knew it could not accomplish long-lasting results. Try to force your ideas on someone and often, no matter how good the idea is, they will resist it. The Jews had not been able to force anyone else to worship their God and live by his laws. Their military power never converted anyone.

The victorious servant

Isaiah pointed to a revolutionary new way to bring their enemies to God: victorious suffering. What this means is to suffer willingly for the sake of someone else. Instead of impressing their foes with the power of their hatred and violence (their enemies were really better at this anyway), they would witness with the strength of their service. In the long run, their suffering servant would be more powerful than anyone's hate.

A strange way to conquer, is it not? Yet, this is God's way and, because it is, it was also Christ's way. This is how he conquered. It is also the way he set before us. Are we any closer to accepting that way today than were those who rejected him when he came among us almost twenty centuries ago?

RUBBER REPAIRS

CAN YOUR FEET TAKE 65,000 MILES?

The average American will walk that many miles in a lifetime. In addition to this his feet are subject to rubbing, scuffing, scraping and kicks, as well as being exposed to the elements—rain, heat and cold. Add to this the daily friction building up heat inside the shoes and normal flexing that takes place.

It is easy to see that, to stand the strain over the years, you must take extra special care of your feet. We have a complete Foot-Care Department in our pharmacy to help you with everyday foot needs. For special problems with your feet we always recommend you consult with your doctor or podiatrist.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

One of the most controversial pieces of legislation to come before the Congress in a long time was the Gun Control Act of 1968 which was passed last year. As a result of its passage regulations were promulgated by the Treasury Department for administrative procedures. Among these regulations was the requirement that shopkeepers maintain a record of persons to whom they sold shot gun and rifle ammunition and component parts thereof.

This is a very cumbersome sort of thing and many people in the Congress have felt that it created an enormous unnecessary administrative burden, not only on the Treasury Department, but on fire arms dealers and more particularly on the nation's sportsmen who use this type of ammunition. It was also felt that this type of record keeping did not contribute in any way to an increase in public safety. The Congress last week attached an amendment to another piece of legislation that changes the Gun Control Act of 1968, so that no person holding a federal license to sell ammunition is required to record the name and address or other information about the purchaser of shot gun or rifle ammunition. This amendment does not apply, of course, to any of the restrictions with respect to the sale of ammunition for hand guns or sales to felons, drug addicts, or mental incompetents.

The ammunition affected is of particular interest to hunters, trap shooters, and sportsmen. It has no significant history of criminal use and has mainly been used by the ordinary citizen interested in outdoor recreation. The ammunition is sold all over the United States, not only in big sporting goods stores but also at service stations and crossroad stores. The purpose of the amendment, as adopted last week by the House, is to relieve the dealers from a burdensome record keeping requirement. It will save law abiding hunters and other sportsmen from embarrassment and annoyance of identifying themselves and from having to furnish other information with respect to the purchase of items of ordinary commerce.

It should also be pointed out that the requirements were so burdensome and there was so much paper work involved that the Treasury Department has repeatedly asserted in testimony, before Congressional Committees, that the records are of no significant value in crime deterrence or in apprehending criminal suspects.

The Congress therefore went a little way in removing at least one unnecessary burden imposed by previous legislative action.

A Call For Patience...

We were contemplating the demonstrations in many of our cities that call for President Nixon to cut and run from Vietnam and let the nation fall into the hands of North Vietnamese and their fellow communists in the south known as the Viet Cong and we thought of an editorial that is in the December 1969, Reader's Digest.

Space will not allow a full reprint of the editorial, but we think that everyone who has doubts about our commitments in Southeast Asia should read the piece and consider the wisdom of its words.

The Digest notes the restraint with which the war has been conducted. Despite that restraint, "The Vietcong guerrillas control less and less of the countryside, and the North Vietnamese armies are feeling the heavy drain on their manpower. That the United States is able to order the withdrawal of 60,000 troops from Vietnam—with more to come—shows that our position is increasingly strong. The leaders of the communist world know that time is no longer on their side.

"Why, then, do they continue to hold out? Where do they look

Jno. Tamburini, 36, Years Postmaster In Bayard, Retires

John J. Tamburini, who retired not long ago as postmaster at Bayard, has many activities planned to fill up his spare time.

Mr. Tamburini, who held his job as postmaster for the past 36 years, has a trailer out to maintain a number of homes he rents and also five antique cars to keep in shape. His oldest car is a 1927 model Chevrolet.

Mr. Tamburini, a native of Bayard who was born in a house across the street from where he now lives, operated a general store in Bayard for years and also worked part time as cashier in the First National Bank, of which his father was president. The bank failed, along with other banks in West Virginia, during the depression.

He became postmaster November 23, 1933 and retired October 31 of this year. Last Thursday Morris G. Richardson, postal service officer for Cumberland and Petersburg sectional centers, paid a visit to the retiring postmaster to congratulate him on his many years of service. He also presented Mr. Tamburini with the Post Office Department service award for "dedicated service during an honorable career in the United States Government."

He also presented Mr. Tamburini with a letter of commendation from Carl C. Ulasker, regional director, Washington.

William J. Fulk will be the officer in charge of the post office and will conduct postal operations until a postmaster is named.

for hope of victory? As they survey the scene of battle, the North Vietnamese leaders and their Soviet and Chinese allies do not yet despair, for they know there still remains one resource that can tip the scale in their favor.

That "resource" is the demonstrator. The article puts it quite candidly. "To the enemy the constant outcries in the United States must sound like so many bombs being dropped against our troops in South Vietnam. The anti-war speeches in Congress, the campus protests from students and faculty, the barrage of defeatist editorials in some of the most powerful newspapers, these are worth regiments and whole divisions to the enemy. He reads his newspaper, hears the broadcasts, rubs his hands and once more refuses to talk in Paris, refuses to call his invaders back from South Vietnam.

"Were it not for his belief that the American patience will crack, the enemy would lose his reason to keep on fighting. What better argument could one present in favor of patience? Men are dying for us in Vietnam. Let us not make their deaths an effort in vain.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Use of germ warfare was denounced by President Nixon; stocks are to be scrapped.

Not All Bad...

"Christ climbed down from His bare tree this year and ran away to where there were no rootless Christmas trees hung with candy canes and breakable stars," writes Lawrence Ferlinghetti, the modern poet.

And as we rush, credit card in hand, to do some last-minute shopping we are inclined to agree with his cynicism. Christmas is indeed just getting too commercial, we tell ourselves and all who will listen. By the time "this holy tide of Christmas doth bring redeeming grace", we are too exhausted or broke to care about the reason for Christ-mass, much less its redeeming grace.

But then, is there no good thing we can say about the manner in which modern man observes the pre-Christmas period? Christmas lights and decorations can transform even the bleakest street, and when the tree goes up and is lighted, many a living room takes on a glow of warmth that seems to help the whole family's spirits.

Yes, there really is such a thing as the Christmas spirit, which Christians should be able to recognize as being of the Holy Spirit.

He is evident in the smiles, the greetings, the in-

Freeway Schedule In County To Be In Three Sections

The National Freeway schedule was explained further at a meeting of officials from Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties at a meeting held last Friday at the Ali Ghan Shrine club near Cumberland. The program to the Garrett County line was outlined last week.

The schedule for work in this county was set as follows:

From the Allegany county line to the Pig Ears road, just west of 219 at the 219-route 40 intersection east of Grantsville, to be completed in 1970; from that point to the Keyser ridge area in 1971, and from Keyser Ridge to the West Virginia line in 1972.

The County Commissioners, who attended the session, told the state roads commission to give route 135 top priority in county construction work. They also called attention of SRC officials to the poor condition of routes 495, 560 and 39, and that all of them needed attention. Also attending the meeting was Delegate B. O. Aiken.

Family Burned Out

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Freeland, Third street, in Terra Alta, was completely destroyed by fire about 12:30 Monday morning.

Mr. Freeland was not at home at the time but Mrs. Freeland and their three children managed to escape in their night clothing. The loss was estimated at about $4,000 and there was no insurance.

Terra Alta authorities announced that the family was in need of clothing and furniture.

Two Juvenile Cases Heard Last Week

Two juvenile cases were heard in the juvenile court last Thursday at the Court House in Oakland. Both individuals were found to be delinquent minors and one was sent to the Maryland Training School for boys.

One case concerned a 13-year-old male of the Oakland area who was charged with malicious destruction of property, shooting a dog owned by Don Sell, breaking and entering the National Guard armory on November 16, and stealing one .22 calibre rifle, seven boxes of shells, a metal box and 17 rifle clips, the property of the Oakland Optimist club, valued at $120.30. There was also destruction of property at the armory, relating to windows and blinds.

Southern Senior Chorus To Present Opera Dec. 17

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," an opera by Carlo Menotti, is the choice of the senior chorus for its annual Christmas concert which is to be presented for the Southern P.T.A. members, teachers, and patrons on Wednesday, December 17. Preceding the concert, a reception to begin at 7:30 p.m. will be hosted by the P.T.A. for all guests.

Mrs. Mary Douglass, an accomplished pianist, will accompany the chorus on her own grand piano. Mrs. Douglass also played for this opera when it was performed here seven years ago. Mrs. Nancy Turney was then and is now the director of the concert.

This opera takes place on Christmas Eve. It is a story of a poor crippled boy, Amahl, and his widowed mother. Through a series of incidents, they learn of the birth of Jesus, such a king as Amahl's mother has been waiting for. Amahl gives the newborn Child and in return receives his own gift—a miracle from the Christ Child.

Those having parts in the production include: Becky Custer, Karen White, Rita Shroul, Diane Martin, Sue Filsinger, Diane O'Haver, Michael Weeks, Larry O'Brien, Terry Wolfe, William Shuncke, Bill Buchanan, Martin Heise, and Richard Ridder.

Miss Frances Patterson, Art, is in charge of set design; Elmer Crone, Audio-Visual, is in charge of lighting; Dorris Updyke, Electronics, is in charge of sound; and students, Michael Weeks and Wilma Sharpless, are in charge of publicity and make-up respectively.

Selected numbers by the junior chorus will provide Christmas music for those coming in the front entrance. They will sing while standing near the decorated Christmas tree in the lobby.

The coordinating committee members in charge of the reception are Mrs. Samuel Butt, Mrs. Bernard Burns, and Mrs. Lois Mosser. Mrs. Joyce Tennant's senior home economics class will prepare the refreshments and do the decorating.

The opera will begin at 8 p.m. just following the reception. The public is invited to both events.

503 Deer Killed In 7-Day Season

Number Is 137 More Than Last Year; Fair Number Hunters In Woods

Five hundred three bucks were killed in Garrett County during the seven-day open season which ended last Saturday evening, according to records compiled at the checking stations. This was 137 more than the 366 deer killed last season but 38 less than the previous.

This is an unofficial record and may change when all records are checked. The total compared to 609 in 1963, 577 in 1962, 620 in 1964. The county's record kill was 804, reached during the 1960 season which was for a complete six-day season.

For 1961 and 1962 an extra Saturday was allowed but six years ago the season was extended to nine days. It was reduced to eight days five years ago and the season moved to the day after Thanksgiving for the beginning of the season. Last year the season was reduced to seven days with the extra Saturday allowable following Thanksgiving and was repeated this year.

In this county the record for one dropped to 19 on Thursday with just sixteen reported on Friday. Peak day was the first Saturday with 234 with the second high day being the final one last Saturday, with 95. Here is the report for the four deer checking stations in this county, and the LaVale police barracks:

Merger Of Three Area Banks Is Given Approval

Directors Had Approved Consolidation With First National

George K. Littman, President of The First National Bank of Oakland; Charles J. Laughlin, President of The Citizens National Bank of Westernport; and Ellsworth S. Boal, President of The First National Bank of Barton, have announced receipt of approval from the Comptroller of the Currency, U. S. Treasury, of their joint application for a merger of the three banks.

Formal application had been filed with the Comptroller September 2, after the Boards of Directors of the banks had agreed to the consolidation. The merger plan was approved by the stockholders of the respective institutions at special shareholders' meetings held at each bank on October 7.

Under the terms of the agreement, the bank will be known as The First National Bank of Oakland and will operate under its charter. Home and Filling Station Are Burned

Two fires in different sections of the county last Wednesday and Thursday destroyed a home and a filling station, resulting in heavy losses for both families involved.

A fire of undetermined origin last Wednesday afternoon about 3 p. m., completely destroyed the two-story frame dwelling occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagner, near McHenry. It was the old Beason Glatfely farm home and had been remodeled recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner and their two children were not at home at the time. Two hunters saw the blaze and notified Joe Evans, caretaker on the Wagner farm, who attempted to call from an extension but the flames had already burned the wires. By the time the McHenry and Accident fire companies appeared on the scene the entire home was ablaze and there was practically nothing saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner and family are presently residing in a nearby motel.

Thursday afternoon about 4:30 a spark from a welding machine ignited some gasoline in the Ray Evans filling station, and efforts of four fire companies failed to check the blaze which entirely destroyed the structure. Mr. Evans was engaged in welding a snow blow onto his jeep when the blaze occurred. The station was a two-room building and the loss was estimated at over $20,000.

In addition to the Gorman fire department, three other companies were called to assist. They were the departments from Bayard, Mt. Storm and Oakland.

Removal Case Ends In Burglary Conviction Here

A Garrett County jury this week found a young man from Montgomery county guilty on burglary and assault indictments in a trial before Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill.

William Edward Rogers had been indicted in Montgomery county as a result of a breaking and entering case at the apartment of a young Rockville woman.

One indictment charged assault with intent to rape, assault and battery and assault. Another charged assault with intent to rob, assault and battery, and assault. A third charged burglary, breaking and entering with intent to steal, assault and battery, and assault.

During the trial Judge Hamill dismissed the indictment which charged assault with intent to rob. The jury did not find the defendant guilty of assault with intent to rape, but found him guilty on all other counts.

The case hinged on identification of a fingerprint found in the apartment. Rogers was identified by this plus bruises on the neck and abrasions of the forearm. The young woman said her assailant felt after she kicked him.

Judge Hamill ordered a presentence investigation and freed Rogers on $2,000 bond pending sentencing.

The case was prosecuted by the Montgomery county state's attorney's office and Fred Thayer, state's attorney here. The defendant was represented by Montgomery county counsel and W. Dwight Stover, of this county.

Tri-County Council for Southern Maryland received a 1968 Discover America award of merit, which was presented to Mrs. Patricia H. Kittle, tri-county council's tourism director, at a travel industry conference this week in Puerto Rico. Mrs. Kittle was former executive secretary of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council.

The citation was a second national award for Mrs. Kittle's regional tourism program and promotional efforts. In 1964 she received a special award for distinguished service to the U. S. travel industry during the 24th conference held in New York. She was then executive director of the local promotion council.

Tarentum Man Shot To Death In Robbery Try

Was Attempting To Rob Rt. 40 Restaurant, Gas Station

A hippie-type man from Tarentum, Pa., was shot and killed Monday morning while attempting to rob the Green Lantern Restaurant and service station, several miles east of Grantsville, on Route 40. The shooting was done by John Edward "Bud" Minnich, owner.

The victim was identified as Edward Clifford Hoak, 27, of 103 Ross Street. A companion, William Robert Gamble, same address, was apprehended near the scene at gunpoint by James McDonald, owner of Rustic Inn, located across the highway. He was arrested by Maryland State Police.

Authorities reported at 5 a.m. Mr. Minnich, who operated the Green Lantern restaurant and service station, heard glass breaking in the area of the service station.

Mr. Minnich and his wife, Wilma, got out of bed, walked through their living quarters and went to the adjoining service station. At this point Mr. Minnich found a "hippie-type" subject with his arm and shoulder inside of a window that had been broken. The man was attempting to unlock a bolt at the top of the door and gain entrance.

Police said at this point Mr. Minnich placed a .22 pistol into the stomach of Hoak and ordered him to stand still. The man and his companion ran from the scene. Minnich stepped outside and yelled, "Halt."

Mr. Minnich, police reported, fired warning shots in the direction of the one hippie, who was later found dead in a snow bank about 150 yards from the service station.

Tic. Daniel E. Tharp, Maryland State police, who was sleeping at home at the time, was summoned to the scene. While the trooper was at the service station he heard Mr. McDonald, Rustic Inn owner, yell, Mr. McDonald had come upon Gamble and was holding him at gunpoint. He was arrested immediately.

Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney, said no formal charges had been made and that he would take the information before the Grand Jury.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill said Tuesday night he had called the grand jury back into session beginning next Tuesday to consider the case. Mr. Thayer said no action would be taken unless the grand jury took some action in the case.

Gamble waived grand jury indictment and has asked for an immediate trial.

Gamble was taken before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney on Monday evening. He waived a preliminary hearing and was placed under $1,000 bond on a charge of burglary. He was placed in the county jail in default of bond.

Rain And Sleet Dominate Weather

Wintry weather continued to hold Garrett county in its grip with a plentiful sprinkling of rain and sleet throughout the area. Some five or six inches of sleet and sandy snow fell Sunday to make driving hazardous, although the storm was not as heavy in areas east of the county.

There was further sleet and rain on Wednesday which turned to snow flurries this morning.

A brief rundown of the week's offerings included the following: Last Friday, partial clearing for a time but cloud cover resumed after noon, with a temperature reading of 25 at 4 o'clock. Saturday was clear with moderating weather. Most roads were completely clear. Sleet and rain Sunday with some six inches falling. There was fog on Monday with thawing weather. Skies were partially clear on Tuesday with melting continuing. There was plenty of rain on Wednesday with some of it turning to sleet around Northern High school and between there and the Deep Creek bridge. Snow was falling this morning with temperatures near the freezing mark.

Majority Rights
One of the most significant developments on the national scene took place in Pittsburgh recently when construction workers staged a counter-demonstration against black militants who had persuaded city officials to halt building projects until more minority group workers had been hired. The counter-demonstrations paraded around City Hall shouting: "We are the majority."

At long last, it seems that the silent majority is finding its voice in America. During the 1960s, the majority seemed to be in retreat before the arrogant demands of a militant minority with political muscle. In the Kennedy-Johnson era, an organized minority group had only to make a protest — and federal agencies hastened to implement its will. The temper of the country is changing, however, as the Pittsburgh story indicates.

It's amazing that the country ever got away from majority rule. This is what a republican system of government is based upon — decisions made by a majority of the citizens. The ultra-liberals, which once asserted the rights of the majority (when it seemed that a majority was for Big Government), now is protesting against the system. Some liberal ideologists are trying to formulate a theory of minority rule of the United States.

Highly significant in this connection was a recent article by Prof. Herbert J. Gans in The New York Times Magazine. His article was entitled "We Won't End The Urban Crisis Until We End 'Majority Rule'." This is a curious thesis, but Prof. Gans strained to find arguments to support it. His analysis is profoundly revealing of liberal thinking at this time.

According to Prof. Gans, "majoritarian democracy" was adopted when America was a small, agrarian nation. Times have changed, he insists, and it's time, in his judgment, for something he calls "pluralistic democracy."

The Professor urged that minorities have a veto on legislation affecting them. He urged public financing of election campaigns and recommended free television time to all candidates — "even from the third, fourth or fifth parties." Under "majoritarian democracy," he said, "minorities can be tyrannized because their demands are diametrically opposed to the majority's. When this happens, with a school or other institution, the minority should have the right to secede, establishing its own institution." He also wants proportional representation, which would give splinter parties a place in every legislative chamber.

What Prof. Gans proposed is a receipt for chaos. France in the 1930s had proportional representation, and it prevented maintenance of a strong government with a working majority. The communists, of course, gained a place at the governmental table, and disruption resulted.

It seems fair to say that the American people aren't about to buy Prof. Gans' proposal for "pluralistic democracy", which amounts to the tyranny of a minority. They aren't going to let dissident black power elements establish taxpayer-financed Jomo Kenyatta academies because community protesters don't like the public schools. They aren't about to require the television networks to give every kook a huge listening audience or finance the election campaigns of the lunatic fringe in American life. Finally, the American people don't seem in a mood to let a minority dictate public policy at the local or national level.

A minority group has rights — the same rights as a majority group — the rights every citizen has. A minority, however, cannot be what the ultra-liberals want it to be, namely a privileged class in America that can disrupt a city by halting garbage collections or blocking construction of private and public buildings. In Pittsburgh, for example, the construction workers have a right to work without interference by radical-led groups.

Some of the nation's politicians, who have been catering to militants in recent years, may not have gotten the word. The politicians in Pittsburgh no doubt are getting the message from the aroused workers and the majority of citizens who cheered the counter-demonstration.

American communities and great industries cannot be held up virtually at gunpoint by militant factions who threaten to plunge a community or a plant into chaos if their edicts aren't obeyed. The majority will have to prevail in America. That's the system in a Republic; that's the way the people want it.

Not All Bad . . .

creased friendliness we note in our fellow-men, and in ourselves, at this time of year. Just as He helps us to know and love God in such an unlikely place as a manger, so He helps us to respond to God's love in and through the many customs of the pre-Christmas season. God gives us the gift of His love in the person of Jesus Christ. Jesus is the central figure who attracts such a diverse company as angels, curious shepherds, smelly animals and, eventually, some curious astrologers.

Christmas still attracts a diverse company of people, many of whom do not or cannot acknowledge the real reason for their celebration. Yet the joy and generosity, the patience and satisfaction each of us experiences, if only briefly, is a real sign of God's love reaching into men's hearts.

Just as we cannot keep Jesus in the manger, we cannot limit Christmas to the midnight service and the children's pageant. The Child in the Manger grew up and mixed with all kinds of people. They responded to him in different ways, just as we do today. We all want to be loved. We all want to show our love. The gifts, the parties, the music and the color, all can express and deepen the mutual love for all men that God makes possible in Christ.—From the Episcopal Foundation of Chicago, Inc.

St. Paul's Methodist

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

When all the facts about James Forman and his "Manifesto" to the churches of America are squarely faced, we can only conclude that any group—church or any other kind—which contributes to the Forman gangsters is stabbing the United States in the back, aiding the takeover forces, and indeed setting the stage for the destruction of everything that has been built in the modern world upon the Judeo-Christian ethic. Such a contribution serves World Communism and in so doing it works devastatingly against the best interests of the Negro race throughout the world as well as the whole edifice of religion.

There is nothing for the Negro masses in Communism except slavery with the rest of its victims in a total prison from which nobody can walk away to freedom but must on the contrary stake his life on the mere chance to escape. This fact is reported in newspapers every day. Yet, James Forman, in the "Manifesto" and in publicly identified Communist publications, has declared himself and the "Movement" he is mobilizing to be: (1) allied with World Communism (2) working for a victory for Communists in Vietnam and wherever Communist "Wars of Liberation" are waged, and (3) mobilizing and training skillfully apitated Negroes to become the "Vanguard" of armed revolution to overthrow the United States.

A church group has contributed $200,000 with the expectation that the money will go to a jerked-up Forman organization which supports these declarations of the Forman "Manifesto."

"We live inside the United States which is the most barbaric country in the world (says the Forman 'Manifesto') and we have a chance to help bring this government down."

"Only an armed, well-disciplined, black-controlled government can insure the stamping out of racism in this country."

"We call for the total disruption of selected church sponsored agencies operating anywhere in the U. S. and the world. Black workers, black women, black students and the black unemployed are encouraged to seize the offices, telephones, and printing apparatus of all church sponsored agencies and to hold those in trusteeship until our demands are met."

"We say (to all blacks) think in terms of total control of the U. S. Prepare ourselves to seize State Power. Do not hedge, for time is short and all around the world the forces of liberation are directing their attacks against the U. S."

"We must commit ourselves to a society where the total means of production are taken from the rich people and placed into the hands of the State for the welfare of all the people." This is a Communist propaganda statement right out of the Communist Manifesto of Karl Marx. He goes on to say that "black people" must seize control of "everything that exists" in the United States.

The churches of America above all other institutions should know the true nature of atheistic, totalitarian, murderous Communism. They should know that Communism is determined to wipe religion—faith in God—from the face of the earth. They should know that it is advancing toward that goal through deceit as well as open brutality. They should know who Communism's agents are in the United States and the magnitude of the frightening force for overthrow which those agents are amassing within the U. S. And finally they should know that giving aid to this force is treasonable not only to their nation but to God Almighty.

Demonstrate 4-H Know How!

3 Million Show and Tell

The biggest youth demonstrations in the world have been going on this year throughout the United States. More than three million pre-teens and teenagers took part. There were no protests, no arrests, and no violence. And the demonstrations had the approval of parents, teachers, government officials and business men.

Who are these young people? They are the nation's 4-H members who demonstrated what they have learned by being a 4-H'er. They have learned plenty, according to the Cooperative Extension Service which directs 4-H activities in 95,000 clubs supervised by 500,000 volunteer adult and junior leaders.

Demonstrations were given ty medals to national scholars. Awards are usually presented in late summer or in the fall when projects have been completed.

Support 4-H

Among the 4-H backers who this year have supported programs through the National 4-H Service Committee are: The Conrad Hilton Hotel; John Deere; Eastman Kodak Company; Elgin National Industries, Inc.; The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company; Homelite, A Division of Textron Inc.; Elanco Products Company, A Division of Eli Lilly and Company; Livestock Conservation, Inc.; Merck & Co., Inc. and Edwin T. Meredith Foundation.

Also The Milwaukee Road; The Sears-Roebuck Foundation; The S&H Foundation Inc.; Standard Oil Company (Kentucky); Sunbeam Corporation; Tupperware; The West Bend Company and Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Plan for 1970

With the current 4-H year drawing to a close, members are planning their 1970 programs. Some will continue their present activities with the hope of expanding them. Others will try something new.

The range of programs is wide to accommodate boys and girls as young as 9 and as old as 19 years. Home economics, agriculture, health, safety, electric, mechanics, science, conservation and management are among the principal categories.

Any boy or girl can participate in 4-H, according to the Cooperative Extension Service. Contact should be made with a local 4-H club leader or the county extension office.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Shouldn't the person hired to prepare a return be responsible if there is additional tax due following an audit?

A—The taxpayer is legally responsible for all the information on the return even though someone else helped him prepare it. For this reason, it is advisable to check every item on the return carefully before sending it in and to use only reputable, qualified tax advisors.

Q—Where can I get extra tax deposit forms? I can't find the one you sent me.

A—Write to either your District Director of the IRS Service Center where you file your returns. Be sure to furnish your business name, address and employer identification number and indicate the type of tax and taxable period for which you need the FTD forms.

Q—My son who is attending college is planning to take a job during the Christmas holiday. If his earnings go over $600, will that affect the exemption I claim for him?

A—If your son is under 19 at year-end or qualifies as a full-time student during five months of the year, his earnings will not cause you to lose the exemption you claim for him so long as you provide more than half his support.

Your son must file a return if he has gross income of $600 or more. He should also file a return if his income was less than $600, but were withheld from his wages, in order to obtain a refund of these taxes.

Q—Our summer home was damaged in a wind storm last summer. Will we be able to take a casualty loss deduction for this even if we haven't repaired the damage?

A—Yes, if the damage qualifies as a casualty loss. Then to the extent it exceeds $100, it will be deductible whether you have repaired the damage or not. For more information, see Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts," available at your IRS office.

Q—Is a gift of food or clothing to my church deductible?

A—Yes, gifts of food, clothing and other property to a charity table group are deductible. The amount of the deduction would be the fair market value of the property donated.

Q—Can I take a business deduction for the bottles of whiskey I buy as Christmas gifts for my customers?

A—Yes, business gifts are a deductible expense as long as they do not exceed $25 to any one customer during the year. If gifts total more than $25, only $25 may be deducted. A gift to a customer's wife or child must generally be included with any gift to the customer himself in figuring the $25 limit.

Note that gifts which cost $4 or less are not subject to this limit if your name is clearly and permanently printed on the item and is one of a number of identical items distributed by you. This would cover calendars, pens and similar items.

Q—I've taken a part-time second job. What can I do to stop having Social Security taxes taken out of my pay on both jobs?

A—Each employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes on the first $7,800 of wages paid employees in 1969. However, if more than the maximum of $374.40 is withheld for Social Security because you had two jobs, the excess can be claimed as a credit on your 1969 income tax return.

Procedures for claiming this credit are explained in the instructions you will receive with your tax form.

Q—Can I deduct my veterinary fees when I figure out my farm income on Schedule F, Form 1040?

A—Yes, veterinary fees as well as medicine for farm livestock are deductible when you report farm income and expenses.

Veterinary care for personal pets is not deductible.

Q—What types of taxes are involved when IRS closes down a business for failure to pay Federal taxes?

A—Any type of tax may be involved; however, these cases usually involve employers who fail to turn over to the Government the money they have withheld from their employees' wages for income and Social Security taxes.

Drastic steps such as closing a business or levying on wages are only taken as a last resort after the taxpayer has repeatedly failed to make satisfactory arrangements to pay the tax. Congress has authorized IRS to take certain specific actions in such cases in fairness to the other taxpayers who do pay in full and on time.

Q—I won't be working anymore this year so why can't I file my tax return now? I could use the money I'm expecting to get back.

A—Existing regulations provide for the filing of an income tax return after the end of the tax year, which, with rare exceptions, is the calendar year for employees. Even though you may not work or receive income during the rest of the year, a tax return is required to be filed on the basis of a full tax year. To avoid delays when you file

U. S. Savings Bonds Now Pay Five Percent

George K. Littman, Garrett County Chairman for U. S. Savings Bonds was today queried about the new 5-per-cent interest rate for Savings Bonds.

"The new higher rate announced by President Nixon makes Savings Bonds a better buy than ever before," Chairman Littman states. "It will greatly benefit the members of our communities who have been putting aside dollars regularly through Payroll Savings Plans or over-the-counter purchases at their banks.

The 5-per-cent interest rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H Bonds sold on or after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity. All outstanding E and H Bonds also benefit from the new 5-per-cent rate, beginning with the first semi-annual interest period starting on or after June 1.

Bloomington Dam Funding Approved

Senate and House conferees approved a $14 million appropriation toward the construction of the Bloomington dam.

An appropriation of $1.5 million had been requested by the Corps of Army Engineers for the construction of the reservoir which will be located on the North Branch of the Potomac river, upstream from Luke between Barnum and Shaw communities.

The appropriation is included in the public works package for fiscal 1970 totaling $711 million dollars.

The House had approved $671 million for the projects but the Senate increased the figure to $740 million. Approval by the conferees is tantamount to final congressional approval, expected within a few days.

Peace With Freedom?

Senator Thomas Dodd (D-Conn.) made some very appropriate comments on the floor of the Senate in reference to the achievements of Apollo 12 in the second moon landing in the history of the world.

Senator Dodd said: "Our technological triumph in this case is all the greater when one recalls the grim predictions that were made in October 1957, when the Soviet Union orbited its first satellite.

"At that time and for a number of years thereafter, we were told that the United States was hopelessly behind in the space race, that the Russians were at least 4 or 5 years ahead of us technologically.

"But in 12 years' time we have not only wiped out the 4- or 5-year lead which Russia is once supposed to have held; We have forged several years ahead of the Soviet Union in most aspects of our space program.

"It is not difficult to imagine the strident and boastful propaganda campaign that the Soviet Union would have mounted if it cosmonauts had landed on the moon in two successive flights before America achieved its first lunar landing.

"In repeated broadcasts, in every language, the nations would have been told that this was clear proof of the superiority of the Communist system over the Capitalist system, and that it was still another augury of the coming triumph of communism throughout the world."

Our space program, which began with the creation of NASA during the Eisenhower administration, has come a long way, indeed. We came from behind in fine time. It is a tribute not only to the astronauts, but to the men on the ground in all of the phases, from the planning, through the stages of production, and on to the actual flight, recovery and the post-mission debriefing and examination. In no small measure, our conquest of space has been the product of dedicated Americans, who have supported the efforts of the four presidents in whose terms these accomplishments have been achieved.

As Senator Dodd states so

succinctly: "It has demonstrated once again that free men working in a free environment are more than a match for technological slaves working in a closed totalitarian society."

This then is the message of Apollo 12. We came in peace—with freedom.—U.S. Press Associates, Inc.

NATIONAL TRUCK DRIVER OF THE YEAR

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Law Mania . . .

At one time or another, most of us are guilty of venting our displeasure with a situation by crying "there ought to be a law." And so there are laws—mountains of them. Many of them are unenforceable, impracticable or unnecessarily oppressive. But, as a general rule, once it is passed, a law stays on the books for all time. This is because when we say "there ought to be a law" and a law is passed, we rarely look back to see whether the law has fulfilled its alleged purpose. No better illustration of what this kind of lawmaking can do to the country can be found than in the case of so-called gun control measures.

Church Basketball Begins Second Year

Victories by St. Paul's United Methodist, Bethel United Methodist, Oak Park Brethren and St. Mark's Lutheran marked the opening of the Mt. Top Church basketball league's second season.

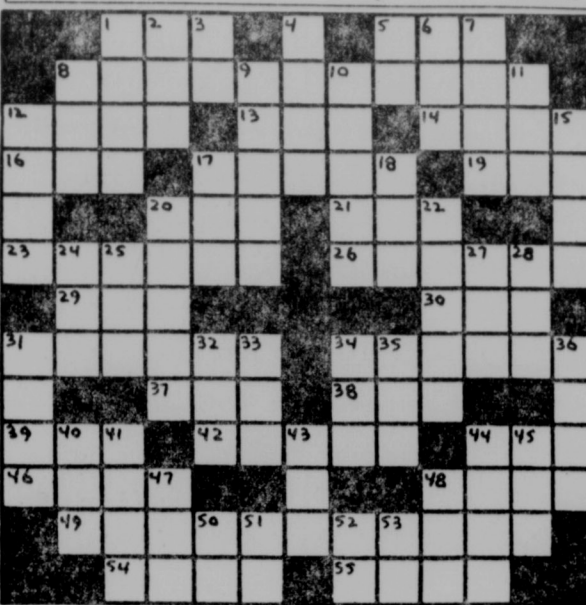

St. Paul's defeated Nazarene 25 to 19 with Kevin Liller getting 11 and Kevan Savage 13. Charles Uphole had 9 and Bob Kiser 6 for the losers. Oak Park trimmed Loch Lynn United Brethren 30 to 13. Carl Pike had 10 and Bob Tressler 8.

In the midst of the hue and cry against the traditional right of gun ownership by private citizens, many stringent laws have been passed regulating and licensing guns. Instead of reviewing the effectiveness of these laws, a national commission has now concluded that there should be even more stringent federal control of guns and eventual rigid curbs on the traditional right of gun ownership by law-abiding U.S. citizens. Almost certainly, advocates of gun registration and licensing envision the day of gun confiscation—the disarming of all U.S. citizens.

Meanwhile, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has released some interesting figures on crime and gun controls. These figures reveal that the rate of crime and homicide has risen most rapidly in states that have recently passed extreme gun regulations. New Jersey, which introduced one of the toughest antiquing laws in 1966, has suffered a period of skyrocketing crime. Before the law was passed, the state ranked 18th among the 50 states in total crime rates. By last year, it had surged to 10th in overall crime. On the average, states with the least restrictive gun controls have the lowest crime and homicide rates.

Instead of crying for more laws, we should question the wisdom of present laws—Industrial News Review.

Shareholders of the Citizens National Bank of Westernport and The First National Bank of Barton will receive in exchange for each share of stock, two and one-half shares of The First National Bank of Oakland capital stock. This formula for the exchange of stock was determined because the Westernport and Barton shares now have a par value of $25.00 per share, while the par value of the Oakland stock is $10.00 per share, and also because the per share book values of the three institutions are comparable.

Mr. Laughlin and Mr. Boal will become members of the Board of Directors of The First National Bank of Oakland, along with Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Vice President of the Citizens National Bank. Present members of the Oakland Board are Homer L. Bennett, Donald M. Brown, Alva G. Gortner, Lewis R. Jones, George K. Littman, Dr. Andrew E. Mance, S. Townshend Naylor, Ralph E. Pritts, John J. Robinson, Irvin R. Rudy, Jr., Fred A. Thayer, and Courtney R. Tusing.

An Advisory Board for the Westernport and Barton areas will be named as follows: G. Harley Dixon of Piedmont, Rymer Ferrell, Joseph J. Whelan, Richard H. Whitworth, Kenneth R. Malcolm, all of Western-port, and J. Joseph Howell of Barton.

Following the consolidation, total resources are expected to exceed $30,000,000.00 with deposits of more than $27,000,000.00.

All of the services now available at the main office in Oakland will be available at both new offices. These will include installment and consumer credit loans, trust and estate services, larger loaning powers, increased interest on savings to four percent, and Certificates of Deposit offered at five percent per annum.

The merger application also received the approval of the Federal Reserve Bank, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Department of Justice.

J. Glenn Beall, Jr. Reports from Washington

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

The House of Representatives of the resolution reveals that this week, by the wide margin of 233 to 55, passed a resolution supporting the President in his effort to negotiate a just peace in Vietnam, expressing the hope of the people of the United States for such a peace and calling on the government of North Vietnam to honor free elections and abide by the results.

Although the resolution was debated for two days, it received widespread support. It was passed at this time because it has become clear to members of Congress that a serious misunderstanding exists abroad, and particularly in North Vietnam, as to the degree of public support which exists for the President's attempts to end the war with justice and honor through negotiations. The U. S. negotiators in Paris have been repeatedly rebuffed and have had evidences of individual and group dissent within the United States thrown back in their faces. Hanoi radio has been carrying programs quoting people in this country critical of U. S. policy in Vietnam. The impression created is increasingly one of a nation deeply divided, almost wholly unwilling to continue the effort, up in arms against its own government and virtually on the point of political collapse. The Congress felt that this impression must be corrected by some official declaration emanating from the legislative branch of the government if any progress is to be expected in negotiations. Therefore, the resolution was passed on a non-partisan basis with wide support from all quarters in the House of Representatives. A careful reading

The Railroad Telegrapher

and D. T. Rasche

Many boys in this community years ago learned the Morse code and then became railroad telegraphers. As a friend recently remarked, "They had learned a new two-syllable language — the dot-dash". During twenty-five years of railroad interlocking tower operation I have used almost no Morse code. The telephone replaced code and teletypes have further replaced the ear of "Morse men" and the rhythm of their "fist" on the Morse key.

Railroad Morse men I personally knew were James Stickle, Fred Gates, David Walter, Peter Schold, Edward Clatterbuck, Frank Downer, John Murphy, Jesse Woods, George Comp, Sr., William Ott and Dennis Rasche. They could have talked to each other all day and I'd have known but little of what they had to say. They learned to abbreviate much of their language and still understood all of it. They could translate the clatter of a Morse sounder into words faster than most people read newsprint.

The skilled Morse craftsmen were artists in their field of communication and it is swiftly vanishing. The craft that these men used with such ease was once the lifeline, the only one then representing remarkable speed, that bound this nation together in a wire network of overland information exchange. These men worked long hours, many of them twelve hours every day of each month and at a pittance as compared to on the railroad receive today. There was a pride in craft these Morse men knew, however, and their contribution to this nation's heritage is one of historic importance.

The Morse men I knew lived in or worked in Garrett County while with the railroad. Dennis Rasche explains further the work of telegrapher - operators on the railroad in Garrett County. The first telegram sent from the office in the present B & O station, in 1884, was handled by Patrick Garrett, the father of the present associate editor of this magazine, Robert Garrett.

Samuel F. B. Morse invented the electric telegraph and the code for communicating with it. His original code is still used in modernized form in Morse International code. Morse was known first as a teacher and artist and is the founder of Vassar College.

Morse combined two principles of electricity previously discovered in perfecting his system. He adapted the electromagnet discovered by an English scientist and the "ground" circuit discovered by a German inventor to his telegraph system. The use of the earth to provide a return circuit in the electric telegraph system was of great importance and thus a single overland line could maintain a complete circuit without the use of a second land line.

A typical Morse telegraph system consisted of the simple sounder-and-key set, a single-wire overland line carried on poles with required insulation crossarms and wet batteries for supplying electric energy. These low-voltage batteries were based on the Leyden jar principle of generation and used a zinc crowfoot submerged in a weak acid solution. The men who manned the telegraph stations which were cut into the overland line, where required, tended the crowfoot batteries at their stations.

A Morse telegraph set used in Garrett County will be among the historic exhibits in the Garrett County Historical Museum. Accompanying the set will be a glass insulator used along the B & O railroad here to carry the system wires. This insulator embossed with the notation "B & O A-PATENT DEC. 19, 1871" is the gift of Mr. Vernon Ruppenthal, of Terra Alta, who has maintained number of years as an employee the communication wires for a of Western Union. The story of such linemen as Mr. Ruppenthal is a segment of American communications history within itself.

We are grateful to Dennis Rasche, whose lifework has been in telegraphy, for the following explanation and comment on the invention of the Morse electric telegraph and its application to railroading in Garrett County.

"The Morse telegraph was the earliest workable means of communicating at a distance by means of electricity. The word 'telegraph' derived from two Greek words, means 'to write at a distance'. The Morse telegraph transmitted code signals for alphabetical letters, numbers and punctuation marks, by means of a series of dots and dashes. This was a simple curved bar of brass balanced near its center on side pivots allowing it to move up and down on a conical spring. The front end of the key was a little black knob of India rubber to act as an insulator against the finger of the Morse man and to give him something on which to balance his sending hand. The movement of this key device energized, the pair of small iron core electromagnets instantly drew the armature toward them. Upon breaking this electric current with de-energizing of the magnets, the spring flipped the armature back to starting position. This making and breaking of the electric circuit caused the Morse sounder to produce its clicking and clattering. A very short click was the Morse 'dot', a longer click between the down and up stroke of the armature was the Morse 'dash' and the 'space' an identifiable interval to a trained ear between a dot and a dash, or multiples of such clicks. There were no capital letters used in sending Morse code.

"This business of making code sounds with a Morse sounder depended upon another simple but effective device—the Morse key. This was a simple curved bar of brass balanced near its center on side pivots allowing it to move up and down on a conical spring. The front end of the key was a little black knob of India rubber to act as an insulator against the finger of the Morse man and to give him something on which to balance his sending hand. The movement of this key device cal current that activated the sounders all along the telegraph line.

"Operators developed their own system of word abbreviations. There was little in the monotony of a sounder's clatter that might express human emotions. One abbreviation, however, seemed to convey the idea of anger, astonishment, dismay or chagrin. Morse men used it and reacted to it in the two letters, 'JC' and it was, of course, irrelevant!

"The editor has asked me to describe actual practice of blocking trains on the railroad here through the use of Morse code. At the risk of being tedious, but perhaps to record an antique practice for historical reasons, I will explain that probably a hundred and fifty or so men who lived in this area for a year or more practiced the craft of telegraphy. Many other hundreds came and departed after a few days, a week, or a few months. Nearly all these men were employed by the B & O railroad in signal and switching towers along the thirty miles of line spanning Garrett County between the Potomac river and Hutton at the West Virginia border. Two exceptions were former railroad telegraphers, B. I. Gonder, Sr. and B. I. Gonder, Jr., who now manage the Western Union commercial telegraph office at Oakland, sometimes facetiously alluded to by some of its employees as "Uncle Wes". That office for some years has been equipped with the teletype, the so-called Printer.

"In the past usually five or six railroad telegraph offices operated continuously in the county. There was a total of eleven such offices designated by railroad parlance as 'train order stations'. Sometimes they were all manned at the same time. Each office had official call letters and moving eastward they began at HN, Hutton; OA,

Oakland; MK, Mountain Lake Park; DE, Deer Park; AM, Altamont; SN, Swanton; HX, Strecker; FK, Frankville; BD, Bond and MX, Empire. The last named is one I had the honor to open as a new station about a mile west of Bloomington where a coal-loading siding served the Empire mines for a period of time. This telegraph tower was closed when the coal ran out. Only Altamont and Bond towers now remain and use no telegraphy.

"Railroad telegraphers used a code formula to report train traffic into and out of blocks, a block being that section of track between offices. The Hutton operator would open his

Garrett-Akers Wedding Occurs

Miss Kathleen Elizabeth Akers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Akers, of Baltimore, became the bride of Mr. Robert Browning Garrett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Garrett, Sr., of Deer Park, Saturday, on August 9th. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. John Sewell, Miss Jane Garrett, of Deer Park, sister of the bridegroom, sang a number of appropriate selections, being accompanied on the organ by Leo Drost, of Baltimore, cousin of the bride.

The maid of honor was Miss Linda Akers, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Catherine Dolan, Miss Joan Longbottom, Miss Carole McKewin, all of Baltimore; and Mrs. Sharon Dombrowski, Wilmington Delaware. Best man was Patrick J. Garrett II, of Deer Park, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Messrs. Michael A. Garrett of Chicago, and Melvin J. Akers, Jr., Donald Akers and Brian Dolan, all of Baltimore.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length white silk organza dress with Victoria collar of hand embroidered French lace. The hemline of the dress also was trimmed with the same type of lace. A floor length veil was attached to the matching headpiece. The bride carried a nosegay bouquet of white and yellow roses.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore apple green dotted swiss blouses and white pique floor length jumpers. They carried nosegays of yellow and white daisies and orange roses, and wore yellow and white daisies in their hair.

couple spent their honeymoon in Bermuda and now are living in Baltimore City.

The bride received her B. S. degree from Towson State College in June, 1966, and is now doing graduate work in Special Education at Loyola College. She is presently teaching Special Education in Baltimore County. Mr. Garrett is working towards his B. S. degree in Business Management at the University of Baltimore. He is employed by Redisco, Inc., a financial subsidiary of the Chrysler Corporation, in Baltimore.

Student Voices

The Real Laborers
By Stacy Shockley

"Don't bother me, I've had a hard day," father says. "I've worked so hard, I have a splitting headache," says mother.

They both exclaim, "Why are you talking on the phone? You've talked to your friends all day."

"Have we? Do we have time for anymore than a brief hello during classes or at lunch? No, we don't. School isn't the barrel of laughs that our elders seem to think it is. In fact, what occupation requires its workers to spend forty minutes in one place working, listening and answering questions, then go to another place and go through the whole thing again."

And such anxiety!! If you don't have your work done or know all the answers... you are an outcast. On top of all this... only 25 minutes for lunch!

So there, Mr. Businessman! You think you have a hard day in your soft, carpeted office. You have an hour for lunch, coffee breaks, and a salary to boot. We are the real laborers, the real sufferers, and while you are an expert in only one field, we are expected to be experts in everything, from chemistry to music; from pre-history to Apollo 12.

Of course, we do get out of classes to see matinees sometimes, but even then we have to pay.

So you see, school life isn't a bed of roses. But I can't write any more about it right now... I have this headache. I'm so tired...

It was a newspaper picture of a crowded street. Then we examined it closely. There we were, homeless faces in a crowd to the rest of the world, but important faces to us.

Ours is a world of fast-growing urbanization. More and more people are concentrating in crowded areas. Ours is a world dominated by the gang, the club, the party, even the mob. It's mighty easy to get that "one drop in the ocean" feeling, as if no one knows we are here.

That's why we treasure our church. In it we are individuals. Our minister, our teachers and our friends, even visitors, know us. Each of us is seen as a separate person. Each of us is known to the same loving Father.

You might call us the "fellowship crowd" . . . a crowd in which we are never lost. Discover for yourself the wonderful blessings your church can impart to you. Attend this Sunday and every Sunday.

STILL LOOKING
Lesson for December 14, 1969

Background Scripture: Psalm 119:1-16; Luke 13:31-35; 2 Th. 3:1-5
Devotional Reading: Psalm 130.

And they all lived happily ever after. Perhaps it seems that that is the way the Old Testament ought to end. But it doesn't.

The people of Israel had certainly had their ups and downs. Led out of Egyptian captivity by Moses and wandering in the wilderness of Sinai for forty years, they had finally come to the Promised Land of Canaan. Under Saul and David Rev. Althouse they had become, at least for a short while, a united monarchy. Yet, at the death of Solomon, the nation had been split into two, never again to re-unite. Both ruled by a succession of many bad kings and a few good ones, the two nations grew farther and farther away from the covenant relationship with God. Consequently, in 726 B.C., Israel was carried into captivity by Assyria and in 586 B.C. Judah fell to the Babylonians. Thus began the long exile and the days of longing to return.

Not "happily ever after"

During the exile the prophets counseled the Jews with the promise of a new restoration which God would send. At last, when the Persians had replaced the Babylonians, the Jews were allowed to return to their homeland. Some did return and we have been studying the story of how they began to rebuild both the city and the temple under the leadership of Ezra and Nehemiah. And that is where the Old Testament narrative ends. We leave the returned exiles rebuilding the Jewish state. When we enter the New Testament, we find that roughly four centuries have elapsed and many changes have taken place which indicate that these people had not lived "happily ever after."

What had happened in those four hundred years is told in part in the Apocrypha, the writings that are not included in Protestant versions of the Bible. Protestant reformers held that these books were not authoritative as scripture. For the most part, they were written in and are about the period that separates the Old and New Testaments.

A history of domination

Actually, the restoration after the Babylonian exile had never been full or complete. Cyrus had allowed them to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the nation under his protection, but that did not mean they were free and independent. When, in turn, the Persian rule was ended and replaced by the Macedonians under Alexander the Great and his successors, the situation remained very much the same.

The conquest of the Jewish state by the Greek King of Syria, Antiochus II, at the beginning of the second century B.C., had a serious effect upon the Jews. Already threatened and divided by the Greek culture (Hellenism), their faith was threatened with extinction. A priest named Mathias, slew the Syrian officer sent to erect a heathen altar in a place named Mofen. From that act of defiance, there was ignited, first an underground resistance, then guerrilla warfare, and finally an armed conflict, that drove out the oppressors and regained Jewish independence once again. The revolt was led by the sons of Mathias, particularly by Judas Maccabeus, for whom the era is named.

Puppets again

This family ruled briefly until the rise of Rome brought new domination and internal division. The nation was divided and ruled by a number of Roman puppet rulers, the situation which we find as the New Testament begins.

Despite the end of the Babylonian exile and the brave new beginning, the messianic prophecies that had been fulfilled, Jews still looked for God to send a Messiah to usher in a new day for Israel.

It was in response to this need and into this world that Jesus came.

Pipeline To Progress

Some of the most remarkable feats of the free enterprise system are being accomplished on Alaska's North Slope where U.S. oil companies are opening a colossal new oilfield that will end American dependence on foreign crude oil and add immensely to the wealth of the State of Alaska. Unhappily, there is opposition.

come in oil royalties. As a matter of fact, the entire nation will benefit financially. The Alaskan oilfield will generate colossal sums in federal income taxes. Moreover, with Alaskan oil available, the United States will not have to import so much from abroad, and the gold drain on the country will be greatly lessened, thereby promoting the nation's financial health.

Despite all the good things that the Alaskan oilfield promises, there is developing opposition from liberal quarters. The New York Times, for example, has gone on record as opposing prompt construction of an 800-mile pipeline needed to move the Alaskan North Slope oil.

It speaks unfairly of the "greedy haste" of oil companies. It raises the spectre of a state polluted and wilderness lands destroyed. It even bases its opposition to the pipeline on the argument that it would "create a barrier to migrating caribou."

It's tragic how development projects beneficial to the American people can be held up by emotionalism. Conservation, of course, is an important cause.

And the State of Alaska has every intention of preserving wilderness areas and guarding threatened wildlife species. The oil companies have been most careful to take into account the ecology of the northern region.

The Secretary of the Interior has insisted on suitable inspection procedures. But none of these things satisfies the liberals, who can't stand to see the free enterprise system score great achievements and who often do their best to block any development that would add immensely to the wealth and security of the United States.

It's interesting that American liberals never demonstrated any concern during the last thirty years as the Soviets developed their Arctic regions, opening mines, constructing power dams and building cities. Such actions always have been described as progressive by U.S. liberals. But

The Alaskan oil pipeline would take a strip of land only a few feet wide. Thousands of square miles of wilderness area would remain untouched. How much wilderness does the United States need in Alaska? Should there be a balance in the state between the needs of development and the needs of conservation? The interests of the people have to be served, not simply the interests of those who cherish the caribou. Moreover, there's nothing in the Alaskan oil pipeline project that even threatens the caribou or other types of wild life.

If the New York Times' position, for instance, had been public policy in the United States during the 18th and 19th century, the United States would be a primitive, unsettled land in 1969. The nation would have remained a wildlife refuge and a giant reservation for Indians. Obviously, both wildlife refuges and Indian reservations have their place, but the entire country should not be placed in these categories. One wonders: Would the New York Times favor giving Manhattan Island back to the Indians?

The Alaskan pipeline project is important to the nation. It should be pushed without delay. All citizens concerned with the prosperity and progress of the nation have a stake in supporting its prompt construction without governmental hindrance.

20 Attend Farm Bureau Session

Twenty Garrett County Farm Bureau and Women's Committee members were among an estimated 5,000 from 49 states and Puerto Rico attending the General Sessions of the 50th Anniversary year of the American Farm Bureau Federation Monday in the Washington Hilton Hotel, Washington, D. C.

President, Charles B. Shuman in his annual address as he spoke of the United States said, "We took a wrong turn back in the '30's when we turned to government intervention in a desperate attempt to revive a sick economy. The tremendous cost of these experiments with socialism together with the costs of our wars, has been a major cause of the extremely dangerous inflation which now grips our nation. . . . The welfare state breeds countless rules and regulations as thousands of new laws are passed each year. Big government and individual government are not compatible. . . . What we need in America is a big dose of courage: Courage to take a position on controversial issues: Courage to reject compromise between good and evil: Courage to take a stand on moral issues: Courage to refuse to be 'bought' by government payments or private bribes: Courage to accept risk as the price for opportunity. . . . Getting unhooked from farm programs will be a costly operation because the distortions and imagined advantages of the programs have been capitalized into land values and machinery. Therefore the only practical way is to phase out the government programs over a period of time and to cushion the impact on farmers during the adjustment period. . . .

In his appearance before the convention United States Secretary of Agriculture, Clifford M. Hardin stated, "In agriculture we have an opportunity in the next few months to recast farm policy in a major way. For many months we have talked with farmers, farm organization leaders, legislators and just about everyone else who has a legitimate interest in the future of farm policy. Certain ideas seem to be widely held: farm income should be improved, reliance on the market should be enhanced, farm exports should be expanded and farmers should have the opportunity to participate in farm programs.

An unexpected highlight of the afternoon session was the appearance of President, Richard M. Nixon to address the convention. In his remarks President Nixon stated, "I'm very happy today to recognize American agriculture for what it has done and can do for America. . . . This is the only country in the world that can say 'we will supply an adequate diet for every person and do it because of the American farmer.' . . .

Senator Spessard L. Holland of Florida, also spoke. As Roger Fleming, Sec.-Treas. of the American Farm Bureau gave his annual report at the close of the afternoon session he stated, "There is a great need today for understanding that under our form of government Congress legislates policy and it's the duty of the Executive Branch to administer it. . . . If we expect to be effective we need to be right and we need to have the desire to win.

Attending from the county were: Willie and Parker Warnick, Grantsville; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Margroff and Rob Roy Paugh, Cove; Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Walter Harman and Clark Kolb, Accident; Mr. and Mrs. Clark

"Western Maryland's Finest"

Not Right Targets . . .

National news these days hardly makes cheerful reading, but it could stimulate individual thinking.

Our fighting men are under enemy attack in Vietnam, the military under attack at home. The media, attacked by the Vice-President, is now attacking him. The administration is attacking inflation, and organized labor is attacking the administration for its efforts. Doves attack everybody opposed to an immediate pull out, or sell out, in Vietnam, and hawks attack the doves as tools of Hanoi.

We are properly shocked at alleged atrocities committed by a few soldiers against enemy civilians. But at home when some monster commits an unspeakable crime against an innocent citizen, we seem more concerned about protecting him from the police than in demanding his punishment.

A federal commission informs us that "crime stems from poverty," but doesn't tell us that a lot of poverty comes from not working when work is available.

Science has virtually eliminated most of the dread (Continued On Page Four)

Ronald Dilley Is New Town Water Superintendent

The Oakland Mayor and Town Council appointed Ronald D. Dilley to succeed James E. Lewis as town water superintendent at a special meeting held Monday at noon.

Mr. Dilley, 27, has been employed by the Town Water department since May 1969. Prior to that he worked for Dilley Drilling Company.

A resident of Rt. 1, Oakland, Mr. Dilley currently has a temporary certificate in sanitation, but must attend school later to obtain a certificate in sanitary technology.

At the same meeting, Eugene Johnson was given the post of assistant water superintendent. Both appointments will be effective January 1.

Also effective January 1 is the appointment of Harland E. Ream, Jr., Deep Creek Village, as a policeman for the town. He will replace Charles Wendlandt, who plans to go into semi-retirement then.

The purchase of a new adding machine for City Hall was authorized before the meeting adjourned. The next meeting is set for January 5.

Talent Contest Semi-Final Victors

These three will compete in the YFC talent contest finals at Northern High School this Saturday, December 20. They will vie with winners of the other semi-finals contest held at Meyersdale the previous week. They are, left to right, Bob Custer, vocalist and pianist; Sharon Fike, teen speaker; and Linda Custer, vocalist.

Taylor Co. Takes Regional Honors

Thirty-two members of the Farming for Better Living program in Garrett county over the years, attended the regional round-up dinner at Morgantown, W. Va., last Friday noon. The session was sponsored by the Morgantown Rotary club. Garrett county's delegation was the largest among the 150 or more persons who attended.

Cancellations of Christmas mail at the Oakland post office are running ahead of last year, according to figures compiled there.

Officials keep a running total of the number of cancellations from December 1 through the Christmas season. The total this year through the first fourteen days of December totaled 110,060 compared to 107,023 for the same period last year.

Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster, said the department did not plan any additional clerks or carriers for this Christmas season but that two windows would be open if necessary.

No additional hours were planned either. The office windows will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. from Monday through Friday with hours of 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

28 Stores Will Be Closed Day After Christmas

Some 28 stores will give their employees a longer Christmas holiday as they plan to remain closed December 26, the day after Christmas. The list of stores was compiled by John Kurilla, chairman of the Merchants and Businessmen of Oakland.

All stores will be open as usual Saturday, December 27, until 5 p.m.

The list below may have several stores added before the holiday. All stores which will be closed will appear in an advertisement (Continued On Page Four)

Send in Material 2 Days Early For Next Week's Issue

Next week's issue of The Republican will be published on Tuesday, December 23, even though it will be dated December 25.

Normally The Republican would publish just one day before a holiday when that holiday falls on Thursday, but there will be no mail moving at all on Christmas day and will not move until the day after Christmas. Therefore this will give an opportunity for all newspapers to be delivered within a radius of at least 500 miles prior to the holiday.

Local correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their material not just one day earlier than usual, but two days earlier, and all others who desire to have news items published are requested to do the same.

The Republican office will be closed all day on Christmas day, Thursday, December 25.

The following week correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their material one day earlier than usual as the publication will be on Wednesday, December 31.

Two Accidents Occur Monday

Two motor vehicle accidents occurred in the county on Monday, one in Crellin and the other near McHenry.

At 12:50 p.m., a 1966 Chevrolet operated by Arlie Perlo Breedlove, Oakland, was attempting to pull from a private driveway into the eastbound lane of Route 39. The second vehicle, a 1963 GMC dump truck operated by James Lewis Fletcher, Connellyville, Pa., was also moving east, and attempted to pass Mr. Breedlove to avoid a rear-end collision. However, Mr. Breedlove swerved and the right fender of the dump truck struck the left side of the Breedlove automobile.

The Minnick ambulance was dispatched to the scene, but no one was injured badly enough to be hospitalized. An estimated $400 damage was sustained by the car and $150 by the truck, according to Tfc. Stephen Russell of the state police, who was called to investigate. Trooper Russell charged Mr. Breedlove with failure to grant right-of-way.

Trooper Russell investigated a second accident on Monday, this one at McHenry, when a Jeep operated by John Drago, Oakland, was struck in the rear by an automobile owned by the State Roads Department of Maryland and operated by Edison Beachy, LaVale.

Mr. Drago was attempting to plow snow from the area around a mailbox along Route 219 when he was struck by the State vehicle, which had applied the brakes and skidded into the Jeep.

No charges were made in the incident, which caused estimated $50 damage to the Jeep and $700 to the State car.

Two Cars Collide Dec. 6 On December 6, an unknown vehicle stopped suddenly in front of a car operated by Melda Jane Bittinger, of Grantsville. Miss Bittinger came to a halt only to be struck in the rear by a third vehicle, driven by Ira Ross Bageant, Baltimore.

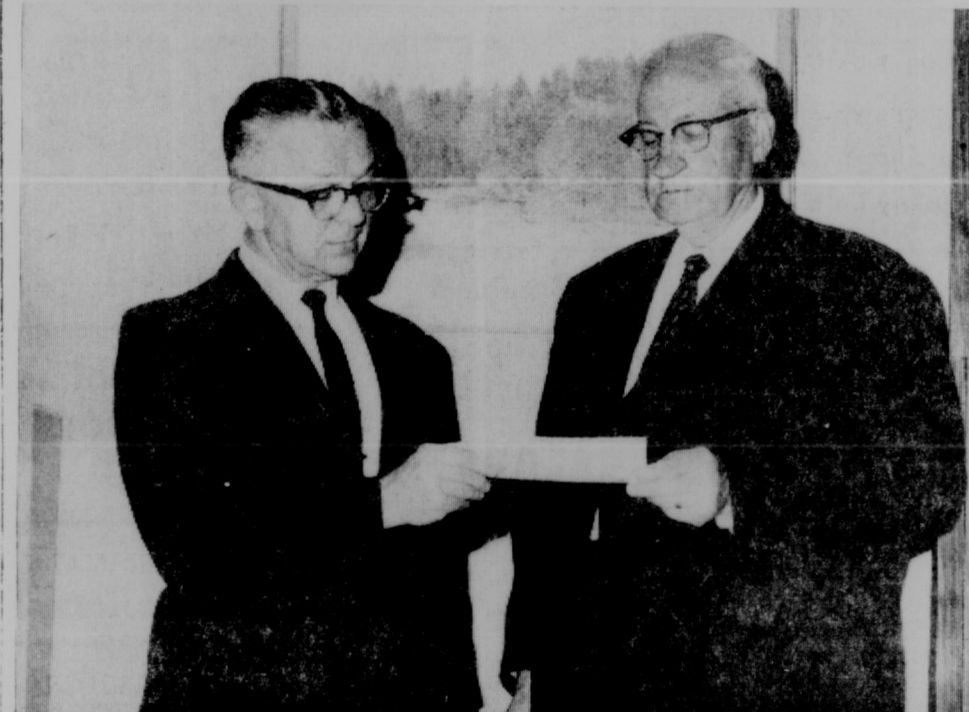

The mishap occurred on Route 40 five miles east of Grantsville. No charges have been made against either driver as yet.

Top Chamber of Commerce committee. The twentieth annual treat will be distributed on Saturday afternoon, December 20, at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Briner said that $750 would be needed to pay for the cost of the treat and he was hoping that the additional funds would be forthcoming.

SEASON FOR GIVING—This is the season for giving and receiving and on the receiving end this time were the Oakland Volunteer Fire company and Garrett County Memorial hospital. The top photo shows Earl Clark, projects chairman for the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, presenting James Rook, president of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department a check for $726.31, representing the profit from the Halloween celebration conducted in Oakland on October 30. The club plans another presentation of some $400 to the Promotion council to help with autumn gory activities.

The lower photo shows Thomas J. Johnson, right, with Merritt H. Feather, administrator of the hospital, receiving a substantial donation for the second cardiac unit for the hospital. Mr. Feather pointed out that this second unit would enable the hospital to give more extensive care to cardiac patients in the future. Mr. Johnson contributed a substantial amount to the hospital on a previous occasion.

County Co. Refuse Union Recognition

The County Commissioners, in official action on Monday afternoon, refused to recognize the AFL-CIO union as bargaining agent for the County Roads employees.

County roads workers are presently members of the County Roads Employees' Association.

The union officials claimed to have over 90 percent of the workers as desiring the union to be their bargaining agent.

There was discussion at a previous meeting of the County Commissioners, and two representatives of the AFL-CIO, Ernest Crofoot, Baltimore, council director, American Federation of State, County and Municipal employees, an affiliate of AFL-CIO; and Michael Linder, Cumberland, returned Monday afternoon to learn the result.

Hubert A. Friend, president of the commissioners, made a motion that the Garrett County Commissioners "shall retain their exclusive right to negotiate with all of the Garrett County Roads department, rather than with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, an affiliate of AFL-CIO." The motion was seconded by John Ross Sines, and made unanimous by Allen S. Paugh.

Three representatives of the County Roads Employees' association were present at the discussion on Monday.

Mr. Sines said the workers are already working under a contract with the Roads association, effective until June 30. Mr. Sines pointed out that laborers are paid $1.97 per hour, light operators $2.10; chauffeurs $2.27, operators $2.44 and shop foremen $2.59. He also pointed out that paid vacations are given, plus 30 days of sick leave each year which can accumulate up to 100 days.

It was also pointed out that the Commissioners could not legally check off union dues from a worker's pay check.

The Viet Cong will observe Christmas and New Year's truces of three days each, their leaders assert.

County Co. Refuse Union Recognition

Four charter members of American Legion, Procter Killow Post 71, of Oakland, were presented with life membership awards at the regular Monday meeting of the group.

The four, Ernest Gortner, Ed Lawrence, Robert Helbig, and Asa Lewis, have been members of the American Legion for 40 years or more.

Their awards commended them for their outstanding services throughout the years and for their loyalty to the American Legion.

Area Man Tried For Burglary Of Rosenberger Home

An area man was found guilty Monday of burglarizing the Nellie Rosenberger residence in Finzel on September 7, only three weeks after he was released from a 1968 sentence for the same offense.

Harold Walter Crawford had been sentenced to three years in the custody of the Commissioner of Correction in April, 1968, for burglarizing the Rosenberger home and also for carnal knowledge.

In Circuit Court Monday, he was found guilty of taking from the Rosenberger home a plastic wastebasket, a 22 cal. rifle, a revolver, a green and a pink piggy bank, two bottles of whiskey, a hunting knife, and a purse (Continued on Page Four)

Both students, and the Acorn photographer Edwin Walthall, then reported to the journalism class of Southern High School where they were interviewed by a member of the staff.

Minnick Not Indicted For Fatal Shooting

Gamble Pleads Guilty To Green Lantern Entering; Sentencing Pending

The September Term Grand jury, recalled Tuesday to hear testimony in the fatal shooting of Edward Clifford Hoak, 27, along U.S. Route 40 last Monday morning, December 8, did not return any indictment, it was revealed Tuesday afternoon by Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney.

Mr. Thayer said they had three witnesses before the jurors, including Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., deputy state medical examiner.

The Tarentum, Pa. man was shot and killed while attempting to rob the Green Lantern restaurant and service station, several miles east of Grantsville. The shooting was done by the proprietor, John Edward Minnick.

Mr. Minnick and his wife had been awakened about 5 a.m. by the sound of the intruders.

Mr. Minnick found a "hippie-type" individual with his arm and shoulder inside of a window that had been broken. He was ordered to stand still but fled. After being ordered to halt Mr. Minnick fired warning shots in the direction of the man who was later found dead in a snow bank about 150 yards from the service station.

A companion, William Robert Gamble, also of Tarentum, was apprehended near the scene.

The grand jury on Tuesday morning did indict Gamble on a charge of burglary.

Gamble was held in jail in default of $1,000 bond after a preliminary hearing December 8 before Oakland Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney. He waived grand jury indictment and asked an immediate trial.

He was tried in circuit court Wednesday morning before Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill. Fred Thayer filed criminal information for the court, charging Gamble with burglary, breaking and entering. Gamble pleaded guilty to the second charge after the first was dismissed by order of the State's attorney.

Sentence was withheld pending a pre-sentence investigation to be conducted by the Department of Parole and Probation.

Gamble, 27, was a first cousin of the deceased. He also had given his address as Tarentum, Pa., although he has spent most of his life in the Akron, Ohio area.

Mr. Gamble was last employed as a backhoe operator in Salt Lake City, Utah. He has a wife and two children living in Ohio.

Two Indicted For Escape Two other indictments were returned by the jurors prior to adjournment about 12:30 Tuesday afternoon. Both were for jail escape and concerned James Edward Lilley, on two counts, and Thaddeus Brown, on one count. The three persons indicted are in custody of the sheriff in the county jail.

Hospital Costs To Be Raised $4.00 For Room Rentals

An increase in room rents at Garrett County Memorial hospital was announced this week by the Board of Governors of the hospital. The increases are effective January 1.

Irvin Feld, president of the board, said the increase was due to increases in pay roll, medical supplies and equipment.

Beginning January 1 the semi-private room will cost $31 per day; wards and pediatrics, $25; new born infants, $7; and new born infants after mother is discharged, $8. Private rooms will run $34, $37 and $38 per day. Present rates are $27 for semi-private, $21 for wards and $30, $33 and $34 for private rooms. The increases amounted to an even $4 in each instance.

Gift of $1,000

The board also announced the receipt of a check from the treasurer of Mt. Bethel E. U. B. Sunday school, Mrs. Thomas P. Lohr, for $1,000, designated to be used toward equipping a private room in the new wing. The church was abandoned some time ago.

New Social Security Office Will Open On December 30

The Cumberland district office of the Social Security Administration will move into new quarters December 30, according to James Robertson, manager.

The Cumberland office handles the affairs of thousands of Garrett and Allegany county residents, as well as those residing in the Eastern panhandle of West Virginia.

A one-story brick structure measuring 64 by 64 feet and facing on Paca Street is nearly completed. The Jackard Construction Company, of Cumberland, was contractor for the General Services Administration. Cost of the building was $115,000. The present office on Pershing Street has been in use almost 20 years, since the quarters in the Post Office building became too crowded.

There are 14 persons presently on the SS staff to handle the area workload.

Unbeaten Southern Tops Valley 55-50

Coach Thomas Kuhn's Southern High School Rams rolled to their fourth consecutive victory Tuesday night when they whipped Valley High school's Black Knights at Oakland by the score of 55 to 50.

Trailing 41 to 35 at the end of the third period, Southern's unbeaten quint exploded for 20 points while holding the visitors to nine in the last period.

The Rams had beaten Union, Elk Garden and Bruce in PVC encounters prior to Tuesday night's non-conference tilt.

Bob Ridder and Lawrence Dawson were the Southern players in double figures with 17 and 15 tallies, respectively. The game's high point man, however, was Valley's Tim Rowan, who scored 22 points including a 10 for 12 performance at the charity stripe. Mike McGowan collected 11 points for the Lonaconing quint.

Others scoring for Southern were Shahan with 2, Browning with 9, Cosgray with 4 and Stuck with 8. Other scorers for Valley were Green with 2, Duncan, 5; Lamberson, 4; and Miller, 6. Purchase of fixed assets totaled $121,872.75 for equipment; $3,500 for land and $10,316.81 for buildings.

Under the heading of administrative and general expenses were $18,262.45, administrative salaries; $12,100 clerical; $80,399.57 for general foremen salaries; $90,589.32 for vacation, sick leave and holidays; debt service, $136,706.88.

The report on long term indebtedness showed a balance of $393,373.41, the county having paid $123,468.19 on principal. There are nine series of loans in effect.

The complete report appears in today's issue.

A special section on the report from the Liquor Control board showed a gross profit of $110,662.58 and a net profit of $43,178 after $62,617.29 in expenses were deducted. Of this amount $43,315.59 came from the Oakland dispensary and a minus of $37,59 from the Grantsville dispensary.

The clerk to the County Commissioners, Harold Adams, noted two errors in last week's report of receipts and expenditures, one of which he said was made by the Commissioners' office.

Under the heading, "received from other sources," was an item from dispensaries listed at $5,000 which should have read $50,000, Mr. Adams said. The other error appeared under Schools. The item received by the board of Education was correctly stated at $1,119,480. An extended set of figures should have been the same but was listed at $194,480.

Mrs. Rosenberg returned to her home on the evening of the seventh to find her porch light on and broken glass scattered over the porch. She went back to her car and drove to the home of her sister nearby, and was accompanied by her brother-in-law and a neighbor when they returned to investigate.

Criminal information filed by Fred A. Thayer, State's Attorney for this county, charged Crawford with burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill dismissed the last two charges, however.

Sentencing of Crawford was delayed until Wednesday pending the filing of a motion for a new trial by his attorney, Clarence Penman.

Mr. Penman's motion was denied in a hearing Wednesday morning.

Judge Hamill then sentenced Crawford to eight years in the custody of the Commissioner of Correction, and ordered him taken to Patuxent Institute for psychiatric evaluation to determine if he is a defective delinquent. His eight-year sentence is to run concurrently with one he is presently serving in Allegany county for burglary.

Hagerstown Man Sentenced

Gary Thomas Dunn, Hagerstown, who was charged along with Crawford for burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods from the Rosenberg home, entered a guilty plea to the first charge in a trial held last Thursday.

The latter two charges had been dismissed by order of the State's Attorney.

Dunn was sentenced to six years in the custody of the Commissioner of Correction for his part in the theft.

diseases of childhood, but a great threat now is drug abuse. We quarantine returning lunar astronauts for fear of moon germs, but we let garbage and other forms of filth pollute our land and our minds.

The Justice Department kills mergers that might work some financial hardship on the public but it lets ruthless unions halt production to the jeopardy of our whole economy. A commendable effort is made to put the U. S. post office on a reasonably efficient basis and the unionized postal employees take expensive ads to tell the public how tragic such a move would be.

Parents decry the tidal wave of pornography engulfing the land, then must learn a "code system" of alphabetical ratings to determine what motion pictures are suitable for what age groups in case they might want to take their children. U. S. Senators vote against confirming a distinguished nominee to the U. S. Supreme court on allegations of conflict of interest, then accept money from labor unions in the form of campaign contributions.

What this country needs is a return to basic morality, individual decency and intellectual honesty. It is time to put the Ten Commandments and the Constitution in the forefront of our moral and civil values.

These thoughts were conveyed in an article by W. L. Thornton, president of the Southern States Industrial council.

Legislature Eyes

Tight Money Bind

Maryland legislators, acting under pressure from their leaders and Gov. Marvin Mandel, approved Wednesday a package of bills designed to extricate the state from the current tight money squeeze and open up the home mortgage market in the suburbs of Washington, D. C.

The special session stretched into two days before the House and Senate completed action on bills to:

- Authorize the Board of Public Works to use $50 million dollars from surplus money in the general fund to finance lagging capital improvements projects.

- Remove a 5 percent interest ceiling imposed by the General Assembly on bonds it authorized last year.
- Exempt home loans guaranteed by the Federal Housing administration and the Veterans administration from regulation under Maryland usury laws.

The House balked at approving the $50 million measure until Mandel agreed to an amendment limiting how the money could be used by the Board of Public Works. As finally adopted the bill authorized the board to use the funds only for programs or projects approved by the leg-

On Freeway Link

The West Virginia State Roads commission has asked the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads for approval of a design for Appalachian Development corridor E through Preston county which would connect with the National Freeway from Maryland, through Garrett county.

The design calls for nearly 14 miles of road parallel to West Virginia 73 from Laurel Run to the Garrett county line.

When West Virginia completes its work along with Maryland, the Freeway will extend to Morgantown from Hancock.

The Freeway received top priority from Maryland and progress is being made on contracts for stretches as far as the Allegany-Garrett county line, which are due for completion in 1970.

Md. Legislature Overrides Veto

The Maryland legislature overwhelmingly over-rode a gubernatorial veto and retained a bill outlawing games and contests used by retail stores as promotional gimmicks.

at contests sponsored by gasoline service stations was challenged judicially after its passage in 1968. The court still is considering that statute.

Gov. Mandel vetoed the 1969 bill, saying it was too broad.

Independent Studies Program To Be Initiated In County

Preliminary plans being completed, a foundation has been established for the creation of another first at Southern. The innovation, an independent studies program for the students, will be initiated in the very near future.

Superintendent of county schools, Dr. Raymond McCullough, is originator and director of the program which was designed to broaden a student's knowledge and creativity in the area of his specific interests. The plan, now open to a limited number of seniors at Southern and Northern, may be extended to all senior high students if the trials prove successful.

A general scheme of the program is as follows: Any student in the twelfth grade who wishes to take advantage of the plan and who has either a study hall or an elective class he wants to drop from his schedule, is eligible. The student must then pinpoint the area in which he will concentrate his advanced studies. He should then locate a faculty advisor interested in helping him in his studies.

The job of the advisor is to aid the individual in formulating a plan of studies as well as to obtain necessary texts and apparatus for the individual.

The focus of the new program will at all times be on the student's individual needs.

In loving memory of Charles Rush, who passed away July 9, 1969.

Safe in the arms of Jesus, our loved one is at rest. His patience, his love, and his kindness.

Are memories we hold so dear. 'E'en though there are smiles on our faces.

O the sadness that lingers there just patiently waiting to join him.

In that home we know so fair. So sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

Huskies Victorious In Overtime Battle

George Seggie sank two foul tosses with 28 seconds remaining and dumped in a layup with 13 seconds showing on the clock to give Northern High a 69-67 double overtime victory over Bruceton Mills last night on the winners' court at Accident.

Seggie, who finished with a game high of 30 points for the Huskies, was the major guiding force which handed Northern its first victory in three games.

The Huskies had previously lost to Turkeloot twice and to Salisbury.

The visiting Bruceton quint tied the score near the end of regulation play on White's field goal and the four quarters ended in a 58-58 deadlock.

Northern fell behind in the first overtime but Gary King knotted its again on two free throws. Seggie wrapped it up with his heroics in the final seconds of the second overtime period.

Seggie was 14 for 18 at the charity stripe. Brad Beachy was the only other Northern cager in double figures with 12 points. Meyers had 9, Bach 7, Pinebaugh 4 and King 7 in Huskie scoring. R. Brennehan and Bender were non-scoring.

Buddy Connor had 23 markers for Bruceton and teammate Mike Fike had 17. Bruceton hit on 23 field goals to only 20 for Northern but the home team netted 29 to 48 free throws to 21 of 34 for Bruceton. Also scoring for Bruceton were Galloway 6, White 6, Kinsner 6, Dotson 3, Wolfe 6.

The teams were tied 12 to 12 at the quarter, 30 to 30 at the half and Bruceton led 44 to 43 at the third period.

The Huskies will play Union High school on the 19th at home.

Rented Automobile Found Abandoned Here December 10

A stolen 1969 Pontiac was found abandoned along Route 50 west of Red House on December 10, by Tfc. D. A. Smith of the Maryland State Police, who is investigating the whereabouts of the missing driver.

The car, reported stolen from Anne Arundel county on the tenth, belonged to World-Wide Rental agency, Arlington, Va. The man who had rented the vehicle called the agency the next day to report that the car had been stolen, but the man has since disappeared and has not yet been located for question-

Thirteen Violate Motor Vehicle Laws

Thirteen persons were stopped for motor violations during the past week, according to papers filed in the office of Oakland and Trial Magistrate Robert Jaroney.

Winona Blanche Weese, Oakland, who was charged with failure to yield right of way to vehicle, had the charge dismissed by order of the court.

Kenneth Junior Biser, Terra Alta, pleaded guilty to failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision, and was fined $5 and costs.

Nora Elizabeth Boniece, Swanton, pleaded not guilty to failing to grant right of way but was declared guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Howard Franklin Fear, Morgantown, was found not guilty of failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision after he pleaded not guilty.

Donald Lynn Dunn, Westernport, pleaded not guilty to failing to drive on right half of highway but was declared guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Also entering a not guilty plea was Robert Eugene Tasker, Deer Park, on the same charge. He, too, was found guilty and fined $10.

Among those who forfeited collateral and costs were:

Winter Firmly Controls Weather

A glance at the week's weather shows that winter is definitely in control here, as most of the days brought either sleet or snow.

Last Thursday the rain and snow continued through the day. Friday had extremely dark skies which showered alternating rain and sleet, and chill temperatures.

Skies cleared partially for Saturday, with comparatively mild weather. Blustery seemed to describe Sunday with its snow and high winds. The snow emergency plan was put in effect Sunday due to treacherous road driving conditions. Logan Weber, weather recorder at Weber's greenhouse, listed one and a half inches of snowfall on Sunday.

Monday brought four inches, and Tuesday three and a half. When measured on Wednesday, there were eight inches on the ground.

Temperatures have been dropping to the low teens during the nights, with a rise of around ten degrees during the day. Wednesday was sunny but cold; the mercury read only 13 at 8 a. m.

The temperature took a sharp drop early this morning, a low of zero being recorded. Skies this morning were partially clear with some cloud cover.

20 Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey of the State Police. Nine of those killed were drivers, seven were passengers, and four were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the fatalities, speed in twelve, and "driver error" in seventeen.

"Last week alcohol was a contributing factor in over one-third of Maryland's highway fatalities," commented Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police.

"It is indeed tragic that so many lives are taken each week because operators drink and then drive. . . a very definite safety hazard. The only way to eliminate the possibility of such tragedy is to stay from behind the wheel when you have been drinking. There is no way to drive safely when your ability has been impaired by alcohol. You're only kidding yourself if you believe otherwise."

The House passed a bill extending the present anti-poverty legislation for two years, rather than turning the programs over to the states.

Tree Damage From Pollution Discussed

Maryland and West Virginia air pollution control officials have indicated a willingness to take individual state action to solve the problem of growth damage to Christmas trees in the Oakland and Mt. Storm areas.

Officials met with concerned parties at the request of the National Air Pollution Control Administration during a consultation to determine if the suspected sulfur dioxide damage to Christmas trees in the vicinity named was urgent enough to be considered an interstate pollution problem.

It was pointed out that if the individual states take action there would be no need for interstate control under the NAPCA. The secretary of Health, Education and Welfare will make the determination if the problem is an interstate one.

The Monday meeting concerned the suspect cause, sulfur dioxide pollution, to the commercial Christmas trees in the Oakland and Mt. Storm area and followed complaints of growers about the stunted growth of the trees.

4-H'ers Win $50 Bonds

Public speaking, veterinary science and sheep work proved to be rewarding experiences for four 4-H Club youths who won $50 U.S. savings bonds.

They are 1969 state winners in 4-H competition supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Two of the winners won their state awards through their public speaking ability. Sixteen-year-old Lillian Dierker, Chestertown, and Carlos Scaggs, 15, Owings, received $50 bonds from Union 76 Division, Union Oil Company of California.

Miss Dierker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dierker, has given speeches on hunting, sewing, cooking, nature and sailing, and considers herself a well-rounded girl. "I've learned how to feel at ease and speak naturally in front of an audience," she said.

She said the training has taught her how to be a humble winner or just an "also ran."

"I have learned that failing to bring home the champion ribbon does not make you a failure. Instead, it means you have learned one more important point about bettering yourself, even if it's only knowing what not to do next time," she said.

When asked why he likes public speaking, Carlos Scaggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scaggs, replied, "I have been working with animals since I was very small."

"Through public speaking a 4-H'er is able to share," he said. Scaggs has been a 4-H member six years. "Did you ever try to give a lamb a bath?" asked Keith Ritter, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ritter, Laurel. A 4-H'er for seven years, Ritter said he solved the problem by acquiring an old bathtub which he uses to bathe the animals.

Training received in the sheep program includes blocking and fitting sheep for showing, feeding, control of internal parasites and flock management. Ritter has shown several grand and reserve champions.

He received his savings bond from Wilson & Co., Inc., A Subsidiary of Ling-Temco-Vought Inc., sheep program sponsor.

Sharon Wilson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Wilson, Parkton, has found veterinary science fascinating.

A 4-H'er for six years, she has presented demonstrations on various phases of the program. She said she likes the veterinary field because "I have been working with animals since I was very small."

One tip she has found useful: "A quick sign of telling when an animal is sick is loss of appetite." She said common sense also is a great asset.

She received her savings bond from The Upjohn Company as state 4-H Veterinary Science award winner.

man of NAPCA, explained the purpose of the consultation. Abatement procedures under Air Quality Control Act were explained by Donald F. Walters, director of the Division of Abatement.

Statements were given by Carl G. Beard II, secretary, West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission; and Jean J. Schueneman, chief of the division of Air Quality Control, Maryland State Department of Health.

Summaries of preliminary reports of investigations in September as well as slides showing tree damage, were given. It was noted in a report that the damaged trees were in the vicinity of three prominent sources of sulfur dioxide pollution, generating stations of Mt. Storm and Albright and the pulp mill operated by several other small industries.

A general discussion of the air pollution problem by federal and state officials followed. Government representatives, it was reported, felt that enough preliminary evidence was introduced to implicate the power plant at Mt. Storm as the major source of sulfur dioxide pollution in the area of concern.

VEPCO officials attended and full reports of the session will be provided concerned parties.

Issue Is Free Choice . . .

Efforts to organize U.S. agricultural workers drew national attention when union activities in the vineyards of California extended to the point of imposing boycotts against retail merchants handling table grapes.

The real issue in the grape boycotts is whether U.S. agriculture must submit to compulsory unionism and whether retail merchants can be compelled to remove items from their shelves by the force of boycotts thereby depriving U. S. consumers of free choice in the marketplace.

Farm groups all over the country have formed "Freedom To Market Committees" which have undertaken to correct the false images of the grape boycott and to uphold the right of consumers to buy in the marketplace. It is inconceivable that any single group in the U. S. should gain dictatorial powers over an industry as basic as agriculture. And yet, that is what present organizing efforts amount to.

As the Chicago Tribune comments: "If the union is successful in the vineyards it can move on to corral hundreds of thousands of workers in other crops."

as well. And with the power to strike at harvest time it would then have gained a dangerous degree of control over a significant portion of the nation's food supply. Congress should see to it that no union gets that much power."

College Brunch Is Postponed

The annual college tea, usually held before the Christmas holiday, has been tentatively re-scheduled for before the Easter or Spring vacation.

The longer Christmas holiday for Southern's students made the change necessary because the majority of college students will be returning home after the dismissal of school and returning to college before Southern's classes resume.

The tea is held every year to acquaint seniors with colleges and training schools. Alumni representing four year colleges and universities, two year colleges, business colleges, barber and beautician schools, vocational schools and general employment can give valuable information to upcoming graduates.

Girls Have Whirlwind Trip To National 4-H Congress

Danise Simpson Karen Leigh Kemp Judy Shockey

Three Maryland teens, who excelled in their 4-H projects, have returned from a whirlwind trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

They attended the 48th National 4-H Congress, saw museums, heard concerts and enjoyed a world championship rodeo, among other things.

Winners of the expense-free trip to the 4-H Congress were Karen Leigh Kemp of Princess Anne, Danise Simpson of Clarksville and Judy Shockey of Hagerstown. They were chosen for the trip awards by the Cooperative Extension Service, along with all the other congress delegates.

Miss Kemp, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kemp, won her trip from Allis-Chalmers as state winner in the 4-H Horticulture program.

For her project she has completed 474 flower arrangements, planted and cared for a vegetable and ornamental garden for six years and has given 44 demonstrations on horticulture.

Miss Kemp received her state championship award for her demonstration called "Proper Propagation."

Miss Simpson, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Simpson, was awarded her Chicago trip for being selected a sectional winner in the dairy program supported by White Oliver.

Previous honors awarded to Miss Simpson for her dairy project include a trip to Chicago for a National 4-H Dairy Conference in 1967 and grand champion awards during her nine years in the club.

Miss Shockey, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shockey, won her Chicago trip from Tupperware for her 4-H Home Management project.

Projects leading to her award included canning, food, clothing, dress revue, home improvement and horticulture.

Her biggest thrill, she feels, is being able to reply to people's compliments on her clothes: "Thank you, I made it myself."

James H. Rexrode, 21, was proceeding north on Swanton Road when he rounded a curve on the wrong side and collided with a vehicle operated by Orval Teets, 43, according to police.

A passenger in his car, Glenn Teets, went through the windshield and required some 70 stitches to close the resulting wound. He was kept overnight at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for observation.

Mr. Rexrode was taken to the hospital for treatment by Tfc. D. A. Smith, who investigated. Minnich ambulance transported Orval Teets to the hospital, where he was treated and released.

Charges are pending, according to the policeman who was called. An estimated $800 damage was done to the Teets vehicle; $1,500 to the Rexrode car.

Clement-Kemmerer Vows Recited December 12 In Washington, D.C.

Mrs. James F. Clement, the former Carol Kemmerer, of Washington, D. C., to Captain James Francis Clement of Green Washington, D. C., was married

Bay, Wis., on December 12. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George B. Kemmerer and the late Mr. Kemmerer, Salisbury. Mrs. Kemmerer is presently living in Oakland.

Mrs. Clement graduated in 1964 from Jefferson Medical College Hospital School of Nursing in Philadelphia, Pa., and is presently employed by Georgetown University in Washington, D. C.

Captain Clement is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Clement. He is a 1963 graduate of St. Norbert College in West DePere, Wis., and is presently employed by the U. S. Army at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. Captain Clement also is a student in the Master's program of Business and Management in George Washington University.

The bride wore a simple white satin gown with a wide, hand-headed neckline of pearls and small pink stones from North Africa. She wore roses and baby's breath in her upswept hair. Her bouquet was composed of shades of pink roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Marie Larchalk, Baltimore, wore a gown of heavy apple green and deep pink brocade, and carried a bouquet of roses and baby's breath. Her hair was styled in a Victorian pompadour with small flowers.

Michele Turney, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a high-necked Edwardian gown in pink velvet, trimmed in pink glitter. She also wore roses in her hair.

The ring bearer was Robert Clement, brother of the groom. The best man was Thomas A. Hickman, Chicago, Ill. Ushering guests were Richard Wall, Wausau, Wis., and Phillip Logan, Philadelphia. All the men in the wedding party wore Edwardian tuxedos. The bride was escorted to the altar by Jack R. Turney, Oakland, brother-in-law of the bride.

A champagne reception was held after the ceremony at the East India and Sporting Club.

Librarian Lists Library Programs

The libraries in Oakland and Grantsville will be closed on Wednesday, December 24 and Thursday, December 25.

A program of children's movies will be presented at Ruth Enlow library on Saturday, December 20, at 2:15 p. m. It will include: "The Littlest Angel," "Earth Sings," "Jiri Trinka" and "Cultivate Your Garden Birds."

A color television set has been placed in the room used for movies and story hours. This will make it possible to see in the library many of the educational television programs which are received in this area. The first program for which it will be used is the hour-long special "Sahara" to be telecast on Friday evening, December 19 at 7:30.

State Deer Kill Totals 5,991 In 1969

Hunters in Maryland killed 5,991 deer during the regular seven-day firearms season which ended December 6.

The Department of Natural Resources said this was 1,171 more than were killed during the firearms season last year. A one-day antlerless season was observed in 15 of Maryland's 22 counties on December 13. Garrett was not one of the counties which had the antlerless season, however.

Bow hunters killed 365 deer thus far this year. The bow season was closed during the firearms season, but resumed on Monday, December 15 and will continue through January 3, 1970. Bow hunters may kill one deer of either sex.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Uphold of Friendsville announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Kathryn, to George Ernest Prinkey, of Markleysburg, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Prinkey of Connellsville, Pa.

Miss Uphold is a graduate of Northern High School Class of '68. Mr. Prinkey is a graduate of Turkeyfoot High School Class of '66.

The wedding will be performed on Saturday, December 27, at the Laurel Run Church of God near Friendsville at 2 p. m.

A reception will be given at 3:30 p. m. at the Markleysburg Fire Hall.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend both the wedding and reception.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE FANTASTIC CELEBRATION

Background Scripture: Matthew 1.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 52:7-10.

It was the most lavish birthday party anyone had ever seen or imagined. The banquet hall had never been more gayly or colorfully decorated. Waiters were hurrying back and forth between the kitchen and the long tables, bringing a seemingly endless procession of heaping platters of exotic foods.

The conversation at the tables was gay and punctuated with hearty laughter. Adding to this hubbub were the strains of several orchestras and choruses performing in various parts of the vast hall.

"Happy Birthday!"

While merry people stuffed themselves with the rich food, entertainers passed among the tables performing songs, dances, stunts, and tricks to an audience that gave only half its attention at best. No one seemed to mind the confusion, however, and it grew as the evening went on.

Finally, there was an ear-splitting blast of trumpets and people turned expectantly, ready to listen to the popular master of ceremonies. "Ladies and gentlemen," he began in a loud voice that resounded through the great hall, "let us all join in singing 'Happy Birthday!'"

Hundreds of voices massed together with the combined orchestras and filled the hall with:

Happy birthday to you,
Happy birthday to you,
Happy birthday, dear . . .
(There was an inaudible mumble at the place where the name should have been, but everyone recovered and finished.)

Happy Birthday to you!

A great ovation followed the song.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother, Emma Deal, who passed away December 19, 1968. In our hearts your memory lingers.

God alone knew what was best. You could not stay with us on earth. For he whispered, "come and rest."

You had a smile for everyone. A heart as pure as gold. To those that knew and loved you.

Your memory will never grow old. Sadly missed by daughter and son-in-law.

J. Glenn Beall, Jr. Reports from Washington

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Drugs, and the problem of controlling their traffic and use is a matter of growing national concern. President Nixon recently focused attention on this problem by having a conference of the nation's governors and their families at the White House. At this conference the laws pertaining to drug abuse and the control of drug traffic were discussed.

While it is hard to determine just how extensive the use of drugs is, the Federal Narcotics Bureau states that there are 64,001 known hard narcotic addicts in the United States and 1940 known addicts in Maryland. Unofficial estimates are often much higher. It is also unofficially estimated that in some areas as many as one in five of our high school students and one in three of our college students have used drugs of one kind or another. The problem is growing because the use is no longer confined to the urban areas, but is now spreading into the rural and less populated parts of our country. Part of the difficulty comes about because of the fact it is very profitable to deal in drugs.

For example, one kilo of heroin (a kilo is slightly more than two pounds) processed in France costs about $25,000. When this kilo is finally cut, as is generally done with milk sugar or some other similar substance, and put on the market, enough individual packets of heroin are produced to generate sales amounting to about $225,000.00. When viewed from an addict's position, this means a personal cost of $75.00 to $100.00 a day—seven days a week—to finance his habit. You can see, therefore, that the margin of profit is extremely high. Unfortunately, most of the traffic in drugs of this type is controlled by the Mafia and is very cleverly done.

The changes in the laws, therefore, are pointing toward the direction of getting at the person who sells drugs rather than the person who uses it. It is felt that if the penalty for the user is minimal, if any at all, then it will be easier to get information as to who is actually selling the narcotics. Lesser penalties may also be an aid in addict rehabilitation. The present changes recommend very stiff penalties for those people who do deal in dangerous drugs.

The nature of the problem is such that answers won't be found merely by changing or improving the laws. Education is at the base of solving the problem of drug abuse. It is the responsibility not only of the government but of all of our citizens to point out, particularly to our young people, the dangers of

Southern Rams Down Bruce 71-61

Bob Ridder, converting eleven of 15 foul tosses and successful on thirteen shots from the floor, scored 37 points last Friday night as Southern High Rams took a hard fought 71 to 61 triumph over Bruce High of Westernport. It was the third straight victory for the Rams this season.

Larry Dawson added 15 markers to the Southern total while Stuck added nine, Shahan 8, Browning 2. The Rams led at the end of the first quarter 24 to 19, maintained a slight advantage at halftime 37 to 32 and held on after three periods of play 51 to 42. Bruce climbed to within three points during the final period but Southern broke away for several additional baskets to ice the game.

The Rams hit on 28 fielders to 26 for the Bulldogs and on 15 of 22 free throw attempts to a nine for 16 total for Bruce.

Kenny Alkire was Bruce's high scorer with 27 markers on 12 field goals and three for six foul throws. Kalbaugh added 14 for the losers.

In the preliminary encounter, Southern's junior varsity defeated Bruce 34 to 26.

Others scoring for Bruce were Shaffer 2, Lupis 6, Fazenbaker 1, Coleman 2.

School Closes For Holiday Friday, December 19, is the final day of school preceding the seventeen day Christmas vacation.

Classes at Southern will resume on January 5.

Rams To Face Tunnelton Dec. 22 The Southern Rams will travel to Tunnelton High School to play the Thunderbirds Monday, December 22.

This will be the last game before the Christmas vacation. The junior high team will play the preliminary at 6 p. m. The varsity game will be played at 7:30 p. m.

Last year the Rams won the first encounter with Tunnelton on Southern's court by a score of 65 to 60. They lost the second encounter with the T-birds at experimenting with narcotics. It is hoped that the President's conference and a nation wide program to educate the public to these harmful effects will be successful in diminishing the influence of narcotics in our society.

Tunnelton by a score of 6 to 87. Senior Chorus Gives Production The senior chorus presented their annual Christmas program, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," to the student body this week.

Students in grades 7, 8, 9, and 10 saw the play on Monday while juniors and seniors were entertained on Tuesday. Mrs. Mary Douglass, noted pianist in Oakland, Mrs. Marjorie Clever, and Miss Rhonda Rodeheaver accompanied the chorus. The production was under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Turney.

Christmas Chorale And Tea The PTA sponsored its annual tea in the cafeteria Wednesday night. The reception at 7:30 preceded the presentation of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" by the senior chorus.

French Classes Have Banquet Members of Mrs. Whitehair's and Mrs. Hutchinson's eighth grade French classes are holding a French banquet tonight in the cafeteria. The occasion features French entertainment and plenty of French food.

Retirement Dinner Honors Josie Iden 48 Years A Teacher

By Carol Canan

"If you ain't had Miss Iden for a teacher, you ain't learned anything" is a tongue-in-cheek saying around Oakland concerning Miss Josie Iden, who retired this year after 48 years as an elementary teacher.

Miss Iden, who helped mold the education of some 3,000 pupils, was honored December 13 at a dinner at the American Legion home in Oakland for her many years dedicated to her profession. Approximately 47 were present to hear Miss Iden's life history and to see her presented with an initialed pin, a black leather handbag and a red rose corsage from her fellow teachers at Dennett Road School, where she taught sixth grade for the past twelve years.

Her brother, Robert, of Morgantown, sent a bouquet of roses which were presented to her at the dinner.

Among the guests at the dinner, in addition to Miss Iden herself, were two retired teachers, Mrs. Margaret Liller and Miss Lucille Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Elias, and the members of the county Board of Education.

Miss Iden's hometown of Davis has remained home to her all these years, as she drove back and forth to work daily.

Her elementary and high school education took place in Davis, after which she attended Fairmont State Normal and received her Standard Normal certificate, equivalent to two years of college. She finished her education at West Virginia Wesleyan College and West Virginia University and also attended the University of Maryland.

The first five years of her career were spent in West Virginia in Sell School, a one-room building where she had all eight grades. Following this, she began teaching in Garrett County. She spent nine years at the Old Annex building and at Center Street before she was transferred to Dennett Road.

For now, Miss Iden plans to busy herself with church and social activities, and to clean house, which no doubt contains many memories and mementoes of "her" 3,000 boys and girls.

The Tyrant Society

By Dwight Harvey

I recently saw a newspaper article which read to the effect that with the secrets of genes and chromosomes and life, itself about to be unlocked, we will soon be able to control and select the traits of unborn children. We will be able to create as many Einsteins or Kennedys or Freuds as we choose. In short, we will be able to control what a person will be like in order to make society better, just as we now control certain aspects of individual's lives. But is this ethical or desirable? I say "NO!" Society exists for men—men do not exist for society.

Advocates of this human control may defend it by saying that it will improve the quality of our society and make it better able to serve us. I don't think this is the case, though. Who would decide what characteristics a person would have? It would naturally have to be up to society, the majority of the members of the society, to decide. Ultimately then, everyone would come to exist purely for the society.

This plan for controlled human traits might also be detrimental. Who could know when an unborn child might be born with traits even greater than Einstein's or some other person he would be made into?

Society exists not only for man as a group but also for the individual. Under the present system of characteristic control, not only are the individual's rights invaded, but the individual is himself lost and becomes only an assembly-line product of society.

Therefore, human characteristics should not be controlled in

Bayard Takes Lead In Mt. Top League

Bayard took sole possession of first place in the Mountain Top Basketball league by dumping previously unbeaten Elk Garden 78 to 69 last Thursday night. The victory was the fifth straight for Bayard while Elk Garden is now 4-1.

Bob Harman and Bill Kopfle paced Bayard with 18 points each while Gary Bosley slammed in 17 and Jim Fulk hit 14. Charley Smith sparked Elk Garden with 21 markers while Jerry Waybright canned 15 and Bert Mason 10.

In another game Thursday night the Teachers romped over Deep Creek Lake by the margin of 83 to 56.

Harland Carlson and Jay Rice shared 44 points for the Teachers while Bill Frost had 18 and Mike Posey 12. Denny George and Jim Braskey had 16 and 14 respectively for the Lakers.

any way. Society may stop individuals from harming society or other individuals, but it should not and must not control or impinge upon the rights of any individuals either for its own sake or to improve the lot of its members.

A Christmas Prayer . . .

We give thanks on this Christmas Day to you, O Lord, who are greater than man. Without you there is no world, no life, no eternity.

Forgive those who cannot see you and do not believe in you and give them hope.

Bless those who are poor, sick and without the means to carry on. Help them to find a way.

Forgive the protestors who do not know what they are protesting about, for they have strayed from the path of tolerance.

Bless the past mortals who have given their lives for freedom, for country and for what they thought was right. Bless their loved ones and give them strength.

Forgive the draft card burners who exercise the rights of free men without the willingness to fight for their rights—they know not what they do.

Bless those who celebrate the day of the Savior's birth in the spirit in which it was intended, for they know the real meaning of Christmas.

Forgive those who have allowed the birthday of Christ to become a day of commercialization. They have been willingly misled.

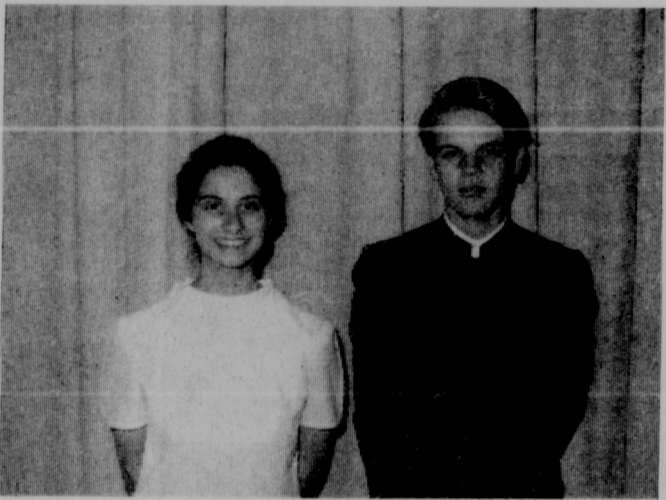

Bless the children of the world for it is truly their day. Guide them in their choices through life and protect them from fear, want, and lack of love.

Forgive the ones who take advantage of others, who use their positions for selfish motives, who are intolerant, and not understanding. Bless the underprivileged, the meek, the peace makers and the righteous who live the righteous life. And finally, give our leaders strength in these troubled times and help them to make the right decisions in crises.

It is Christmas and Christ our Savior is born.

Night Skiing Hours Are Listed

Skiing hours at the Wisp area will be slightly changed during Christmas and New Year's weeks, according to the information center there.

During Christmas week and also during the New Year week the slopes will open at 9 a.m. and remain open until 5 p.m.

Night skiing will be allowed only on December 28 and January 2, from 6 until 10 p.m.

Regular hours for the ski slopes are from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. weekdays, and from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on weekends.

Slopes are open for night skiing Wednesday through Friday from 6 until 10 p.m.

The Wisp has as its ski instructor for the third consecutive year Karl Gumbhalter, a certified Austrian and American ski instructor.

New equipment for this year at Wisp includes a rope tow, making two such tows in addition to the double chair lift, poma lift, and double T-bar. Also new this year are two more pieces of snow-making equipment, which allow the Wisp to cover three-fourths of the slopes with artificial snow.

Ski conditions since last Sunday have been excellent with a base of eight to ten inches under approximately six inches of new snow.

Mail Cancellations 6,110 Ahead Of Last Year

Mail cancellations during December are running 6,110 above last year's amount for the same period, according to Guy Wm. Hinebaugh, postmaster at the Oakland post office.

Through December 18, some 160,238 pieces of mail had been cancelled at the Oakland facility. A total of 154,128 mail cancellations had been listed for that time during 1968.

The peak day up until the 18th was December 16, when 15,332 outgoing mail cancellations were made.

Bolden Is Speaker At Optimist Meet

DeCorsey Bolden, Oakland, was master of ceremonies and speaker at the semi-annual 150 club dinner meeting of the Oakland Optimist club held Thursday evening, December 18, at the 135 Drive In restaurant.

Bolden spoke briefly on Optimism and the present "generation gap."

Approximately 40 members and guests were present.

Heavy Snow Is Noted Sunday

Seven To Nine Inches Falls And More Is Expected

Old Man Winter looked more like a snowman than ever this week as some nine inches of fresh snow covered the three or more inches which fell last Friday, making the recent event one of the heaviest of the present season.

The State Roads commission had 24 men and 18 pieces of machinery at work in Garrett county in clearing the highways. County roads workers also were kept busy with their plows throughout the night. There was no problem with school, since classes had dismissed for the Christmas holidays last Friday, but some of the surrounding counties had school holidays. Allegany county schools were closed on account of the seven-inch snowfall in that area.

The State Roads commission gave the final snow tabulation in this county at 10 and one-half inches and that the county has had 61 inches of snow since the first of November.

More snow was predicted for Tuesday.

A brief run-down of the week's weather showed last Thursday as cloudy with a drizzle falling. Friday brought 25 degree temperature and heavy snowfall after a night of rain and sleet, totaling over three (Continued on Page Four)

New Jurors To Get Questionnaires

Questionnaires to 200 prospective jurors will be sent out by the Garrett County Circuit court on Wednesday, January 7, the first step under the new state-wide random jury-selection law.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill said the new law would apply to the March term here.

When questionnaires are returned to the Court, ineligible will be weeded out and a "master list" of jurors compiled. These persons will be eligible to serve for one year.

At the end of the year the selection process will be repeated.

The new system provides fewer exemptions from jury and is designed to select from a broader base of population representing a cross-section of the county.

The random drawing will be by number. The numbers will be placed in a container from which Judge Hamill as administrative judge, will draw one number. Using that number as a base, prospective jurors will be selected by taking each 200th name thereafter from the voting rolls as compiled by the Board of Election Supervisors.

Then the questionnaires will be sent. Upon return of the questionnaires those eligible will be placed in the master juror file and each assigned a number, also by draw. Both grand and petit jurors will come from this file.

The jury qualification form soon to be mailed must be returned within ten days. The questionnaire will include name, age, sex, address and zip code; if residing outside Oakland, how many miles in travel one way?

Social security number and phone number; education, national origin, occupation and spouse's occupation; length of residence in county; prior jury service; physical or mental impairment; ability to read, write and understand the English language; whether or not you have been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic offense.

The form also includes a place for signature of the prospective juror to be affixed under penalties of perjury if any of the information is not true.

Whether or not a juror may be excused from jury service will be determined by the judge.

Judge Hamill said any person interested in observing this process should report to the Court room on January 7, at 10 a.m. for the initial drawing of the 200 citizens.

Send in Material One Day Early For Next Week's Issue

Next week's issue of The Republican will be published on Wednesday, December 31, even though it will be dated January 1st.

This is normal for The Republican which usually publishes one day early before a holiday when that holiday falls on Thursday. No mail will be moving on New Year's day and will not move until the day after, Friday, January 2.

Local correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their material one day earlier than usual, and all others who desire to have news items published are requested to do the same.

The Republican office will be closed all day on Thursday, January 1, New Year's Day. The publication date will not move until the following week.

Freeway Section Contract Awarded

The State Roads commission has awarded the contract for another section of the National Freeway from Vocke Road to the Vale Summit road at Clarysville, all in Allegany county, according to John D. Bushby, district SRC engineer.

The low bid of the Central Pennsylvania Quarry, Stripping and Construction company of Hazleton, Pa., was accepted. Mr. Bushby said that notice to proceed with the work will probably be made soon after the first of the year.

Cost of the contract is $3,249,894 and the work will include grading, drainage and paving of the dual lane Freeway. Mr. Bushby said the contract also includes paving of a dual lane section from Vocke Road to U.S. route 40 intersection and this will be done next summer.

Also included in the work will be the dualization of Winchester road from U.S. route 40 intersection to a point near the Hill-Lane Roller Rink. A short section of U.S. route 40, from its intersection with Winchester road to a point near the Crystal Drive-in theatre where ramps on and off the Freeway will be installed is another part of the overall contract, Mr. Bushby said.

Mr. Bushby said that grading work will be done on the new Freeway section during the winter months. The Hazelwood Construction company has the contract for a dual lane bridge structure over Winchester road which will connect the Freeway sections. Work on this bridge is currently underway with the driving of steel piling.

Three accidents occur since Friday

Three automobile accidents have occurred in the area since last Friday, when a two-car collision on Route 40 sent three to Sacred Heart hospital for treatment.

At approximately 12:30 p.m. Friday, Lynn Louise Stemple, Newark, Del., was proceeding west on Route 40. According to the report filed in the Oakland State Police office, she was unable to see due to blowing snow and dropped off the roadway onto the shoulder, then skidded across the center and struck a vehicle operated by Robert Joseph Mace, Sr., Cumberland.

Mr. Mace, a passenger, John Mace, LaVale, and Miss Stemple were taken by Newman ambulance to the hospital.

According to the report filed by Tpr. Charles Loeber, who investigated, no charges will be made.

Snowplow Struck

On Saturday, a county snowplow being driven south on the New Germany Road was struck by a vehicle operated by William Allen Clinton Irwin, of LaVale.

The plow, operated by Ann Edward Wilhelm, Lonaconing, was moving across a single-lane (Continued On Page Four)

★enriches those who receive, without impoverishing those who give.

★creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in a business, and is the countersign of friends.

★is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and nature's best antidote for trouble.

★cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen, for it is something that is of no earthly good to anybody unless it is given away.

★None are so rich they can get along without it, and none so poor but are richer for its benefits. For nobody needs a smile as much as those who have none left to give!

★And if, in the Christmas rush, some of us may have been too tired to give you a smile, we hope you left one of yours. We'll come up smiling again in 1970, with good news.

Father of Seven Tried For Non-Support Monday.

A Bethlehem man, father of seven children under 12 years of age, was brought before Oakland Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, December 22, on charges of non-support of his family.

The charges were brought by Betty Paugh against her husband, Charles Paugh. Mr. Paugh entered a not guilty plea before the Magistrate, but was declared guilty and sentenced to six months in the custody of the Commissioner of Correction.

In the only other criminal charge heard during the past week, Harold Smith charged Troy Smith with disorderly conduct on December 6 at his home near Deer Park.

Mr. Smith was found not guilty in a trial held December 15.

Water, Sewerage Needs Outlined To Year 2015

Water and sewerage needs for all the towns in the area and for Deep Creek Lake were outlined in a public meeting held in Oakland December 22.

A representative from the consulting engineering firm of Rummel, Klepper and Kahl was present to tell the group of approximately 20 persons of the expected increase in area population and the resulting water and sanitation problems. A larger crowd had been expected to attend, but the snowfall and hazardous driving conditions kept many away.

According to the representative, the county population will reach 36,600 by the year 2015 an increase of approximately 16,600 in the next 45 years.

He also estimated the population jumps for the various towns in the county, and said that McHenry would have the largest increase as it climbed from 450 residents to 2,300.

The rise in population was attributed to an increase in recreational and industrial facilities.

The various towns are listed below, with the first number being the current population followed by the projected population for 2015:

Oakland, 2,200 to 4,000; Accident, 200 to 450; Grantsville, 400 to 850 and possibly to 1,200; Friendsville, 600 to 1,000; Bloomington, 500 to 800; Kitzmiller, 535 to 800; Crellin, 300 to 600; Deer Park, 400 to 750; McHenry, 450 to 2,300; Mt. Lake Park, 1,100 to 1,950; Loch Lynn, 500 to 950.

In addition to his parents, wife and son, he is survived by one brother, Gary Sisler, and one sister, Shirley Sisler, both at home; and his grandmother, Mrs. Stella Lowdermilk, Mt. Lake Park.

Auto insurance rates in W. Va. increased 14.9 percent.

Waiting Patiently?—A few of the children gathered rather early at the portal of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, to wait patiently for the arrival of Santa Claus and the ensuing distribution of candy.

The distribution was made on Second Street, at the Liberty street corner, and some fifteen hundred children were provided the treat consisting of candy, pop corn balls and oranges.

The Senate voted down a Southern move to postpone desegregation.

Charles G. Friend, 35, Riverdale, formerly of Friendsville, died Saturday, December 20 in Holy Cross Hospital, Silver Spring, of injuries sustained in a car accident.

Mr. Friend was injured in a highway accident Friday night.

Born near Uniontown on June 9, 1934, he was a son of Samuel and Berna (Friend) Friend, of Friendsville.

He was a veteran of the Korean conflict and was self-employed as a painter.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice (Coddington) Friend; two sons, Charles and Samuel Friend, both at home; three daughters, Vickie, Connie and Patricia Friend, all at home; three brothers, Samuel Friend, Hazelton, W. Va.; Robert Friend, with the Army in Germany, and Jerry Lee Friend, Gaithersburg, and four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Cunningham, Uniontown; Mrs. Erma Welcher, Hollidaysburg, Pa.; Janet Brady, Berwyn Heights, and Mrs. Mary Smith, East Freedom, Pa.

The body was brought to the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville. A service was conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Blooming Rose Methodist church with Rev. Howard Pentz officiating. Interment followed in the church cemetery. Military rites were accorded by members of Proctor-Kildow Post 71.

New Draft Plan Is Outlined At Recent Meet

Draft Delinquents First; No Change In Classification, Deferment

The clerk-coordinators of the Selective Service boards in Oakland, Frostburg and Cumberland were told in a seminar in Hagerstown that nobody knows what is going to happen to the draft in 1970, so don't try to answer questions about it.

Major Humphrey May, field division chief of the Maryland Selective Service, made the statement at a meeting attended by draft board personnel from Western Maryland counties.

Men will be called, he said, in this order:

1. Draft delinquents.

2. Volunteers, in order of dates they volunteered.

3. Men born from 1944 through 1950 and classified "I-A" except for "Kennedy fathers," in random sequence.

4. The "Kennedy fathers," which are men born from 1944 through 1950, classified "I-A," and married on or before August 26, 1965, in random sequence.

5. Men 19 years old or older who were born in 1951, in order of age with oldest first.

6. Men 26 to 34 years old still eligible for the draft, in order of age with the youngest first.

7. Men 18½ years old or older, in order of age with the oldest first.

He pointed out that Maryland's draft call for January is 190, a relatively low number. Major May said he did not expect the draft call would go beyond the third category "unless a general war breaks out."

Within the random sequence, Major May said, men will be selected in order of the birth dates which were drawn at random.

Men with the same birth dates, he further stated, will be selected in order of the initial letters of their last names, according to the random drawing of numbers in the national lottery.

Men with the same birth dates and last names will be selected in order of the initial letters of their first names. Men with the same birth dates and last and first names will be selected in order of their middle initials.

He said all the classified names in Maryland will be put into the same sequence, instead of each local Selective Service board being given a quota and setting up its own sequence.

Major May emphasized that there is no change in classification procedures, deferments or rights of appeal. A person whose deferment expires, he said, will go into the selection sequence, not at the bottom, but according to his birth date and the initial of his name.

CREATIVE WRITING

The best creative writing is contained in the bits and scraps sent to Santa Claus. It will not win literary award, but it contains the ultimate in excitement, drama and the poetry of the soul.

To the writer, Santa Claus is not a red-frocked myth. He is as real and as vital as love, hunger, tears and passion fulfilled.

MARCIE AND SANTA

Marcie clutched her mother's hand, firmly. "Mommy, I don't think I want to. Let's come back later."

Ann Sanders looked down at her child, disapprovingly. "Marcie, this is the third time I have stood in this line with you, for a quarter of an hour or longer. We're only a few minutes away, and this time we're going all the way."

Marcy flinched. "But, mommy, I don't think I have really made up my mind yet. I'd like to think about it some more. Can't we wait a little while? Please, mommy."

Ann shook her head. "I have to be home in thirty minutes to start supper. Your father has a club meeting tonight and he will be very unhappy if dinner is not ready on time. You wouldn't want daddy to be mad with us, would you?"

"No, mommy. Let's go home. Let's leave now."

Ann rubbed her teeth together. "We're staying, Marcie. This time we aren't getting out of line."

The child shifted nervously, from one foot to the other. "Mommy, I think I have to go to the rest room."

"Well, let's wait another minute or two," Ann muttered under her breath, "deliver me, deliver me."

And, finally the end of the line.

"Hello, there." The voice was deep, resonant and friendly.

Marcie looked up, and froze. "And, what is your name, little girl?"

Marcie looked at her mother. "Mommy, I have to . . ."

Ann gave the child a gentle shove. "You have to give your name. Tell him your name is Marcie."

Marcie said, "My name is . . ." and again she froze.

"Mommy, I really have to . . ."

The big man reached down and gently hoisted the child to his knee. "You're a big girl, Marcie. And, a pretty one, too. Pretty as any I've seen today. Would you like to tell me what it is you want for Christmas?"

Marcie managed, with effort, to look into the big, friendly eyes. "No, I want to . . ."

Ann stepped forward. "Very well, Marcie. Come on. Other children are waiting in line."

Marcie reached out toward her mother, then drew back. She looked again into the friendly eyes. "Are you really Santa Claus?"

Marcie said, "My name is . . ." and again she froze.

The big man laughed. "Ho . . . Ho . . . Ho. Sure, I am Santa Claus. See my suit? See my beard? Santa Claus is the name."

Marcie seemed convinced. "O.K. I want a new doll. And a new oven for making cookies. And, a pair of roller skates. And, a new bicycle. I want a new blue dress . . ."

Santa winced. "Gracious, you . . ."

But Marcie wasn't finished. "And, my doll house is pretty old. How about some new shoes? Could I get some new shoes, too?"

"New shoes," Santa repeated. "Here, let me get out my pencil and paper. I need to write some of this down."

"You don't have to," Marcie said, extending her hand, palm upward.

Santa took the crumpled piece of paper and unfolded it. "My, my, just look here. What a big girl! She has everything written down. Thank you, Marcie. This makes it quite easy for old Santa."

Marcie jumped to the floor. "Be sure not to forget anything."

Ann took the child by the hand and started for the door. "Marcie, if I had known you had that list, we would have mailed it and saved all this time. Oh, I forgot. You wanted to go to . . ."

Marcie giggled. "Aw, mommy, remember what Santa said. I'm a big girl. Don't you think I can wait until we get home?"

Friendsville Right-Of-Way Dispute Settled Friday

Ross Fike and Frances Fike, Friendsville, plaintiffs, and Reda L. Frazee and Theodore W. Frazee, defendants, also Friendsville, were all claiming a 15-foot section of land between two houses listed as a right-of-way between the two properties. The land had been included in the Frazee property title.

The two claimants and their attorneys settled the case between themselves before the case went to the jury. The Frazees agreed to relinquish their claim to the right of way, while the Fikes agreed to establish a boundary line between the two houses.

which are stunted and misshapen. Dr. Custer, who used to cut 10,000 trees per year, expects to have fewer than 1,000 this year.

According to the article, "One scraggly group of trees, only two miles from the belching smokestacks, may well be Custer's last stand on that site."

Scientists called in by the National Air Pollution Control Administration found that sulfur dioxide in the fumes kills the tips of some trees and causes others to lose their needles or grow buds in unsightly clusters. The power company argues that insects, not pollutants, are to blame, and plans completion of a third power unit in 1973.

Article On Local Tree Pollution Appears In "Time"

The December 19 issue of "Time" magazine carried an article on local Christmas tree pollution, with reference to the losses sustained by Virgil Steyer, Jr., and Dr. F. D. Custer, local tree growers.

The article further stated that since 1966 when the plants were fired up, harvests of the area's tree farmers have dropped as much as 90 percent. Steyer, who usually markets 20,000 trees, is watching empty trucks drive away, unwilling to take trees

Local Holstein Excels In Milk Production

Fanny Maple Eden Master Mary 6780550, a three-year-old Registered Holstein in the herd tested for G and E Cattle Co., Inc., Accident, has produced a noteworthy record of 17,810 lbs. of milk and 650 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

The information is made available through the cooperative efforts of the state and local testing associations and Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Dairymen enrolled in the program pay for the service.

This level of production may be compared to the average U. S. dairy cow's estimated annual output of 8,821 lbs. (4,103 quarts) of milk containing 325 lbs. of butterfat. Official testing participation increases the value of the herd and provides recognition for record breaking performance.

TREE COOKIES

The nicest Christmas trees ever are those trimmed with garlands of popcorn and cranberries and home made cookies. It's an old-fashioned idea that few mothers take time for any more. Even if you prefer your tree laden with tinsel and lights and expensive ornaments, don't overlook the joy of making cookies for Christmas. It adds a warm and hospitable aroma to the house and gives children an inner happiness that can never be bought or forgotten.

Money Crises Bills Signed by Governor

Gov. Marvin Mandel signed into law last Thursday the three bills for which he had called the General Assembly into special session last Tuesday and Wednesday, December 16 and 17.

The measures take the state out of the financial crisis in which it discovered itself by its inability to sell construction bonds within the 5 percent legal ceiling.

In addition to removing the ceiling, the bills Mandel signed also authorized him to use $50 million of a predicted $79.5 million surplus to pay for capital improvements through June.

Still another measure exempts federally insured mortgage loans from provisions of the state's usury laws in an attempt to renew the flow of mortgage money into Maryland.

The governor signed 15 additional bills, most of them local measures removing the interest ceiling from various county and municipal bonds, and one authorizing payment of expenses of the legislators for the two days they were here.

PARADE OF THE GIGANTES

One of the most exciting features of Christmas, which everyone in Spain attends, is called "Parade of the Gigantes". Immense figures 20 or 30 feet high are made from wood or cardboard representing kings, queens, historical or even a mythological figure. These are carried by men of vigor.

The figures are placed on their shoulders (with the aid of a peephole . . . and a snorkel to breathe through) and jig and whirl and frolic, to the music of life and drum. A pair of gypsies usually follows along passing the hat among the parade watchers and collecting pesos with great hilarity. This later goes to their favorite charity.

UNUSUAL STAMP

The 1968 Christmas stamp for Canada had an unusual design. It featured an Eskimo carving of Mother and Child by Munamee of Cape Dorset, Baffin Land, which was presented to Queen Elizabeth during her visit to Canada in 1951.

Feast Of St. Lucia

In Sweden, the Christmas season is ushered in on December 13th, the Feast of St. Lucia. Each community chooses a lovely Lucia queen to represent the young girl martyred for her religion centuries before in ancient Rome.

The chosen Queen is feted and entertained royally. In families with daughters, throughout Sweden, the prettiest is traditionally chosen as Lucia. Her "gift" is to wait on everyone else for the day.

Happyville Christmas

Once there was a village called "Happyville," high in the mountains of a far-off land. It was a happy place, most of the time. But on a few occasions there was a bit of sadness here and there — which made Happyville more or less like villages and towns anywhere in the world.

Happyville was famous in a particular part of the world because of the Happyville Christmas tree. Each Christmas Eve, high on the very top of the mountain, the tree was visible for miles and miles, a perfectly-coned shaped arrangement of lights, blinking on and off like a beacon in the sky.

There are some who say that Happyville never existed. Men have searched the mountain in recent decades and found no evidence to prove anything one way or the other.

The simple truth of the matter is that Happyville still exists. And, were you to climb that mountain this Christmas time, with faith enough in your heart, you might just see that Christmas tree blinking high against the sky. But to see, you must believe the legend of Happyville.

Many years ago, so the story goes, Happyville was a home for little people. These little people were friendly with the birds and the animals and at peace with all the creatures of the world. The little people even talked with the animals, which shows how wonderful things were in the village at the top of the Mountain of Faith.

The first Christmas tree appeared at the top of the mountain long, long ago, right after the visit of the jolly old man in the red suit. He was a sky-traveler, and he came to ask the little people for a very small favor.

Once each year, he told the little people, he planned to fly over their mountain and he would be ever so grateful if they would build a fire or light some candles to help guide him on his journey to the south. It seemed a simple enough request, so the little people readily agreed.

But, there was a problem. When the day approached for the fire to be built, the little people remembered they had no matches. And, they knew nothing of fire-building, anyway. Something had to be done.

Data On Juvenile Court Lists Two Commitments

The monthly report on juvenile court data for the state has been released this week by the Department of Juvenile Services.

Garrett County was listed as A village conference was held. Everyone attended, even the birds and the animals. After many hours of conference, a plan was made. It was a simple plan, but whether or not there was time to put it into operation was another matter.

In any event, when the meeting ended, the hawks, the eagles, the robins and wrens, every winged creature flew down the mountain north, south, east and west, searching and searching.

On that first trip the jolly old man, whom we now know as Santa Claus, passed high above the Mountain of Faith and marveled at the beauty of a Christmas tree — blinking on and off with the golden light of a million fireflies.

So, now you know the legend of the Happyville Christmas tree and why you never see fireflies about during the wintry season.

The Mountain of Faith still exists. We can't tell you exactly where it is; but you can find it if you try, and if you really believe. You may find its reflection in the lights of your family tree, or in the flickering flame of a church candle. Look closely and you may see.

The little people are all around you. You may not recognize them, but you can hear them if you close your eyes and open up your heart and mind to the magic of Christmas!

There's a Happyville near you; all you need do is find it.

having one child committed to Montrose School for Girls, and one to a forestry camp. There was one discharge from the Maryland Training School for Boys.

On the last day of November, Garrett county had one child receiving care in Montrose School for Girls, one in a forestry camp and two in detention centers.

The cumulative total of juvenile court cases for the county since July 1 of this year was 12. There have been 11 delinquency cases since the first of July, two of which were during November. One male was placed on probation and one female committed to training school.

Garrett county had eight informal juvenile cases handled during the past month.

County Continues To Log In Bond Sales

All series E and H bonds will now yield 5 percent if held to maturity, the result of legislation signed into law by President Richard Nixon.

The new higher rate on the bonds and the shorter maturity should be a big plus in all payroll savings campaigns, it was noted.

The Maryland report of sales from January to November showed no change in Garrett County's standing in relation to other counties.

The county stood twenty-first among the twenty-three counties and Baltimore city. The county had a quota for 1969 totaling $304,000. Total sales January through November amounted to $213,319, compared to $307,705 for the same period in 1968. This was 70.2 percent of its quota. The November sales amounted to $13,880.

In first place was Montgomery county with 166.4 percent of its quota of $7,080,000. Allegany county stood 20th with 71 percent of its quota raised.

THE CHRISTIAN CANDLE

The Christian candle, symbolic of Christ, "The Light Of The World", originated from sacred Roman and Hebrew Customs. Tapers of tallow from animal fats later were candles made of beeswax, as it became more plentiful. In many nations these were held erect by metal holders clamped onto the branches of the Christmas tree. Sanctified they were believed to radiate love and friendship, to dispel hatred and discord, just as our electrified counterparts today.

December 25—December 31

Tomorrow the Moon will be its farthest distance from Earth for the month. This apogee occurs 232,300 miles distant at noon. The Moon is waning as the week passes until at 6:11 p.m. on Wednesday it passes through its last quarter phase. Moonrise is between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. this week.

Four planets can be seen by the interested observer. Mercury is once again visible just after sunset. It will be very low in the southwest. Mars continues to be visible in the southern sky at sunset, while Saturn is high in the east at the same time. Jupiter comes over the eastern horizon several hours after midnight.

Daylight will last nine hours and twenty-two minutes today. It came at 7:37 a.m. with the sun and will leave with the sun at 4:59 p.m. Next Wednesday, the last day of the year, will provide us with nine hours and twenty-four minutes of daylight. Sunrise will occur at 7:39 a.m., while sunset will be at 5:03 p.m.

High in the western sky can be found a large square about fifteen degrees on a side. This is the Great Square of Pegasus, formed when a drop of Medusa's blood was mixed with the sea foam when Perseus killed the Pegasus is a winged horse' evil monster.

Greetings

From all of us to every one of you, may we offer a sleighful of the best holiday greetings and a sincere thank you for all your kindness.

In Quest Of Peace

Three wise and good men followed a star one night in search of truth, in search of peace. Their quest led them to a town called Bethlehem where lay an infant Babe, Then and there, new hope for mankind was born.

Two centuries later, we are still on a desperate quest for peace. But as yet our path is not as easy as those who followed the light of a star, nor is it likely that we will find our answer in historic Bethlehem. But the message of that place is still as clear, still as strong, if only we will heed the words.

Seek Him, and you shall find Him... in quiet contemplation, in prayer, in church He waits to welcome you.

Go to church this Sunday. Pray not only for your own needs, but for all the world! Pray for peace! Goodwill to all men!

WHOSE CUP OF TEA?

Lesson for December 28, 1969

Background Scripture: Malachi 3:1-4; Matthew 21:1-17.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 95:1-7.

The Pulpit Committee of First Church was looking for a new pastor. Not just any minister would do. After all, First Church was the largest and most influential church in the area. It had a fine tradition that boasted of eminent pulpits, orators, and crowds were drawn to First Church on the reputations of its preachers.

That is what had interested them in John B. Someone had told Ben Adams, the Pulpit Committee Chairman, that they had heard a certain young preacher was "packing them in" in one of the nearby rural communities. Ordinarily, the Committee would not have been interested in a country preacher. But the crowds he was reported to be drawing might very well be an indication that this John B. was ready for the "big time" (meaning First Church).

The way he dressed. So the Committee made some discrete inquiries and on Sunday morning drove to the place where John B. was reported to be preaching. When they arrived there, the members of the Committee were astonished to find, not a country church, but an old picnic ground. Obviously this man was not from one of the recognized denominations. Either that or this outdoor preaching was simply a cheap stunt.

The place was crowded and it was not easy to work their way forward to the old bandstand on which the minister was standing. As they drew closer, Ben Adams gave a derisive snort: "Will you look at the way he's dressed! We could never have a man like that in our pulpit." The "like that" referred to the preacher's wiry black beard, his long, uncombed hair, and a strange robe that was apparently made from animal skins.

Having seen this was enough for Ben Adams and his committee. They would have left right then, if it hadn't been difficult to push back through the crowd. Since they had little choice, they decided to stay and endure it to the end. After all, the man was rather humorous-looking. The experience would be good for some laughs at least. Some of them began to smirk.

Indelicate language

As they listened to him, however, their smirks froze on their faces. His message was downright insulting. "Repent," he challenged them, "for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Didn't he realize that the crowd was mostly made up of good church people? Why should respectable people like that be told to repent? Who was he to sit in judgment of them? Apparently he was another one of these professional trouble-makers!

Suddenly, looking directly at the men of the Pulpit Committee, John shouted, "You bunch of snakes! Who warned you to try to escape God's wrath? Conduct yourself as repentant men and don't rely on your church membership to get you through. I'm warning you that God's judgment is going to hit you hard." Just as suddenly he turned away and stepped down into the water to baptize some people who were waiting for him. Ben Adams and the men of First Church were too embarrassed and angry to utter a word.

"Some kind of a nut!"

As soon as it was possible, the red-faced men beat a hasty retreat. They wanted nothing further to do with this preacher. They were appalled by his appearance — "Looked like a Communist," confided one of them. They liked his words even less. "Repent!" That was no message for the people of First Church. Worst of all, however, was his personal attack upon them! How dared he? He was obviously "some kind of a nut," they decided, a crazy man making crazy promises and charges, a religious fanatic. John the Baptist was just not their "cup of tea."

But then, neither was Jesus! (Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Released by Community Press Service.)

CAREFUL SHOPPING

Don't be in such a hurry to do your shopping. You may be able to save money and disappointment by taking more time.

Shop only at reliable stores. Don't be blinded by bargains — they're not always good buys. Shop and compare prices, even if you're ordering from catalogs. Prices are extremely different for the same item.

Christmas RETURN

Sam Darby settled back and looked at the small earth below. The drone of the plane's powerful engines seemed mixed with the voice of the prison chaplain. He thought by now he would have forgotten the words. But, they persisted. They ran through his mind again and again.

"It's over, Sam, so leave it where it is. You have many good and useful years left to you. Use them. Don't throw them away for some hollow vengeance. Go home, if you must, but go with the spirit of Christmas, with forgiveness in your heart."

Sam closed his eyes and the memory of that last day in court became alive again. The face of Zeb Hinton, with that odd little half smile, turned first to the judge, then to the jury, with staccato words rolling endlessly from his lips. "It was him, plain as day. It was him. It was Sam Darby. I'd have known him anywhere. It was him. The scar. I saw the scar, mask or no mask. Mask or no mask, it was Sam Darby. It was him it was."

"Humbly," Sam realized that he had said it aloud and that nearby passengers were looking at him curiously. He closed his eyes once more. And the face of the chaplain reappeared.

"Old man Hinton died last week, Sam. Had been sick for a long time. He heard you were coming home and he sent this letter. Will you read it?"

"I'll be da..." Again, Sam realized he was talking aloud. He cleared his throat and looked out the window. The plane was dropping now, preparing to land and suddenly snow pelted against the window. It reminded him of the shredded letter he had thrown against the wall of the prison room.

Sam tried to smile, but couldn't. "Once was enough." Hawkins took the photograph. "Will you come to the party, Sam? It's a sticky situation, but it's Christmas. I want you to know the Christmas spirit around here needs a little help from you. Will you try?"

Once again, the words of the chaplain rang in Sam's ears. "Go with the spirit of Christmas, with forgiveness in your heart."

Sam wasn't sure exactly what was in his heart. But he was suddenly aware that somewhere nearby carolers were giving forth with "Silent Night."

He reached out his hand. "See you later, Bo." And he turned and walked toward the sound of music.

"Sorry, sir, End of the line." He looked up at the pretty stewardess, smiled weakly, then picked up his small bag and walked out into the night.

They were all there, every one of them, except Zeb. They were somber, waiting. Sam started to walk by, then stopped, eyeing them carefully, one by one.

Bill Webb came forward. Bill, the jury foreman. He was older now, almost bald, with worry lines about his forehead and eyes. "Sam," he began hesitatingly. "I... I don't know how to say it. There is no right way, except that we're all sorry. We can't make it up to you, but we'll try. Please come to the Christmas party tonight at city hall so we can all try."

And, then they were all gone, except Bo Hawkins.

"Hello, Sam." He said it casually.

"Sheriff."

Hawkins held out his hand. "I want you to look at this picture, Sam."

Sam took it, studied it thoughtfully. "You and me, at the courthouse. But I don't remember when it was taken and I never saw it before."

Hawkins smiled. "It isn't you, Sam. It's Dickens — the man who robbed Hinton's and killed Zack. You're identical, even the scar on the forehead. His scar is just a little longer than yours. Never happen again in a million years."

Sam tried to smile, but couldn't. "Once was enough." Hawkins took the photograph. "Will you come to the party, Sam? It's a sticky situation, but it's Christmas. I want you to know the Christmas spirit around here needs a little help from you. Will you try?"

level was realized November 7 for Carl Feather, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Feather, Kingsville, Ohio, and a grandson of Mrs. Russell Feather, of Eglin.

The invitation from the Cooperative Science Center at Baldwin Wallace college for Carl to participate in one of its programs came as a result of his having been a winner at the State Science fair in Columbus last April.

A student of Edgewood High school, he went to the college with some 25 other students from 13 Ohio districts. Directions for conducting the experiment were given out and the students carried out the procedures in the laboratory. The program ordered that "each participant will remove the important genetic chemicals from living organisms." Proof that he was successful was evident by the small amount of white opaque substance in a little bottle, the substance which Carl extracted in the experiment and brought home with him.

In an independent study over a period of nine months, Carl did original research on fungi. In the process of experimentation he extracted penicillin and studied the effects of Vitamin B-1 on certain classes of fungi.

Carl recorded his findings with an annotated research paper, with charts, cultures, pictures and specimens. His Fungi project won first place in the Junior high classification of the Ash-tabula Kent State university branch in February. Moving on to the Ohio Academy of Science at Kent State March 29 the exhibit was judged superior in high school competition.

This distinction earned Carl the opportunity to compete with high school students at the State Science fair in Columbus April 12. It was necessary to make new cultures for each science exhibit and at the state level to explain his project to judges.

The judges at Columbus gave the project an excellent rating, placing Carl among the top winners in the state. Because of this award the Cooperative Science Center at Baldwin Wallace college invited him to participate in the Special Science program there November 7. Carl has his own basement science Lab.

Valley Hi Matmen Shade Northern Hi

Northern and Valley High schools each won six matches last Thursday night in a contest at Northern High school but the Black Knights had one more pin and enough to give them a 26 to 24 victory over the Huskies in a wrestling match.

The Huskies fastened pins in the first three matches but Valley came back to win the next six, four on pins and two by decisions. Northern closed the contest by copping the final trio of matches, all on decisions. The Huskies needed at least one pin in the last three to secure a pin and two to pick up a victory.

John Buckholtz won the first match for Valley when he pinned Greg Kidd in the 123-pound match. Charles Symons followed in the 130-pounder with a 4-0 decision over Randall Wiley. In the 137-pound class Joe Beeman of Valley pinned Dave Warnick in the second period. Dwight DeShong came through for Valley with a 7-1 decision over Dave Opel in the 145-pounder; and Steve Beeman followed with a pin on Tom Lutz in the 155-pound class. Valley's Sam Morgan iced the victory by pinning Roger Stanton in the 165-pound battle.

Registering wins for Northern were Fred O'Leary in the 98-pound class over Keith Wilt; Steve O'Leary over Dennis Cutter in the 107-pound class; Willie Bittinger over Tom McCutcheon in the 115-pounder, all on pins. The Huskies picked up three decisions when Terry Knepp outpointed Dwayne Stevens, 15-2 in the 175-pound battle; Grant Sutherland stopped Richard Symons 4-2 in the 185-pound meeting; and Tim Galica dominated Joe Neat, 13 to 6, in the unlimited category.

Two hundred were evacuated from Dugway Proving Ground Utah, due to leaking nerve gas tank.

Christmas Breads Are Traditional

Christmas isn't Christmas without coffee cakes and sweet breads. If you are a little shy on baking skill or time, use a variety of wonderful mixes that can be found in your super-market as the base for your gift from the oven. Just a few ingenious touches can turn them into creations anyone would be proud to present for the holidays.

Try this suggestion for making a festive pecan date ring: Start with a package of date-nut bread. Melt a half cup of butter in a saucepan and stir in a half cup of firmly packed brown sugar. Add to this one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Now sprinkle one half cup of silvered almonds or pecans into a greased seven cup ring mold. Pour brown sugar syrup over the nuts.

Now make up a package of date bread mix according to directions. Spoon this over the pecan mixtures and bake in a moderate oven at 350 degrees for about forty minutes. This delicious nut ring can be served hot or cold. Try wrapping it in your prettiest wrapping paper or place it in a round tin. It will make a welcome gift to a friend or neighbor.

YARN FOR DECORATING

A little imagination can turn ordinary materials into works of art. Take knitting yarn, styrofoam shapes and a few bits and pieces of decorative braid and turn them into dazzling trimmings. You then have unbreakable ornaments for the tree and also an ideal project for the whole family to enjoy.

You can wrap the yarn around styrofoam cones, circles, diamonds or half-circles. For further decorations add tassels, pom-poms, braid or whatever you wish.

Liberty St. Oakland, Md. Dial 334-2101

J. Glenn Beall, Jr. Reports from Washington

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

The Congress has spent a hectic final week trying to conclude its legislative business prior to Christmas Day. While conferees from both Houses labored over the Tax Reform Act of 1969, the House of Representatives completed action on mine safety bill and perhaps most importantly of all, increased social security benefits by 15 percent effective January 1.

No particular group of people has been more seriously affected by the rising cost of living than have those who live on fixed incomes and therefore, most of us were very happy when, by a unanimous vote, the House of Representatives provided this increase in social security benefits. Although the increase is effective January 1, because the checks are prepared by computers, payment will not be received until March or April. At that time, the recipients will get a check giving them a lump sum payment of the additional benefits due them for the preceding months. This increase, incidentally, is provided without any corresponding increase in social security taxes to be paid by either employee or employer. There is enough money in the trust fund to pay for this increase in benefits.

It is expected that some 25 million Americans will benefit from this increase in the Social Security benefits. For example, a person now receiving $115 a month will receive $132 a month under the new benefits. A married couple receiving $210 now will receive $242 a month the minimum benefits for a single individual will be increased from $55 to $64 a month.

Uppermost in the minds of all of us in the Congress, as the Christmas season nears, is that Christmas is the time when we pray for peace in the world. While we can certainly be encouraged that American men are being withdrawn from Vietnam,

Ram Wrestlers Defeat Allegany

Southern High School's wrestlers put together six pins with a pair of draws to post its second straight victory by the score of 34 to 18 over Allegany High school last Thursday night at Alto.

Coach Asa McCain's grapplers lost four matches, with only one coming on a pin—in the unlimited class. In that bout Allegany's Chuck Schoenadel pinned Ed Rice to the mat in a near record time of 12 seconds in the first period.

Picking up victories for Southern were Gary White over Mike Hare in the 98-pound class; Scott Rush over Steve Ginniman in the 107-pounder; Brad Reams over Tim Amman in the 123-pound class; Paul Miller over Tom Gardner in the 145-pound battle; Ralph Fitzwater over Ted Hanson in the 165-pound class, and Allen Merlin over Rick Sluss in the 177-pound bout.

Steve Kirk opened Allegany's scoring by decisioning Tom Hayhurst 3-0 in the 115-pound class. Also winning by points for Allegany were Edwin Yockey, 3-0 over Jim Deems in the 137-pound class; John Liller, 3-0 over 185-pounder Gary Friend.

Rich Blough battled George

Tusing to a draw in the 130-pound bout and Charley Larkin and Carroll Deems fought to a draw in the 154-pound contest.

Southern will meet Allegany in a return match in Oakland on January 8.

ADD "HAPPY NEW YEARS" TO YOUR LIFE

There is really a double meaning in the old phrase—"Happy New Year." For a new year can only be happy if you are able to have good health. All other good fortune is meaningless if illness prevents you from enjoying it.

Happily, you can do something about keeping up your health. It is the simplest and easiest way to keep any resolution you can possibly make. Resolve this year to consult your physician regularly. We resolve to help by always having in stock the medicines he will prescribe.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

HOW TO KEEP YOUR Christmas Poinsettia

Let's get those Christmas plants off to a good start. It's much easier to keep them in good health than it is to nurse them back after they begin ailing.

Take the poinsettia — with red, pink, or white bracts. It is very sensitive to changes in temperature, so keep it out of drafts. Use water at room temperature. Bracts will last longer if the plant is kept at lower temperature, particularly at night. If it is near a window, move it back at night so it won't get a chill. Give it bright light but no sun. Gradually withhold water after the plant is through blooming. Store in a cool basement until April or May, watering it once a week.

When the weather warms up, cut back stems to about 6 inches and sink the pot in a protected spot in the garden; prune it back in July or August — or a couple of times during that period. Before the weather turns cold, bring the plant to a South window; water and feed regularly; give it total darkness about twelve hours a night during October and November. Bracts should show color by Thanksgiving and you can discontinue the artificial darkness. The prized part of the poinsettia is the colored bracts or leaves, and not the true flower, which often falls soon after the plant is purchased. If the small flower parts do fall, the showy bracts still remain attractive.

Thirty-four teachers and local citizens participated with three of them, Robert Ruckert, Mrs. Jane Fox and Wesley Lovelace at every session. Twenty teachers were expected to receive additional credit from the state toward their certification as a result of the completion of the course.

Local citizens attending over half the classes included Mrs. Ruth Martin, Miss Edith Brock, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Shirer, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Venters.

It was felt by the class that future such courses would be of interest to many adults in the community. A. B. Dean, supervisor of adult education, said when there was sufficient demand by the public, this course can be offered as an adult education course, tuition free.

Church Women Meet

The LCW of Zion Lutheran Church met in the home of Mrs. Susie Yommer.

Mrs. Joe Resh, as leader, presented the topic, "Signs of Christmas." The principal aims of this program were to help Lutheran Church Women to review the meaning of the incarnation and the life of Christ through a study of various Christmas symbols called Chrismsons, and to share a new experience of Christmas worship through the use of Christmas folk-tunes and special readings relating to the signs of Christmas which are seen in the Chrismsons.

Jack Townsend scored 22 points to power Union High of Bayard to a 53-36 triumph over Northern High Huskies last Friday night at Accident.

The victory boosted Union's mark to 3-3 while the Huskies are now 1-3.

Union jumped off to a five point lead, 14-9 at the end of the first period, but Northern charged back to narrow the gap to 25-23 at intermission. In the third stanza Union scored 12 points while holding the Huskies to half that amount to pull out of reach.

Townsend hit 11 field goals for his 22 markers and Marshall Neel added ten points for Union. Kuhn had 6, Turner 8, Martin 2 and L. Cosner 5 for the winners.

Greg Hinebaugh made 12 for the Huskies while George Seggie hit for ten for Northern. Myers had 3, Bach 4, Beachy 5 and King 2 to complete the scoring.

Stand Fast In Liberty

The approach of Christmas brings to mind a certain grave in a cemetery in Highgate, London, England. It is marked by a rectangular marble block slightly higher than a man's head. Atop the marble pedestal there is a sculptured likeness of the shaggy father of international Communism, Karl Marx.

Marx was born in Germany, but he moved to England in 1848, when he was 31, and died there in 1883. For years, writers have wondered in print why the Communists have never requested permission to move the remains of their idol to Moscow for entombment in Red Square. And every curious sightseer has wondered at the shabbiness of the grave itself; it is completely overgrown with weeds and this-ties. It has been neglected for years and looks as unkempt as did Marx in his lifetime.

Why should this untended grave come to mind at Christmas? Simply because of the contrast. On December 25, the whole Western World will stop whatever it is doing to pay honor to Him for whom the day is named. There will be prayers and hymns of praise in every language man has devised to communicate His thoughts. There is scarcely a town, a township, a village which has not built a meeting place where men of good will may gather to study His teachings—and each of those churches will hold services celebrating Christmas.

Thousands upon thousands of pilgrims will travel to the Holy Land on Christmas Day to trace

"We'll not have an imitation or make-believe tree this year. This year we are going to the woods and get a real old-fashioned tree."

Sara Laurence, busy putting a pie into the oven, gave no evidence she had heard her husband's declaration.

Sam was insistent. "What do you think of that, Sal, ole gal?"

Sara wiped her hands on her apron. "And just where do you plan to get this tree? Of the state park premises? Do you know any landowners around here? Somebody giving away free trees, for the taking?"

Sam laughed. "I'm just talking about one little old Christmas tree. There are woods all over the place a few miles out of town. Who'll scream if someone cuts one little old tree? I didn't know what a store-bought tree was when I was a youngster."

"Times have changed," Sara reminded. "Except for the state park, land is privately owned. What would the owners think and do if everybody in town came out just to get one little old tree?"

We were well into the country when dad pulled the car off the road and leaned out the window to inspect a nearby hillside. "Aha, I see two or three good trees. Let's go, gang."

Mother hesitated. "Sam, I don't think . . ."

"O.K., worrisome. You stay and watch the car," Dad started up the hillside. Billy and myself not far behind.

Dad looked over a couple of trees. "One's too small. One's a little flat on one side. There's the one we want."

He stopped before the tree, looked it over, and walked carefully around it.

His steps. And men everywhere will be reminded that He showed them that their salvation lay in service to their God, and not in servitude to their State. They will be admonished, too, that the Apostle Paul foresaw the eternal assault on free men. His words to the Galatians stand as the lesson of Christmas for this and every future year of our Lord: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not

His axe was poised when the gruff voice said, "Hold it, there, Mister."

We didn't know if he had been there all the time or had just come over the brow of the hill. But there he was. A big man, with a big shotgun cradled in his arms.

Dad was almost speechless. "I . . . I . . . The kids wanted a real Christmas tree. I didn't know . . . I mean . . ."

The man pointed over the hill with the shotgun. "Walk up that way."

Dad hesitated. "Maybe we had better go. Mother's waiting in the car. She might worry, and . . ."

The man pointed again. "Walk."

We walked. Over the top of the hill and down a lane leading toward a neat frame house nestled among the trees.

Halfway there, the man stopped. He pointed the gun toward a nearby tree, perfectly shaped, prettier than any we had seen on the hillside. "Take that one," he said gruffly.

Dad looked puzzled. "Well, really now, I think . . ."

"Take the tree," the man insisted. Dad began cutting the tree and the man continued.

"Next year, ask someone about cutting a tree. A man likes to keep his hillside trees. They prevent erosion." He patted me and Billy on the head as he went by. "Merry Christmas, boys."

Dad didn't waste any time cutting down that tree and we went back down that hill pretty fast.

Mother didn't say anything until we had loaded the tree and were headed homeward. "I see you got away with it," she said, matter-of-factly.

Dad cleared his throat. "Sure, but I got to thinking that, in a way, you're right. Next year we'll ask permission if we plan to get a real outdoor tree. It occurred to me that a farmer might be partial to a particular tree, specially a hillside tree. You know, conservation and erosion, and that sort of stuff. Right, boys?"

"Right," we both responded. And, it being Christmas and all, we felt there just wasn't any reason to say anything else.

And while all men free of bondage stand silent on Christmas as they have been doing on this day for 1939 years, cold winds will blow through the thistles at that forlorn, untended grave in London. What an appropriate and joyous contrast!—U.S. Press Association, Inc.

Bus Fire Delays Young Skiers At Flintstone

Forty-five Rockville area students were temporarily stranded in Flintstone Saturday night, after the bus in which they were riding caught fire on Martin's Mountain.

The students, members of the Cabin John Junior High Ski Club of Rockville, were enroute home from the Wise ski resort at Deep Creek Lake when their bus caught fire in the rear wheel section.

Six members of the Flintstone Volunteer fire company answered the call with two pieces of equipment. After extinguishing the blaze, the firemen took the youngsters and their two advisers to the fire hall, while they waited until another bus arrived from Washington.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

Southern States Industrial Council

A Phony Santa Claus

In approving higher personal income tax exemptions and in voting to nearly double minimum Social Security benefits, the U. S. Senate sought to present itself as Santa Claus to the taxpayers of the nation. However, it was a poor impersonation of Santa.

Perhaps some citizens thought they were getting genuine Christmas cheer when a majority of the Senate voted to increase the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $800 and to boost the minimum Social Security payment from $55 to $100. Everyone likes a handsome present, but they don't especially enjoy a Christmas package they have to pay for themselves. And that's the situation the taxpayers will find themselves in if the increases are approved by a House-Senate conference committee.

Some time ago President Nixon recommended a 10 percent hike in Social Security payments which would take note of the impact of inflation on Social Security beneficiaries. But the virtual doubling of payments is a far cry from the 10 percent favored by the nation's Chief Executive.

No doubt Mr. Nixon would like to be generous at Christmas time. It would be good politics to favor the big handouts voted by the Senate. Fortunately, Mr. Nixon knows that the man in the White House isn't supposed to play Santa Claus with the American people. Like the head of a household, he has to worry about how the bills will be paid after the holiday.

The personal income tax exemption hike was the project of Senator Albert Gore (D-Tenn) who is up for reelection next year. Apparently he has special reason to masquerade as Santa Claus. Senator Gore, however, isn't being generous with his own money. Instead, he is imposing a new burden on the taxpayers. Mr. Nixon has pointed out that the kind of increase favored by Senator Gore would result in a revenue shortfall.

The government can't afford a so-called shortfall. It has to pay its bills. And if tax revenues aren't adequate in the year ahead, taxes will have to be raised later on—after Senator Gore's election contest, which is convenient for the Senator from Tennessee.

The Social Security increase raises the same issue. If enacted into law, the proposal would cost an estimated $6.2 billion. America's working people already are feeling the oppressive effects of Social Security payments. More and more money is being taken out of weekly paychecks in order to provide Social Security recipients with regular payments. Nowadays a working man may get a raise in pay—only to discover that higher Social Security costs leave him with less than he was earning before he received a raise. The latest $6.2 billion proposal would extend that unhappy experience to many, many more working people.

Senator John J. Williams (R-Del) has said that the spender majority in the Senate has turned the tax bill into "a Christmas tree." The spenders may be disappointed, however, as the tax-paying public is increasingly sophisticated. Fewer and fewer people these days believe the old liberal propaganda that the federal government dispenses "free" benefits.

Nowadays, the majority of people subscribe to a more realistic view of economics. They know that every handout from government has to be paid for by the taxpayers. In state after state there are taxpayer rebellions. Taxpayer associations are cropping up in many cities and counties as concerned citizens determine something must be done to bar additional tax burdens imposed on them by giveaway-minded politicians. Thus the Albert Gores in politics may find that the giveaway promises of yesteryear don't fool a new generation of working Americans.

The "silent majority" in the United States isn't concerned exclusively with foreign affairs. The "silent Americans," or one might call them the "fed up" Americans, also are aroused about the waste of the taxpayers' money and about the nonsensical liberal thinking that equates handouts with prosperity.

Millions of working people receive—along with their paychecks—itemized statements which show how much of their earnings go for state and federal income tax and for Social Security. The promises of politicians aren't persuasive when one can

Proposes Lowering Some of Its Rates

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company announced it had lowered some proposals at a rate hearing.

An audience of nearly 200 jammed the Public Service Commission hearing room to protest a schedule of new rates filed Dec. 1 by the telephone company.

The commission previously had decided it would allow the company to earn $22.7 million more a year in Maryland and hearings are being held on how it proposes to do so.

C. C. Haley, Jr., marketing manager, informed the commission it has altered its original new rate schedule largely because of objections from those affected. He said some of its proposed charges would be reduced by half.

Look at the list of deductions and see how bigger federal programs and various government giveaways result in a reduction in take-home pay.

Everyone would like a tax cut, and many people would welcome higher Social Security payments. But they don't want these things if the price means higher taxes in future and a severe cutback in the weekly paycheck. Senator Gore and others who voted for the latest giveaways are likely to discover that people today are fiscally well informed and will welcome a presidential veto of a tax bill that doesn't make sense.

Look For Safety

When buying toys, look for safety and quality. These are the two biggest things, not just the price. Make sure toys are flameproof, free of sharp edges and sturdy. Don't be one to waste money on junk toys.

Wise family Santas can make Christmas a happy one for youngsters by providing durable, bright, and creative toys.
